Ike Seen Waging Radio-TV Campaign If He Enters Race

Hall Expects No Decision Until Late February

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Republican leaders today considered the possibility that President Eisenhower may campaign mainly by television and radio—if he decides to seek a second term.

Leonard W. Hall, the GOP national chairman, mentioned that possibility after he told newsmen that the President's decision may be delayed until late February or early March.

Hall held a news conference while members of the Republican National Committee laid the groundwork for a 1956 election drive pegged to a "peace and prosperity" theme.

The chairman, who Monday had his first meeting with Eisenhower since the President's Sept. 24 heart attack, reiterated his belief that Eisenhower will run "if he feels he is able."

Ike "Never Looked Fitter"

Hall said he and the President talked about many phases of the political situation and added that he came away from the Gettysburg, Pa., meeting with the thought that Eisenhower has a "continuing interest" in the subject.

Hall, in the first speech-making event of the two-day rally, told Republicans tonight that Eisenhower "has never looked fitter." The chairman added that he himself now "is more hopeful than ever" that the President "will lead us in the campaign."

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, stated: "We can now rejoice in the fullness of his recovery."

Nixon Sees GOP Victory

Vice President Nixon telegraphed a prediction that the people will vote "overwhelmingly" next November to continue the present national "leadership."

Hall told newsmen he had received no word of "disapproval" from the White House following his expression that Eisenhower would run if he feels able.

Asked about the timing of the decision, he said it may be any time after a physical examination late in January. It may not come, he added, before late February or early March.

Air Base Crash Leaves 14 Dead

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Nov. 30 (AP)—A death toll of 14 was listed today in the worst disaster ever to strike an Alaska air base.

They were killed and eight others were injured yesterday when a sharply veering jet fighter plane crashed into military housing units at Eielson Air Force Base, 26 miles southeast of this interior Alaska city. Fire spread to six multiple-family houses.

In announcing 14 as the known death toll, Maj. John Orr, the Eielson information officer, said he was almost certain there were no others.

However, cranes continued to pull at the wreckage of a demolished eight-family building in the search for any other victims and for clues to the tragedy.

Six children were among the 12 dead whose names were released today. Three of them were 11-month-old triplets of an Air Force sergeant. The other three also were of a single military family.

One of the 14 died early today of injuries received in the tragedy.

West To Protest Soviet Transfer Of Berlin Power

BERLIN, Nov. 30 (AP) — The Big Three Western powers were reported today to be preparing a sharp protest against Russia's transfer of her occupation powers in East Berlin to the East German Communist government.

American, British and French officials are fearful the Russians' change of rules on divided Berlin might lead to blockade conditions for the Western sectors of the isolated city.

In Bonn the Western ambassadors held an emergency meeting, drafting a full report for submission to their home governments. Informed sources said the report will form the basis of the Western protest.

London informants said the West likely will accuse the Soviets of violating previous Big Four agreements which defined the status of Berlin as a zone of American, British, French and Russian occupation. The informants added the West will refuse to have any dealings with the East German regime — which they do not recognize — on matters affecting the affairs of the old German capital.

The latest clash with the Russians developed from an incident involving the four-hour detention Sunday of two American congressmen. Reps. Edward P. Boland (D-Mass) and Harold C. Ostertag (R-NY), along with Mrs. Ostertag and a military escort, were detained by East German police because their U. S. Army staff car was equipped with radio telephone. The Communists said this was in violation of East German laws.

Maj. Gen. Charles L. Dasher Jr., U.S. commandant, protested yesterday to Soviet Maj. Gen. P. A. Dibrova. The Russian rejected the protest.

Eisenhower Gives Churchill Surprise Gift On Birthday

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill quietly marked his 81st birthday today. A surprise gift came from President Eisenhower—a gold medallion carrying a portrait of Churchill taken from a painting by Eisenhower.

U.S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich presented the medallion, reading to Churchill a letter in which Eisenhower spoke of "the incalculable debt owed to you by all mankind for your unfaltering defense of peace with justice and freedom of man."

Sir Winston stayed at his Hyde Park mansion all day. He stepped to the door for a few moments with Lady Churchill. A group of Londoners who braved the city's worst fog of the year called out "happy birthday" as he gave his "V" sign.

GASTONIA, N.C., Nov. 30 (AP)—President Eisenhower will have to make his own decision about seeking a second term, Dr. Paul Dudley White declared today.

The Boston heart specialist who has attended the President during his recent illness said Eisenhower's political future is something that he alone must decide.

"If he runs, I'll vote for him," White said in an interview.

Argentina Bans Peronista Party, Returns Paper

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 30 (AP)—Argentina's provisional government today wiped out two legacies of the Juan D. Peron dictatorship—the party he created to maintain absolute power and the expropriation of the newspaper La Prensa.

President Pedro Aramburu, in office only 18 days, issued two decrees, one ordering the Peronista party dissolved and the other restoring La Prensa to its owners, the Paz family, from whom it was taken almost five years ago.

The Peronista party was organized at a mass meeting in July, 1949. Peron then had been president three years, supported by the Labor party and a leftwing splinter group of the Radical party. The new party was dedicated to him as its sole leader.

Its exact membership never was known, but was estimated at 250,000 to 300,000, or about 2 per cent of Argentina's population. As Peron's power increased membership became a privilege for average citizens and brought any who joined special advantages.

It became a smoothly operating political machine which smothered all political opposition. When Peron fell in the military revolt last September, Peronistas held all the Senate seats, all but 12 of the 155 seats in the Chamber of Deputies, sat on the benches of nearly all the nation's courts and held most of the provincial and local government posts.

La Prensa's expropriation by the Peron government in 1951 was another step in his relentless suppression of all opponents. Under the editor and director, Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, La Prensa was the largest Spanish language newspaper in the world, widely recognized abroad for its independence.

Frigid Wave's Grip Remains Unbroken

[By The Associated Press]

Snow storms that paralyzed areas in Michigan and New York dwindled to flurries Wednesday but arctic air still covered much of the eastern two-thirds of the country.

Jamestown N. D., was the nation's icebox with an overnight low of -21 degrees. The mercury still was -3 at Grand Forks, N. D., at noon.

Early afternoon readings were 30 degrees or less from New England westward through the Ohio Valley, the Middle Mississippi Valley, the Central Plains and northwestward to Montana.

Parley Records Tell How 'Geneva Spirit' Faded Out

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The story of how the "spirit of Geneva" faded out amid spates of angry words was told tonight as the State Department published records of the recent foreign ministers conference.

Secretary of State Dulles told Foreign Minister Molotov it was "almost infamous" for Russia to insinuate the Western Powers have no interest in world disarmament.

Molotov, in turn, accused the Western leaders of seeking to set up "centers of espionage" in Communist countries, in the guise of information centers.

The State Department made public 307 pages of records of the foreign ministers' meeting, held at Geneva Oct. 27 to Nov. 16. The meeting was a followup to the Geneva "summit" conference of President Eisenhower with other government heads, at which a spirit of greater friendliness seemingly was born between Russia and the West.

The foreign ministers conference ended in a deadlock. Four days before its conclusion, Dulles denounced Russia's disarmanent proposals as a "cruel deception which is sought to be perpetrated on the peoples of the world for propaganda purposes."

Dulles said Russia was trying to draw "a grotesque picture" which sought to show the Soviet Union as the only country wanting to disarm.

"I do not think that that type of propaganda is really effective," he said.

"I believe the world will judge, and rightly judge, that those who want to have effective disarmament will be those who want. . . effective inspection and control. . . which every reasonable person knows we all want."

Most Of States Will Not Meet School Needs

Report Says None Has Shown Money Cannot Be Raised

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The White House conference on education today accepted a report saying that few states seem ready to meet their school building needs for the five years ahead.

This is true, said a report drafted after discussions among the 1,800 participating delegates, even though no state has demonstrated it couldn't raise the money.

The report, on "What Are Our School Building Needs?" was drawn up by Earl H. Beling, a Moline, Ill., consulting engineer, and Elmer W. Rowley, head of Joliet Junior College in Illinois. It was received with applause and without objection by the delegates.

No Voting On Reports

Under the rules of the conference, there is no actual voting on reports. These findings are drafted by representatives of study groups composed of delegates.

The Beling-Rowley report said: "It appears that under present plans only two of three states have been quoted as stating that they can meet their building needs for the next five years. . . .

"Under the present plans and time limitations stipulated it seems to be virtually impossible for most of the states to meet school building needs.

Question Of Planning

"The general consensus was this: No state has demonstrated financial incapacity to build the schools it will need during the next five years.

"But, with the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

While the Beling-Rowley report said nothing specifically on the subject of federal aid, it got at the question indirectly, by stating: "Some territories and a few states may need outside financial assistance."

What states and territories were meant was not disclosed.

Demos To Hear Top Contenders

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 30 (AP)—Democratic presidential aspirations of 1956 will be spotlighted here the next three days as three major potential contenders speak at the national convention of the Young Democrats.

Adlai Stevenson, 1952 nominee for president and a candidate again this year, and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, both potential candidates, are all scheduled to appear before delegates. Kefauver will give the keynote address tomorrow and Harriman will speak at the closing banquet Saturday night.

Other name Democrats, including several who have been mentioned for presidential or vice presidential nominations, will attend the three-day convention.

Among the other speakers are Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, Democratic vice presidential nominee in 1952, and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, boomed as a possible presidential nominee next year.

A running battle of words involving Stevenson, Harriman and Williams has turned attention on the visit of the three. Stevenson touched it off two weeks ago with a plea for "moderation" next year.

Williams and Harriman immediately replied that "moderate" is not the word for the Democratic party.

Mountie Uses His Body To Save Man

WINDEMERE, B. C., Nov. 30 (AP)—A young Royal Canadian Mounted Police constable used his body to wedge back a weakening wall of gypsum and ice more than an hour yesterday to save the life of a trapped man.

Forty men finally freed Albert Portman, 50, while Constable H. D. Bowyer, 22, spread-eagled his body to stop the crumbling wall of brokenup gypsum from crushing the trapped man. Gypsum is a light, rock-like material.

Both men were hospitalized.

Portman fell into a hopper being filled with the crushed gypsum when a pile collapsed. Protrusion of his legs through the bottom of the hopper gave him enough air to keep him alive until he was dug out.

Assembly Will Be Dissolved

PARIS, Nov. 30 (AP)—The French Cabinet decided tonight to dissolve the National Assembly and hold new elections.

At this stage, Premier Edgar Faure appeared to have turned a seeming defeat into victory. He has been campaigning all along for early elections, but the devious approach to them was a surprise—even in French politics.

Yesterday the Assembly gave Faure a vote of no-confidence, usually the signal for the government's immediate resignation. But the size of the Assembly vote against him brought into play an obscure constitutional provision permitting the Cabinet to order dissolution.

No Election Date Set

The unprecedented decision was announced tonight following a 3½-hour Cabinet session at the Elysee Palace, the French White House. No date was given for the elections, but they must come between 20 and 30 days after the dissolution order is handed down.

Faure told newsmen later this constitutional time limit raises problems. If the order is handed down immediately the voting would come during the Christmas vacation—perhaps on Christmas Day.

There was some speculation that publication of the dissolution decree will be delayed so the voting can be held Jan. 8, the first Sunday after the holidays. The French traditionally hold their elections on Sunday.

The Premier said the final decision on the polling date would be taken within the next 48 hours.

Five Oppose Dissolution

Faure and most of his associates will remain on the job to handle the government's day-to-day affairs and oversee the elections. But five ministers opposed dissolution of the Assembly and said they would not associate themselves with the move. All five are members of Faure's Radical Socialist party.

Faure said the attitude of the five ministers presented a problem. Since the government itself is in a period of transition, he added, there is a question whether they could be permitted to resign.

The Cabinet decided on dissolution despite heavy pressure from many political leaders.

Red Arms Plan "Hypocritical," Lodge Declares

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. today accused the Soviet Union of advocating "paper disarmament." He said the Soviet proposals are "hypocritical" and the United States will not take part in them.

This was the answer of the chief U.S. delegate in the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee to a 10,000-word speech by V. V. Kuznetsov, first deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union, opening the long-awaited disarmament debate here.

Kuznetsov put forward the Soviet position on disarmament voiced by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at the Geneva foreign ministers conference and rejected by the West. The gist of this is for disarmament to take effect immediately without first setting up controls and inspection.

The Soviet delegate also called for the liquidation of U.S. bases on foreign soil. He said the Western approach to disamament "cannot produce positive results." The West wants inspections and controls to be operating before disarmament by stages takes effect.

Kuznetsov also rejected once more President Eisenhower's "open sky" inspection plan unless it is made part of a general disarmament program. Lodge and other American delegates have said the President's plan for a mutual exchange of aerial inspection with Russia is the gateway to disarmament.

The uncompromising stands taken by Lodge and Kuznetsov at the start of this discussion boded ill for later agreement and indicated the nine-year stalemate on disarmament in the U.N. will continue. The best the delegates hope for is a directive from the Assembly for the Disarmament subcommittee to continue meetings, perhaps in London next February.

All Have Role For S-D Day

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Tomorrow is S-D Day—the day you try harder than ever to stay alive and save other lives.

The safe driving day campaign is a mammoth effort to cut traffic deaths through extra caution. Each motorist and pedestrian plays a vital role.

The nation has come to the eve of S-D Day with a 1955 highway safety record that gives safety experts little to cheer about.

The National Safety Council reported today that nearly 31,000 persons were killed on America's highways the first 10 months this year—a 7 per cent increase over 1954.

The October traffic toll of 3,920 is 12 per cent ahead of the corresponding 1954 month and the largest for any one month since the record high total of December 1941.

"If anyone thinks S-D Day is just a lot of shouting about nothing, stop and think about these figures," said Ned H. Dearborn, safety council president.

Ike Given Fancy Tractor, Calls In Cows With Gadget

GETTYSBURG, Pa. Nov. 30 (AP)—A gay President Eisenhower celebrated the gift of a shiny new tractor today by calling his cows with a new-fangled electronic bellow and cheering them on as they came a-running.

"Look at the darned things go," he cried in glee. "Did you ever see anything like it?"

A few minutes before he had promised his guests, who presented him with the $4,000 tractor-cultivator combination:

"You are going to see something if those cows act like they usually do."

The President told reporters at the bucolic ceremony he was "feeling fine." And reports from a 45-minute medical examination, made just before the presentation down by the barns, supported his optimistic and cheerful mood.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, his personal physician, and Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, the Army's heart specialist at Washington's Walter Reed Hospital, said he was "free of symptoms" and termed his convalescence from his Sept. 24 heart attack "satisfactory without complications."

They cautioned that he must continue to restrict his activities and things like golf are taboo as yet.

Tomorrow, he will talk about the budget for the Health, Education and Public Welfare Department with Secretary Folsom and Budget Director Rowland Hughes. He will drive 22 miles after lunch for a two-hour meeting with the National Security Council at Camp David in the Catoctin Mountains.

The gadget-loaded tractor and cultivator—complete with built-in radio and cigarette lighter—was presented to Eisenhower by representatives of the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperatives.

Carey Denies Money Owed To Mine Union

$1,665,000 Request Viewed As Attempt To Derail Merger

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—United Mine Workers chieftain John L. Lewis tonight demanded that the CIO repay an old loan from his union. He was told, "The CIO owes you no money."

Lewis' action was viewed as an attempt to throw a last-minute monkey wrench into the smoothly moving merger plans of the AFL and CIO.

He dunned the CIO for $1,665,000 he claimed the UMW loaned to the CIO in its struggling infancy in the late 1930s.

And Lewis said he wanted the money before the CIO was "liquidated" in the forthcoming merger. The labor bodies vote on the merger in separate conventions starting tomorrow. The combination is to be completed in a joint convention next week.

Lewis "Wrong" On Two Counts

In a quick reply by letter, the CIO secretary-treasurer, James B. Carey, said Lewis was wrong about two things.

First, the CIO will not be "liquidated" in the merger, Carey said, and second, "The CIO owes you no money."

"You have achieved the momentary ripple of publicity which you sought to relieve the boredom of your isolation from the democratic labor movement," Carey told Lewis.

Carey made it clear the CIO has no intention of meeting Lewis' demand. Other CIO spokesmen said the funds advanced by the UMW had always been considered gifts to the CIO.

The UMW letter said the mine union "extended services and cash totaling approximately $7,250,000" in the days when the CIO was getting started. All but $1,665,000 has been repaid, the letter asserted.

John L. Opposes Merger

Lewis at the time was head of both the UMW and the CIO. It was he who broke away from the parent AFL and led the formation of the CIO as a rival organization.

Later he left the CIO and led his mine workers into the independent status they retain to this day.

Lewis is known to be against the AFL-CIO merger. His action was interpreted by observers as a last-ditch attempt to embarrass CIO and AFL leaders who are set for quick approval of the combination.

A UMW spokesman declined to say what the UMW would do if the money was not repaid. Asked if he expected the CIO to take the matter up at its convention opening tomorrow, he said, "I would assume that's the honorable thing to do."

Chinese Reds Free Turncoat

HONG KONG, Nov. 30 (AP)—Richard R. Tenneson, American GI who elected to go to Red China after the Korean War, has been allowed to leave that country, it was reported today.

The British Red Cross received word from the Chinese Red Cross of Tenneson's release. He is expected here tomorrow.

Tenneson was one of 21 turncoat GIs who denounced conditions in the United States and asked to be accepted in Red China as "free men." Peiping agreed to this on Jan. 27, 1954.

Earlier he had written his mother, Mrs. Portia Howe, of Alden, Minn., that he was staying with communism because. "I love peace, I love mankind."

His mother, convinced her son by a previous marriage had been thoroughly brainwashed by his Red captors, flew to Tokyo, hopeful of meeting him face to face, but the Army would not let her go to Korea. Richard, now 22, was captured in May 1951.

Lifts Abortion Ban

MOSCOW, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Soviet government today suddenly lifted a 19-year ban on abortions. It legalized such operations by hospitals and authorized persons in medical institutions.

The move seemed to indicate a government decision to face up to a problem which has long been fought in the Soviet Union. Apparently the government faced the choice of legalizing authorized abortion or overlooking a widespread practice of illegal operations, with consequent harm to the women patients.

Snow storms that paralyzed areas in Michigan and New York dwindled to flurries Wednesday but arctic air still covered much of the eastern two-thirds of the country.

Jamestown N. D., was the nation's icebox with an overnight low of -21 degrees. The mercury still was -3 at Grand Forks, N. D., at noon.

Early afternoon readings were 30 degrees or less from New England westward through the Ohio Valley, the Middle Mississippi Valley, the Central Plains and northwestward to Montana.

Parley Records Tell How 'Geneva Spirit' Faded Out

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The story of how the "spirit of Geneva" faded out amid spates of angry words was told tonight as the State Department published records of the recent foreign ministers conference.

Secretary of State Dulles told Foreign Minister Molotov it was "almost infamous" for Russia to insinuate the Western Powers have no interest in world disarmament.

Molotov, in turn, accused the Western leaders of seeking to set up "centers of espionage" in Communist countries, in the guise of information centers.

The State Department made public 307 pages of records of the foreign ministers' meeting, held at Geneva Oct. 27 to Nov. 16. The meeting was a followup to the Geneva "summit" conference of President Eisenhower with other government heads, at which a spirit of greater friendliness seemingly was born between Russia and the West.

The foreign ministers conference ended in a deadlock. Four days before its conclusion, Dulles denounced Russia's disarmanent proposals as a "cruel deception which is sought to be perpetrated on the peoples of the world for propaganda purposes."

Dulles said Russia was trying to draw "a grotesque picture" which sought to show the Soviet Union as the only country wanting to disarm.

"I do not think that that type of propaganda is really effective," he said.

"I believe the world will judge, and rightly judge, that those who want to have effective disarmament will be those who want. . . effective inspection and control. . . which every reasonable person knows we all want."

Most Of States Will Not Meet School Needs

Report Says None Has Shown Money Cannot Be Raised

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The White House conference on education today accepted a report saying that few states seem ready to meet their school building needs for the five years ahead.

This is true, said a report drafted after discussions among the 1,800 participating delegates, even though no state has demonstrated it couldn't raise the money.

The report, on "What Are Our School Building Needs?" was drawn up by Earl H. Beling, a Moline, Ill., consulting engineer, and Elmer W. Rowley, head of Joliet Junior College in Illinois. It was received with applause and without objection by the delegates.

No Voting On Reports

Under the rules of the conference, there is no actual voting on reports. These findings are drafted by representatives of study groups composed of delegates.

The Beling-Rowley report said: "It appears that under present plans only two of three states have been quoted as stating that they can meet their building needs for the next five years. . . .

"Under the present plans and time limitations stipulated it seems to be virtually impossible for most of the states to meet school building needs.

Question Of Planning

"The general consensus was this: No state has demonstrated financial incapacity to build the schools it will need during the next five years.

"But, with the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

While the Beling-Rowley report said nothing specifically on the subject of federal aid, it got at the question indirectly, by stating: "Some territories and a few states may need outside financial assistance."

What states and territories were meant was not disclosed.

Demos To Hear Top Contenders

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 30 (AP)—Democratic presidential aspirations of 1956 will be spotlighted here the next three days as three major potential contenders speak at the national convention of the Young Democrats.

Adlai Stevenson, 1952 nominee for president and a candidate again this year, and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, both potential candidates, are all scheduled to appear before delegates. Kefauver will give the keynote address tomorrow and Harriman will speak at the closing banquet Saturday night.

Other name Democrats, including several who have been mentioned for presidential or vice presidential nominations, will attend the three-day convention.

Among the other speakers are Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, Democratic vice presidential nominee in 1952, and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, boomed as a possible presidential nominee next year.

A running battle of words involving Stevenson, Harriman and Williams has turned attention on the visit of the three. Stevenson touched it off two weeks ago with a plea for "moderation" next year.

Williams and Harriman immediately replied that "moderate" is not the word for the Democratic party.

Mountie Uses His Body To Save Man

WINDEMERE, B. C., Nov. 30 (AP)—A young Royal Canadian Mounted Police constable used his body to wedge back a weakening wall of gypsum and ice more than an hour yesterday to save the life of a trapped man.

Forty men finally freed Albert Portman, 50, while Constable H. D. Bowyer, 22, spread-eagled his body to stop the crumbling wall of brokenup gypsum from crushing the trapped man. Gypsum is a light, rock-like material.

Both men were hospitalized.

Portman fell into a hopper being filled with the crushed gypsum when a pile collapsed. Protrusion of his legs through the bottom of the hopper gave him enough air to keep him alive until he was dug out.

Cabinet Signals French Election

EXILE ENDS — Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz is shown as he prepared yesterday to fly home to Buenos Aires, Argentina, from New York to end his four and one-half year exile. Assembly Will Be Dissolved

PARIS, Nov. 30 (AP)—The French Cabinet decided tonight to dissolve the National Assembly and hold new elections.

At this stage, Premier Edgar Faure appeared to have turned a seeming defeat into victory. He has been campaigning all along for early elections, but the devious approach to them was a surprise—even in French politics.

Yesterday the Assembly gave Faure a vote of no-confidence, usually the signal for the government's immediate resignation. But the size of the Assembly vote against him brought into play an obscure constitutional provision permitting the Cabinet to order dissolution.

No Election Date Set

The unprecedented decision was announced tonight following a 3½-hour Cabinet session at the Elysee Palace, the French White House. No date was given for the elections, but they must come between 20 and 30 days after the dissolution order is handed down.

Faure told newsmen later this constitutional time limit raises problems. If the order is handed down immediately the voting would come during the Christmas vacation—perhaps on Christmas Day.

There was some speculation that publication of the dissolution decree will be delayed so the voting can be held Jan. 8, the first Sunday after the holidays. The French traditionally hold their elections on Sunday.

The Premier said the final decision on the polling date would be taken within the next 48 hours.

Five Oppose Dissolution

Faure and most of his associates will remain on the job to handle the government's day-to-day affairs and oversee the elections. But five ministers opposed dissolution of the Assembly and said they would not associate themselves with the move. All five are members of Faure's Radical Socialist party.

Faure said the attitude of the five ministers presented a problem. Since the government itself is in a period of transition, he added, there is a question whether they could be permitted to resign.

The Cabinet decided on dissolution despite heavy pressure from many political leaders.

Red Arms Plan "Hypocritical," Lodge Declares

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. today accused the Soviet Union of advocating "paper disarmament." He said the Soviet proposals are "hypocritical" and the United States will not take part in them.

This was the answer of the chief U.S. delegate in the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee to a 10,000-word speech by V. V. Kuznetsov, first deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union, opening the long-awaited disarmament debate here.

Kuznetsov put forward the Soviet position on disarmament voiced by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at the Geneva foreign ministers conference and rejected by the West. The gist of this is for disarmament to take effect immediately without first setting up controls and inspection.

The Soviet delegate also called for the liquidation of U.S. bases on foreign soil. He said the Western approach to disamament "cannot produce positive results." The West wants inspections and controls to be operating before disarmament by stages takes effect.

Kuznetsov also rejected once more President Eisenhower's "open sky" inspection plan unless it is made part of a general disarmament program. Lodge and other American delegates have said the President's plan for a mutual exchange of aerial inspection with Russia is the gateway to disarmament.

The uncompromising stands taken by Lodge and Kuznetsov at the start of this discussion boded ill for later agreement and indicated the nine-year stalemate on disarmament in the U.N. will continue. The best the delegates hope for is a directive from the Assembly for the Disarmament subcommittee to continue meetings, perhaps in London next February.

Red China-Syria Pact

DAMASCUS, Syria, Nov. 30 (AP)—Red China and Syria signed a one-year trade agreement today.

All Have Role For S-D Day

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Tomorrow is S-D Day—the day you try harder than ever to stay alive and save other lives.

The safe driving day campaign is a mammoth effort to cut traffic deaths through extra caution. Each motorist and pedestrian plays a vital role.

The nation has come to the eve of S-D Day with a 1955 highway safety record that gives safety experts little to cheer about.

The National Safety Council reported today that nearly 31,000 persons were killed on America's highways the first 10 months this year—a 7 per cent increase over 1954.

The October traffic toll of 3,920 is 12 per cent ahead of the corresponding 1954 month and the largest for any one month since the record high total of December 1941.

"If anyone thinks S-D Day is just a lot of shouting about nothing, stop and think about these figures," said Ned H. Dearborn, safety council president.

Ike Given Fancy Tractor, Calls In Cows With Gadget

GETTYSBURG, Pa. Nov. 30 (AP)—A gay President Eisenhower celebrated the gift of a shiny new tractor today by calling his cows with a new-fangled electronic bellow and cheering them on as they came a-running.

"Look at the darned things go," he cried in glee. "Did you ever see anything like it?"

A few minutes before he had promised his guests, who presented him with the $4,000 tractor-cultivator combination:

"You are going to see something if those cows act like they usually do."

The President told reporters at the bucolic ceremony he was "feeling fine." And reports from a 45-minute medical examination, made just before the presentation down by the barns, supported his optimistic and cheerful mood.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, his personal physician, and Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, the Army's heart specialist at Washington's Walter Reed Hospital, said he was "free of symptoms" and termed his convalescence from his Sept. 24 heart attack "satisfactory without complications."

They cautioned that he must continue to restrict his activities and things like golf are taboo as yet.

Tomorrow, he will talk about the budget for the Health, Education and Public Welfare Department with Secretary Folsom and Budget Director Rowland Hughes. He will drive 22 miles after lunch for a two-hour meeting with the National Security Council at Camp David in the Catoctin Mountains.

The gadget-loaded tractor and cultivator—complete with built-in radio and cigarette lighter—was presented to Eisenhower by representatives of the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperatives.

Carey Denies Money Owed To Mine Union

$1,665,000 Request Viewed As Attempt To Derail Merger

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—United Mine Workers chieftain John L. Lewis tonight demanded that the CIO repay an old loan from his union. He was told, "The CIO owes you no money."

Lewis' action was viewed as an attempt to throw a last-minute monkey wrench into the smoothly moving merger plans of the AFL and CIO.

He dunned the CIO for $1,665,000 he claimed the UMW loaned to the CIO in its struggling infancy in the late 1930s.

And Lewis said he wanted the money before the CIO was "liquidated" in the forthcoming merger. The labor bodies vote on the merger in separate conventions starting tomorrow. The combination is to be completed in a joint convention next week.

Lewis "Wrong" On Two Counts

In a quick reply by letter, the CIO secretary-treasurer, James B. Carey, said Lewis was wrong about two things.

First, the CIO will not be "liquidated" in the merger, Carey said, and second, "The CIO owes you no money."

"You have achieved the momentary ripple of publicity which you sought to relieve the boredom of your isolation from the democratic labor movement," Carey told Lewis.

Carey made it clear the CIO has no intention of meeting Lewis' demand. Other CIO spokesmen said the funds advanced by the UMW had always been considered gifts to the CIO.

The UMW letter said the mine union "extended services and cash totaling approximately $1,250,000" in the days when the CIO was getting started. All but $1,665,000 has been repaid, the letter asserted.

John L. Opposes Merger

Lewis at the time was head of both the UMW and the CIO. It was he who broke away from the parent AFL and led the formation of the CIO as a rival organization.

Later he left the CIO and led his mine workers into the independent status they retain to this day.

Lewis is known to be against the AFL-CIO merger. His action was interpreted by observers as a last-ditch attempt to embarrass CIO and AFL leaders who are set for quick approval of the combination.

A UMW spokesman declined to say what the UMW would do if the money was not repaid. Asked if he expected the CIO to take the matter up at its convention opening tomorrow, he said, "I would assume that's the honorable thing to do."

Chinese Reds Free Turncoat

HONG KONG, Nov. 30 (AP) — Richard R. Tenneson, American GI who elected to go to Red China after the Korean War, has been allowed to leave that country, it was reported today.

The British Red Cross received word from the Chinese Red Cross of Tenneson's release. He is expected here tomorrow.

Tenneson was one of 21 turncoat GIs who denounced conditions in the United States and asked to be accepted in Red China as "free men." Peiping agreed to this on Jan. 27, 1954.

Earlier he had written his mother, Mrs. Portia Howe, of Alden, Minn., that he was staying with communism because, "I love peace, I love mankind."

His mother, convinced her son by a previous marriage had been thoroughly brainwashed by his Red captors, flew to Tokyo, hopeful of meeting him face to face, but the Army would not let her go to Korea. Richard, now 22, was captured in May 1951.

Lifts Abortion Ban

MOSCOW, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Soviet government today suddenly lifted a 19-year ban on abortions. It legalized such operations by hospitals and authorized persons in medical institutions.

The move seemed to indicate a government decision to face up to a problem which has long been fought in the Soviet Union. Apparently the government faced the choice of legalizing authorized abortion or overlooking a widespread practice of illegal operations, with consequent harm to the women patients.

DeSapio Describes Harriman As More Than 'Token' Entry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman's political quarterback pushed New York's chief executive into the field of serious contenders for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination today.

Carmine DeSapio, New York national committeeman and Tammany Hall leader, said at a National Press Club luncheon that Harriman is more than "a token favorite son candidate" for the nomination.

This declaration, linked with DeSapio's prediction that New York's 98 presidential nominating votes will be solidly behind him, cast Harriman in the role of a powerful aspirant lying in wait for Adlai E. Stevenson or others who might stumble in the preconvention battling.

Previously Harriman had said he would take the nomination if it came his way but was not an "active" candidate and would not enter any presidential primaries.

Stevenson, the 1952 nominee who wants the prize again, already has agreed to enter the March 20 Minnesota primary. What he himself has called a "highly encouraging" reception in Florida has heightened expectations he may enter that state's May 29 presidential delegate contest.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who may challenge Stevenson in both primaries, sent a message of greetings to his "old friend" DeSapio when the latter spoke here. DeSapio appeared somewhat embarrassed by the gesture. Kefauver has said he will tell about mid-December whether he will seek the nomination.

DeSapio said he doesn't know who the Democratic nominee will be next year. He added that it would be "folly" to predict now the state of national or international affairs at the time of next August's convention and "foolhardy" to say which man the party would want as a candidate then.

Asked if Harriman is "more than a favorite son" candidate, DeSapio replied that history reveals New York governors as having powerful influence in their party's councils. He observed that former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York twice had been nominated for the presidency by the Republicans.

"That should dispel the idea that Harriman is only a token or favorite son candidate," he declared.

DeSapio didn't mention the late Franklin D. Roosevelt who went from the New York governorship to four terms as president.

The Democrats have a "wealth of candidates," DeSapio said. He added that this contrasted to "Republican surrender to the hazardous concept of one indispensable man for their party," an obvious allusion to President Eisenhower.

Asked about Harriman's recent dissent to Stevenson's statement that this is the time for "moderation," DeSapio said Harriman is "not critical of Mr. Stevenson in the sense that he is not trying to jeopardize any chance Mr. Stevenson has for the nomnation."

Stevenson Raps Housing Cutback

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson told the nation's mayors today that the Eisenhower administration had pushed through a federal housing cutback at a time when the need for better type dwellings was increasing.

He urged an immediate start on a "realistic" housing program backed by federal aid and government incentives to private industry to meet what he said was the most pressing problem brought about by expansion of urban centers.

A three-point program recommended by the Democratic presidential hopeful to the American Municipal Assn. would call for:

1. Federal aid for public housing measured "not by the limitations of false economy but only by the needs of our lowest income families."

2. A system of practical governmental incentives that will bring decent private housing within the reach of the middle-income group.

3. An all-out attack by local, state and federal governments on the problem of slum clearance and urban redevelopment.

SRC's Handling Of Tunnel Land Pact Criticized

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP) — A Legislative Council committee today accused the State Roads Commission of delegating too much authority to its consulting engineers in acquiring land for a Baltimore Harbor tunnel.

The criticism was contained in an 18-page report filed by the council's Budget and Finance committee after a series of public hearings on the tunnel project, which has been a nub of political controversy since the 1954 general election.

"We believe the land for the Patapsco River Tunnel might have been acquired more cheaply and without raising the sharp questions of public policy which have resulted from the contract, made at the instance of the J. E. Greiner Co.," the report said.

The committee said it felt the SRC should have handled the contract itself or "if Greiner were employed, should have treated the consulting engineer as a consultant and an adviser only."

"In our opinion this contract should not have been entered into and we hope that it will be the last of its kind ever to be used by the State Roads Commission of Maryland."

The commission said Greiner had recommended that a total fee of 7½ per cent of the cost be paid to two real estate firms—the David M. Nichols Co. and William Martien & Co.—to acquire the land and that the Roads Commission accepted this.

Nichols was awarded the contract soon after resigning as a member of the State Roads Commission. But the Legislative Council committee said it "received no testimony which links the resignation of Mr. Nichols from the State Roads Commission to the contract for the tunnel approaches."

Dr. Elkins Opposes U. S. Aid To Education

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Nov. 30 (AP)—Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, said today federal aid to education would only mean increased taxes and more government control.

He told the Hagerstown Rotary Club the cost of education should be kept at state and local levels and under local control.

He said he does not believe the State should ever pay all the costs of a college education—that reasonable tuitions should be imposed.

Dr. Elkins said "the individual can and should contribute towards his own preparation but the amount must not be so excessive as to eliminate a large number of deserving students."

Two Of Day-Old Quadruplets Die

ALMA, Ga., Nov. 30 (AP)—Two of the day-old Nelson quadruplets—the lone boy and a girl—died today leaving the tenant farm parents "heartbroken."

The two remaining girls, each weighing about two pounds, were reported "doing beautifully" at the Bacon County Hospital in southeast Georgia. One was named Alma, the other Georgia.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Nelson, 36 and 34, respectively, share crop tobacco on a 90-acre farm in adjoining Coffee County. They have six other living children, three born to Mrs. Nelson during a previous marriage.

18-Year-Old Hunter Accidentally Killed

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 30 (AP) — A young hunter died today in a Cambridge hospital of a wound in the neck apparently suffered when a companion's rifle discharged accidentally.

The victim was 18-year-old Darcy Hughes of Church Creek.

Dr. John Mace, deputy medical examiner, said Hughes was shot by Jackie Booze while the two and Wayne Simmons were hunting between Church Creek and Taylor's Island.

Marie Dionne Improves

NORTH BAY, Ont., Nov. 30 (AP)—Quintuplet Marie Dionne, ill in a Montreal hospital, is "steadily improving" and is expected to come to her home near Callander within the next few days, her father, Oliva Dionne, said today.

Start On SRC Realignment Urged By Gov. McKeldin

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today asked the State Roads Commission to go ahead quickly with part of a realignment of its administrative setup suggested by his special panel of government "efficiency experts."

He suggested the commission's chief engineer be given direct authority over:

1. The right-of-way department.
2. The traffic division.
3. The advisory engineer.

The advisory engineer now works directly for the commission. The traffic division also reports directly to the three commission members. The right-of-way department is responsible both to the commission, on land acquisition problems, and the chief engineer, on engineering problems.

The realignment was recommended by the governor's Green Commission on State Programs, Organization and Finance. McKeldin assigned the group to study the Roads Commission last summer when Democratic legislators were clamoring for a Legislative Council inquiry into the department's operations.

McKeldin also suggested the Roads Commission go ahead and hire an administrative assistant to be the chief engineer "and such additional personnel as may be necessary to enable the chief engineer and his deputy to function more advantageously."

The Green Commission report said the chief engineer (Norman L. Pritchett) is much overworked, bogged down with administrative detail that should be handled by administrative assistants while he devotes his talents to engineering problems.

The Governor said the Green Commission's suggestion for regrouping the right-of-way department, the traffic division, and the advisory engineer under the chief engineer "would appear to be sound and logical."

Welfare Funds' Misuse Charged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Sen. Allott (R-Colo) charged today that big sums intended to provide welfare benefits for industrial workers have been used by some insurance companies to make "payoffs" to insurance brokers.

Allott's statement was prompted by testimony that some companies have paid brokers commissions as high as 30 and 40 per cent of the first year's insurance premiums.

A member of the Labor subcommittee conducting hearings on welfare fund practices, Allott contended the payments came from money "that belongs to the people who are insured."

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), is exploring whether new federal laws are needed to protect welfare funds against abuse.

Allott's remarks punctuated testimony in which officials of the Washington National Insurance Co. of Evanston, Ill., testified they had paid one insurance broker a "regular" commission of 13.8 per cent of a year's premiums on this type of insurance, plus an extra 10 per cent. They said they were unaware the broker, through an agreement with union officials, also was getting half the dividends the company intended to pay to the insured workers.

Baby Boy Adopted By Marie Wilson

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30 (AP)—Actress Marie Wilson has adopted in Tennessee "the most healthy, beautiful baby you ever saw," she said today.

The blonde star said she and her husband, TV producer Bob Fallon, saw him in one of the Memphis hospitals where she entertained patients about six weeks ago. On the same trip she entertained Atomic Energy Commission employes at Oak Ridge.

About a week ago, Miss Wilson added, her husband flew back to Memphis, completed the adoption proceedings and brought the child here.

The 4-month-old boy weighs 16 pounds, has dark blue eyes, and "what hair he has is blond," the actress reported.

Va. Legislature Acts To Bypass Desegregation

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 30 (AP)—Gov. Thomas B. Stanley today asked the Virginia Legislature to take the first step toward permitting public support of a child's private schooling.

This is vital to enactment later of a program designed to prevent enforced racial integration in public schools of the state and worked out by a commission appointed by Stanley last year.

Addressing an historic special session of the General Assembly, Stanley recommended introduction and passage of a bill drafted by his Commission on Public Education providing for a referendum on the question of whether a limited constitutional convention shall be held to amend section 141 of the State Constitution.

This section bars the use of public funds for support of a private institution. The amendment would remove this barrier to make possible tuition grants for children declining to attend integrated public schools.

Identical bills for the convention referendum were introduced in both the 100-member House of Delegates and 36-member State Senate.

MPs Rescue Pair As House Burns

JESSUPS, Md., Nov. 30 (AP)—Moments after a military policeman dragged two men from a burning house today the house collapsed in a mass of flaming rubble.

Teaming in the rescue, Fort Meade said, were Sgt. Dalmar R. Baker, 29, and Sgt. 1C Walter E. Dowdy, 31.

Pulled from the flaming house at Maryland 175 and Ridge road wre Bruce Miser, 44, and Ruben R. Baker, 55. Miser had been overcome by smoke and was revived.

The roof fell in just after the men were awakened and pulled out.

"That should dispel the idea that Harriman is only a token or favorite son candidate," he declared.

DeSapio didn't mention the late Franklin D. Roosevelt who went from the New York governorship to four terms as president.

The Democrats have a "wealth of candidates," DeSapio said. He added that this contrasted to "Republican surrender to the hazardous concept of one indispensable man for their party," an obvious allusion to President Eisenhower.

Asked about Harriman's recent dissent to Stevenson's statement that this is the time for "moderation," DeSapio said Harriman is "not critical of Mr. Stevenson in the sense that he is not trying to jeopardize any chance Mr. Stevenson has for the nomnation."

Stevenson Raps Housing Cutback

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson told the nation's mayors today that the Eisenhower administration had pushed through a federal housing cutback at a time when the need for better type dwellings was increasing.

He urged an immediate start on a "realistic" housing program backed by federal aid and government incentives to private industry to meet what he said was the most pressing problem brought about by expansion of urban centers.

A three-point program recommended by the Democratic presidential hopeful to the American Municipal Assn. would call for:

1. Federal aid for public housing measured "not by the limitations of false economy but only by the needs of our lowest income families."

2. A system of practical governmental incentives that will bring decent private housing within the reach of the middle-income group.

3. An all-out attack by local, state and federal governments on the problem of slum clearance and urban redevelopment.

SRC's Handling Of Tunnel Land Pact Criticized

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP) — A Legislative Council committee today accused the State Roads Commission of delegating too much authority to its consulting engineers in acquiring land for a Baltimore Harbor tunnel.

The criticism was contained in an 18-page report filed by the council's Budget and Finance committee after a series of public hearings on the tunnel project, which has been a nub of political controversy since the 1954 general election.

"We believe the land for the Patapsco River Tunnel might have been acquired more cheaply and without raising the sharp questions of public policy which have resulted from the contract, made at the instance of the J. E. Greiner Co.," the report said.

The committee said it felt the SRC should have handled the contract itself or "if Greiner were employed, should have treated the consulting engineer as a consultant and an adviser only."

"In our opinion this contract should not have been entered into and we hope that it will be the last of its kind ever to be used by the State Roads Commission of Maryland."

The commission said Greiner had recommended that a total fee of 7½ per cent of the cost be paid to two real estate firms—the David M. Nichols Co. and William Martien & Co.—to acquire the land and that the Roads Commission accepted this.

Nichols was awarded the contract soon after resigning as a member of the State Roads Commission. But the Legislative Council committee said it "received no testimony which links the resignation of Mr. Nichols from the State Roads Commission to the contract for the tunnel approaches."

Dr. Elkins Opposes U. S. Aid To Education

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Nov. 30 (AP)—Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, said today federal aid to education would only mean increased taxes and more government control.

He told the Hagerstown Rotary Club the cost of education should be kept at state and local levels and under local control.

He said he does not believe the State should ever pay all the costs of a college education—that reasonable tuitions should be imposed.

Dr. Elkins said "the individual can and should contribute towards his own preparation but the amount must not be so excessive as to eliminate a large number of deserving students."

Two Of Day-Old Quadruplets Die

ALMA, Ga., Nov. 30 (AP)—Two of the day-old Nelson quadruplets—the lone boy and a girl—died today leaving the tenant farm parents "heartbroken."

The two remaining girls, each weighing about two pounds, were reported "doing beautifully" at the Bacon County Hospital in southeast Georgia. One was named Alma, the other Georgia.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Nelson, 36 and 34, respectively, share crop tobacco on a 90-acre farm in adjoining Coffee County. They have six other living children, three born to Mrs. Nelson during a previous marriage.

18-Year-Old Hunter Accidentally Killed

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 30 (AP) — A young hunter died today in a Cambridge hospital of a wound in the neck apparently suffered when a companion's rifle discharged accidentally.

The victim was 18-year-old Darcy Hughes of Church Creek.

Dr. John Mace, deputy medical examiner, said Hughes was shot by Jackie Booze while the two and Wayne Simmons were hunting between Church Creek and Taylor's Island.

Marie Dionne Improves

NORTH BAY, Ont., Nov. 30 (AP)—Quintuplet Marie Dionne, ill in a Montreal hospital, is "steadily improving" and is expected to come to her home near Callander within the next few days, her father, Oliva Dionne, said today.

Start On SRC Realignment Urged By Gov. McKeldin

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today asked the State Roads Commission to go ahead quickly with part of a realignment of its administrative setup suggested by his special panel of government "efficiency experts."

He suggested the commission's chief engineer be given direct authority over:

1. The right-of-way department.
2. The traffic division.
3. The advisory engineer.

The advisory engineer now works directly for the commission. The traffic division also reports directly to the three commission members. The right-of-way department is responsible both to the commission, on land acquisition problems, and the chief engineer, on engineering problems.

The realignment was recommended by the governor's Green Commission on State Programs, Organization and Finance. McKeldin assigned the group to study the Roads Commission last summer when Democratic legislators were clamoring for a Legislative Council inquiry into the department's operations.

McKeldin also suggested the Roads Commission go ahead and hire an administrative assistant to be the chief engineer "and such additional personnel as may be necessary to enable the chief engineer and his deputy to function more advantageously."

The Green Commission report said the chief engineer (Norman L. Pritchett) is much overworked, bogged down with administrative detail that should be handled by administrative assistants while he devotes his talents to engineering problems.

The Governor said the Green Commission's suggestion for regrouping the right-of-way department, the traffic division, and the advisory engineer under the chief engineer "would appear to be sound and logical."

Welfare Funds' Misuse Charged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Sen. Allott (R-Colo) charged today that big sums intended to provide welfare benefits for industrial workers have been used by some insurance companies to make "payoffs" to insurance brokers.

Allott's statement was prompted by testimony that some companies have paid brokers commissions as high as 30 and 40 per cent of the first year's insurance premiums.

A member of the Labor subcommittee conducting hearings on welfare fund practices, Allott contended the payments came from money "that belongs to the people who are insured."

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), is exploring whether new federal laws are needed to protect welfare funds against abuse.

Allott's remarks punctuated testimony in which officials of the Washington National Insurance Co. of Evanston, Ill., testified they had paid one insurance broker a "regular" commission of 13.8 per cent of a year's premiums on this type of insurance, plus an extra 10 per cent. They said they were unaware the broker, through an agreement with union officials, also was getting half the dividends the company intended to pay to the insured workers.

Baby Boy Adopted By Marie Wilson

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30 (AP)—Actress Marie Wilson has adopted in Tennessee "the most healthy, beautiful baby you ever saw," she said today.

The blonde star said she and her husband, TV producer Bob Fallon, saw him in one of the Memphis hospitals where she entertained patients about six weeks ago. On the same trip she entertained Atomic Energy Commission employes at Oak Ridge.

About a week ago, Miss Wilson added, her husband flew back to Memphis, completed the adoption proceedings and brought the child here.

The 4-month-old boy weighs 16 pounds, has dark blue eyes, and "what hair he has is blond," the actress reported.

Va. Legislature Acts To Bypass Desegregation

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 30 (AP)—Gov. Thomas B. Stanley today asked the Virginia Legislature to take the first step toward permitting public support of a child's private schooling.

This is vital to enactment later of a program designed to prevent enforced racial integration in public schools of the state and worked out by a commission appointed by Stanley last year.

Addressing an historic special session of the General Assembly, Stanley recommended introduction and passage of a bill drafted by his Commission on Public Education providing for a referendum on the question of whether a limited constitutional convention shall be held to amend section 141 of the State Constitution.

This section bars the use of public funds for support of a private institution. The amendment would remove this barrier to make possible tuition grants for children declining to attend integrated public schools.

Identical bills for the convention referendum were introduced in both the 100-member House of Delegates and 36-member State Senate.

MPs Rescue Pair As House Burns

JESSUPS, Md., Nov. 30 (AP)—Moments after a military policeman dragged two men from a burning house today the house collapsed in a mass of flaming rubble.

Teaming in the rescue, Fort Meade said, were Sgt. Dalmar R. Baker, 29, and Sgt. 1C Walter E. Dowdy, 31.

Pulled from the flaming house at Maryland 175 and Ridge road wre Bruce Miser, 44, and Ruben R. Baker, 55. Miser had been overcome by smoke and was revived.

The roof fell in just after the men were awakened and pulled out.

"Doctor Of Year" Against Wonder Drugs For Colds

BOSTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The nation's top family doctor for this year is "absolutely against" using wonder-drugs like penicillin against the common cold.

"It's like whipping a horse," said Dr. E. Roger Samuel of Mt. Carmel, Pa., who yesterday was named "General Practitioner of The Year" by the American Medical Assn. at its annual, clinical meeting.

He explained to reporters that the antibiotic drugs have no specific action against the common cold itself. Therefore, he said, using them against the common cold is analagous to whipping a horse without having a basic reason to do so.

Use of these powerful drugs, he said, should be limited to conditions where they might be expected to benefit, such as complications of a common cold, as distinguished from the cold itself.

For example, he said, some doctors might put it this way:

"Go down and lay in the gutter and get pneumonia — and then I can cure you."

Dr. Samuel, 66, has worked as a general practitioner for 42 years.

The AMA cited him as one who "has continuously devoted time and effort to public service and has served dilligently and enthusiastically in various civic and religious groups covering a wide range of interests."

Government's Tax Take Shows Drop

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP) — Uncle Sam boosted his tax take in 17 states in the year ended June 30, although the over-all total was down $3,631,000,000 from the preceding year.

The Internal Revenue Service reported today its collections for the last fiscal year were $66,289,000,000, compared with $69,920,000,000 for the previous year.

Collections by states, with collections for the previous year shown in parentheses, included:

Maryland and District of Columbia, $1,885,606,000 ($1,915,563,000).

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30 (INS) — The team of Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher has been rumored for so many pictures and then the plans went awry, that I made up my mind I wouldn't do any more speculating. But this I have straight.

RKO has taken "Bachelor Mother" out of the files. That's the comedy that starred Ginger Rogers and David Niven, and a remake will co-star Debbie and Eddie.

How did they get Debbie? Well, I hear it very straight that Debbie requested to be loaned-out for this picture with her bridegroom, and MGM gave its consent. It wil' start early next year. Debbie is reporting first for "Catered Affair" at her own studio.

I think I told you in this column that no time would be wasted getting another property for Mario Lanza, who has been as good as gold on the Warner lot. I can tell you now that one property is being strongly considered.

Twenty years ago, Jan Kiepura and Marta Aggert made a delightful operetta "Be Mine Tonight." It should be a natural for Mario. It's the story of an opera star on a lark in Switzerland under an assumed name.

I also can tell you that Jack Warner and Steve Trilling have looked at it, and I suspect an announcement will be made soon.

Talk about planning ahead — Frank Sinatra is announcing his picture plans up to 1957! What he's announcing now is a right smart idea.

In the middle of March, 1957, Frankie will make "Jazz Train," his first musical for his own Kent Productions (United Artists release).

And who do you think he's signed to co-star with him? Sammy Davis, Jr., no less. Sammy will play a producer and a choreographer in Frank's picture. It will mark Sammy's motion picture debut following his success in all the other mediums of show business.

Chatter in Hollywood:

When Rock Hudson and Phyllis Gates returned from their honeymoon Rock took her out to the garage, turned on the light, and there was a brand new car — a wedding present. He told me, when I talked with him, that she let out a squeal you could have heard a mile away. I suggested that the car was as much for Rock as for Phyllis since she's driven him to the studio in the new bus every time he's gone there.

Today Universal-International summoned the fan magazine writters en masse to interview Rock, who was voted by Modern Screen as the most popular actor of the year.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Rumors are current that Linda Darnell and wealthy Phil Leibmann will soon admit their separation.

Jeanne Crain, who has lived high on a hill ever since her marriage to Paul Brinkman, has now bought a house in Beverly Hills. She'll have the Jack Bennys and Lucille and Desi Arnez as her neighbors.

David Ladd, son of the Alan Ladds, has lost his faith in dentists. He went without candy for months on a promise to his dentist, only to have to undergo surgery on his gum.

Jockey Jackie Westrope is expecting an heir in April. Mrs. Westrope is the former Cecilia Terry, Las Vegas show girl.

The Humphrey Bogarts are tossing a real wing-ding Christmas party for Bogey's birthday which falls on Christmas Day, and for Noel Coward, who will be here for his TV version of "Blithe Spirit." Lauren Bacall appears with him.

Rosanna Rory believes in Anna Magnani's brand of acting — realism. On her first day of shooting she accidentally slashed her co-star Charles McGraw and he had to have a stitch taken in his index finger.

The Rory Calhouns will soon entertain Monsignor Don Kanaly, of Oklahoma. He is credited with putting Rory on the right track, where Rory has remained.

Mary McCarthy, pounds and pounds thinner since her operation and looking wonderful, was with her accompanist, Billy Roy, at the Mocambo for Ella Fitzgerald's opening.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

The color you choose to cover up your legs has a tremendous effect on the rest of your costume.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Figured Out For You

Do you know that your hosiery can make your legs appear slimmer or curvier, whichever you wish?

If your legs are large, don't wear the lightest stocking you can find. The only thing you want is lightness in weight, for a gossamer stocking chisels the size of the legs. For this reason, they have become the delight of all women.

Hazy shades keep the legs beautifully inconspicuous. If you want to minimize thickness in the ankle area, wear a stocking with a slender, pointed heel. A stocking punctuated with a dark and not too delicate seam also trims the leg.

Seamless stockings fill out the overslim leg.

If you have other figure problems, learn to use color to advantage for your whole costume. Dark colors will seem to make you look smaller and slimmer. Light and bright colors will have the effect of making you look larger. So, to satisfy your great yen for color, choose it in a hat, or, for a satin fill-in at your neck.

Study fashions featured in style shows and complete costumes featured in newspapers. Until you are sure of your own tastes select one that appeals to you and copy it to the last accessory. Before too long, as you study and experiment . . . add or eliminate, you'll learn what looks best on you and make fewer and fewer expensive mistakes.

Tomorrow—Keep hands young.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30 (INS) — The team of Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher has been rumored for so many pictures and then the plans went awry, that I made up my mind I wouldn't do any more speculating. But this I have straight.

RKO has taken "Bachelor Mother" out of the files. That's the comedy that starred Ginger Rogers and David Niven, and a remake will co-star Debbie and Eddie.

How did they get Debbie? Well, I hear it very straight that Debbie requested to be loaned-out for this picture with her bridegroom, and MGM gave its consent. It wil' start early next year. Debbie is reporting first for "Catered Affair" at her own studio.

I think I told you in this column that no time would be wasted getting another property for Mario Lanza, who has been as good as gold on the Warner lot. I can tell you now that one property is being strongly considered.

Twenty years ago, Jan Kiepura and Marta Aggert made a delightful operetta "Be Mine Tonight." It should be a natural for Mario. It's the story of an opera star on a lark in Switzerland under an assumed name.

I also can tell you that Jack Warner and Steve Trilling have looked at it, and I suspect an announcement will be made soon.

Talk about planning ahead — Frank Sinatra is announcing his picture plans up to 1957! What he's announcing now is a right smart idea.

In the middle of March, 1957, Frankie will make "Jazz Train," his first musical for his own Kent Productions (United Artists release).

And who do you think he's signed to co-star with him? Sammy Davis, Jr., no less. Sammy will play a producer and a choreographer in Frank's picture. It will mark Sammy's motion picture debut following his success in all the other mediums of show business.

Chatter in Hollywood:

When Rock Hudson and Phyllis Gates returned from their honeymoon Rock took her out to the garage, turned on the light, and there was a brand new car — a wedding present. He told me, when I talked with him, that she let out a squeal you could have heard a mile away. I suggested that the car was as much for Rock as for Phyllis since she's driven him to the studio in the new bus every time he's gone there.

Today Universal-International summoned the fan magazine writters en masse to interview Rock, who was voted by Modern Screen as the most popular actor of the year.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Rumors are current that Linda Darnell and wealthy Phil Leibmann will soon admit their separation.

Jeanne Crain, who has lived high on a hill ever since her marriage to Paul Brinkman, has now bought a house in Beverly Hills. She'll have the Jack Bennys and Lucille and Desi Arnez as her neighbors.

David Ladd, son of the Alan Ladds, has lost his faith in dentists. He went without candy for months on a promise to his dentist, only to have to undergo surgery on his gum.

Jockey Jackie Westrope is expecting an heir in April. Mrs. Westrope is the former Cecilia Terry, Las Vegas show girl.

The Humphrey Bogarts are tossing a real wing-ding Christmas party for Bogey's birthday which falls on Christmas Day, and for Noel Coward, who will be here for his TV version of "Blithe Spirit." Lauren Bacall appears with him.

Rosanna Rory believes in Anna Magnani's brand of acting — realism. On her first day of shooting she accidentally slashed her co-star Charles McGraw and he had to have a stitch taken in his index finger.

The Rory Calhouns will soon entertain Monsignor Don Kanaly, of Oklahoma. He is credited with putting Rory on the right track, where Rory has remained.

Mary McCarthy, pounds and pounds thinner since her operation and looking wonderful, was with her accompanist, Billy Roy, at the Mocambo for Ella Fitzgerald's opening.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Figured Out For You

Do you know that your hosiery can make your legs appear slimmer or curvier, whichever you wish?

If your legs are large, don't wear the lightest stocking you can find. The only thing you want is lightness in weight, for a gossamer stocking chisels the size of the legs. For this reason, they have become the delight of all women.

Hazy shades keep the legs beautifully inconspicuous. If you want to minimize thickness in the ankle area, wear a stocking with a slender, pointed heel. A stocking punctuated with a dark and not too delicate seam also trims the leg.

Seamless stockings fill out the overslim leg.

If you have other figure problems, learn to use color to advantage for your whole costume. Dark colors will seem to make you look smaller and slimmer. Light and bright colors will have the effect of making you look larger. So, to satisfy your great yen for color, choose it in a hat, or, for a satin fill-in at your neck.

Study fashions featured in style shows and complete costumes featured in newspapers. Until you are sure of your own tastes select one that appeals to you and copy it to the last accessory. Before too long, as you study and experiment . . . add or eliminate, you'll learn what looks best on you and make fewer and fewer expensive mistakes.

Tomorrow—Keep hands young.

"FIGURED FOR YOU"

FIGURED FOR YOU, gives expert detailed instructions and illustrates how to select foundation garments that provide comeliness, control and healthful comfort for your individual type of figure. Send 10c in coin, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper for FIGURED FOR YOU.

Local Damage Suit In Appeals Court

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 30 (AP)—Baer Brothers Inc., a trucking firm, argued today that there was no sufficient evidence to show Ross G. Keller Sr. suffered permanent injuries in an auto-truck crash near Cumberland in February, 1954.

It asked the Court of Appeals to upset the Allegany County Circuit Court decision which awarded Keller $12,500.

A Baer Brothers truck collided with Keller's car on U.S. 40 about a mile west of Cumberland and he suffered injuries to the head, neck, back and knee, but was not admitted to the hospital until about a month later.

The average American woman uses about three times her own weight in cosmetics during the course of her life.

THE CHESAPEAKE & POTOMAC TELEPHONE COMPANY OF BALTIMORE CITY

Service Group Discussed By LaVale Century Club

Formation of a special interest group was discussed and chairmen named at the meeting of the LaVale Century Club, Tuesday evening.

Dr. W. Royce Hodges gave a talk to members of the club on cancer detection and control, at the meeting held in the fellowship hall of LaVale Methodist Church.

Mrs. Richard Johnson presided at the business session and announced the appointment of Mrs. Milton Granet as assistant library chairman. Mrs. Donald Kinsey and Mrs. Gilbert Bohn were named co-chairmen for the Mothers March of Dimes drive, which takes place in January.

Donations of food and a silver offering for needy families was requested by Mrs. William O'Brien, Welfare chairman. Members and guests were asked to bring their donations to the Christmas party, to be held December 13.

Due to the growth in membership of the club, plans were reported for forming a special interest group for those interested in community service.

New members were presented by Mrs. Walter Hedrick, Membership chairman. They are Mrs. Theodore Foote, Mrs. Samuel Artz, Mrs. Robert Jones, Mrs. John Metzger and Mrs. John Barmoy.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Henry Duke, Mrs. John Stark, Mrs. William Gunter, Mrs. Larry Horner and Mrs. Waldon Skinner. Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Henry Lowery, Mrs. George Newman, Mrs. William Barger and Mrs. T. E. Gilchrist Jr.

The Antarctic continent covers six million square miles, almost as much as the United States and Europe combined.

Social Chart

The Lutheran Fellowship of St. Paul's church will meet at 8 December 9 at the church. The LaVale group of the class will hold a cookie and candy sale December 17, beginning at 10 a. m.

A bazaar will be held by the Ladies Aid of St. John's Lutheran Church today, beginning at 4 p. m. A ham and oyster supper will be served from 4 until 7 o'clock.

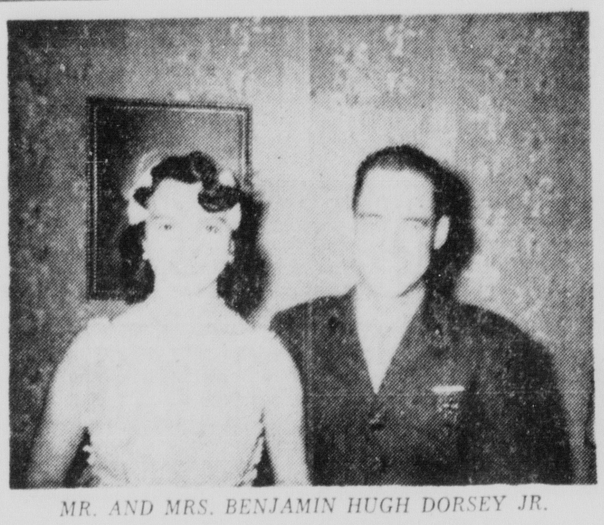
Decorations for the Christmas luncheon will be made by members of the Art and Garden groups of the Woman's Civic Club, today at 1:30 at the library.

The Drill Team and officers of Our Flag of Cumberland Council, 100 D of A will practice at 7 tonight at Junior Order hall. Officers will be elected at 7:30.

A Christmas party will be held by the Happy Valley Homemakers tonight at 6 at the home of Mrs. Boyd Sulser, Valley Road.

Chest Goal Exceeded

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP) — The National Capital Area Community Chest announced today it had reached and exceeded its goal of four million dollars—collecting $4,015,325.72.



MR. AND MRS. BENJAMIN HUGH DORSEY JR.

Donna Jean Carr Is Bride Of Benjamin H. Dorsey Jr.

Miss Donna Jean Carr of Hyndman, Pa., became the bride of Benjamin Hugh Dorsey Jr., of Homewood Addition, November 19.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in candlelight, in the home of Rev. Joseph L. Hoopengardner, 50 Ormond Street, Frostburg, officiating clergyman.

The bride was attired in a woodrose colored dress, with which she wore white accessories and a waist corsage of white rosebuds.

Mr. Dorsey, a son of Benjamin Hugh Dorsey, Homewood Addition, and the late Mrs. Dorsey, is serving with the Marine Corps and is stationed at Parris Island, S. C.

Traditional wedding music was played on the piano and solovox by Mrs. Hoopengardner, including "I Love You Truly," and "O Promise Me."

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Mankamzer and daughter; and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Dorsey Sr.

Centenary WSCS Gives 3 Donations

Money raised on three quilts, quilted during the month, was placed in the treasury of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Centenary Church, and donations of $5 each made to the Swartzel Home, Scholarship fund and the Bedford Road Fire Company.

Mrs. Edith Nield presided at the meeting at the church. Mrs. Rose Yeargan, Spiritual Life chairman, led the devotionals with her topic, "Women in the Church Through the Centuries." She also read a poem, "Thanks." Mrs. Fannie Wilson read a "Thanksgiving" poem.

"Women's Interest in Local, National and International Affairs," was presented by Miss Nyna Fey, Status of Women chairman. Roll call was answered with a Scripture verse. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Irene Growden, Mrs. Ruthella Fey and Miss Mary Ellen Growden gave the Sunshine report. The group sang, "Standing on the Promises," "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and "If Your Heart Keeps Right."

A Christmas party will be held at the next meeting, December 28 instead of the regular night. Each member is to bring a 50-cent jingle gift.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Mary Smouse were hostesses for the meeting. Miss Barbara Purnell, a visitor, and 20 members attended.

Goldfish are related to the carp.

Personals

Mrs. Mary Devine, Fairgo, is reported improving in Sacred Heart Hospital, where she underwent an operation Monday.

Lt. and Mrs. Allan May have returned to Summerville, S. C., after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Nelson Gilford, Baltimore Pike.

Sharon Ann Lease, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lease, 128 Frederick Street, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Sodality Christmas Party To Be Sunday

St. Mary's Sodality will hold its Christmas party Sunday. It will be held in the church recreation room following the evening service.

A musical program will feature the entertainment and jingle gifts are to be exchanged. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Charles Howell is chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Moore.

Allegany-Garrett Auxiliary Yule Party To Be Dec. 13

Plans for the annual bazaar in May are to be discussed at the meeting of the Allegany-Garrett County Ladies Auxiliary of the Volunteer Firemen, December 13. The meeting will be held in the Bowling Green fire hall, beginning at 7:30.

Arrangements also are to be outlined by Mrs. Ann Kammauf, LaVale, state Ways and Means chairman, for the cocktail aprons to be sold at the state convention in June. Each auxiliary is to contribute aprons for the sale, and individual members place a penny for each year of their ages in the pocket.

A jingle party will be held in conjunction with the meeting.

Mrs. Marjorie Proyer, Clarysville, county president, will represent the auxiliary at the state executive meeting in Baltimore in April and also the state convention in Frederick in June.

At the county convention in early June, Mrs. Hazel Swauger, Mt. Savage, will take office.

Surprise Birthday Party Is Held

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Crabtree held a surprise birthday party at their home in Oldtown, in honor of their grandson, Walter "Sonny" Crabtree, celebrating his fifth birthday.

Games were played and prizes won by Sharon Crabtree, Terry Crabtree, Dale Schaidt and Eleanor Kimble. Yellow and white were used in the decorations of the cake.

Others present were Rebecca Hose, Richard Kimble, Beverley Twigg, Gale Schaidt, Wanda Schaidt, Patricia Davis, Ronald Nixon, Glenda Nixon, Jean Nixon, Rae Lewis, Karen Lewis, Joyce Lewis, Janice Lewis, Roger Brown, Irene Twigg, Juanita Crabtree, Nellie Rader, Lillian Confer, Elva Brown, Alice Ruth Schaidt, Margaret Walters, Rose Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Jerrald Allen and daughter, Jamabla; Helen Walters, Mae Kimble, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crabtree, Regina Crabtree, Karen Bender, Paula Nixon, Maxine Crabtree, Beulah Lewis, Sandra Kerns and Gregory Stinebaugh.

Auxiliary Hears Talk On Veterans

A letter of appreciation was read and a talk on veterans was given at the meeting of the Clifford B. Sisler VFW Auxiliary recently at Oldtown. Mrs. Ruth Crabtree presided.

A letter from J. Hubert Radcliffe, principal of Oldtown High School, was read thanking the auxiliary for the six altar flags the group presented for the class rooms recently.

Mrs. Julia Risler, Hagerstown, district president, talked on the veteran, pointing out he "is just as important today as during war time." She stressed the point that veterans today need much assistance and everyone should do his part.

It was announced that a domiciliary party will be held at Newton Baker Hospital December 11. Those wishing to send gifts and cookies are to contact Mrs. Rose Lewis, Hospital chairman, not later than December 9.

Mrs. Catherine Zapf and Mrs. Lewis gave the report of the Christmas party committee. It is to be held December 23. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Irene Twigg and Mrs. Lewis.

Following the meeting a surprise birthday party was held for Mrs. Zapf, past president of the auxiliary. Arrangements and refreshments were under the direction of Mrs. Lewis.

Service Group Discussed By LaVale Century Club

Formation of a special interest group was discussed and chairmen named at the meeting of the LaVale Century Club, Tuesday evening.

Dr. W. Royce Hodges gave a talk to members of the club on cancer detection and control, at the meeting held in the fellowship hall of LaVale Methodist Church.

Mrs. Richard Johnson presided at the business session and announced the appointment of Mrs. Milton Granet as assistant library chairman. Mrs. Donald Kinsey and Mrs. Gilbert Bohn were named co-chairmen for the Mothers March of Dimes drive, which takes place in January.

Donations of food and a silver offering for needy families was requested by Mrs. William O'Brien, Welfare chairman. Members and guests were asked to bring their donations to the Christmas party, to be held December 13.

Due to the growth in membership of the club, plans were reported for forming a special interest group for those interested in community service.

New members were presented by Mrs. Walter Hedrick, Membership chairman. They are Mrs. Theodore Foote, Mrs. Samuel Artz, Mrs. Robert Jones, Mrs. John Metzger and Mrs. John Barmoy.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Henry Duke, Mrs. John Stark, Mrs. William Gunter, Mrs. Larry Horner and Mrs. Waldon Skinner. Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Henry Lowery, Mrs. George Newman, Mrs. William Barger and Mrs. T. E. Gilchrist Jr.

SRC Seeking Bids On Polish Mountain Work

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Roads Commission has taken one of the early steps on a project dear to the hearts of residents in Western Maryland—the overhauling of U.S. 40 on the west slope of Polish Mountain in Allegany County.

The commission asked for bids on the boring of test holes to determine the character of sub-surface rock formations at 16 locations along the route.

Such explorations are a necessary preliminary, usually, to the designing of bridges or other structures.

The project, when it finally gets under way, will amount to a complete rebuilding of the trans-continental highway where it crosses Polish Mountain. The hairpin curves and steep grades will be eliminated and portions of the existing road which can be salvaged will be widened and resurfaced.

Bids on the exploration work will be opened Dec. 13.

Now...for only $50 you can give the precious gift of HEARING!

Just imagine... this Christmas you can give a friend or loved one a ready-to-enjoy, easy-to-wear Zenith Hearing Aid for only $50. Here's a precision-built Zenith of thrilling fidelity and realism . . . powered by no less than 4 wonder transistors for even finer performance . . . operating for only about 10¢ a week on a single tiny battery.

What more thoughtful, practical gift for someone who needs better hearing, but has hesitated taking this simple, yet important step!

Police Report On Per Capita Cost Is Cited

The number of Cumberland Police Department employes for each 1,000 residents is higher than in cities of comparable size and for all cities regardless of population. But the per capita cost is much lower.

At the beginning of the year, Cumberland had a complement of 60 fulltime police employes, including civilians, on the payroll. This represented 1.58 employes for over 1,000 residents.

It was high in comparison with the ratio in other cities of its size category of 25,000 to 50,000. They averaged 1.47 for each 1,000. For all cities, regardless of size, the average was 1.46.

Amounts spent for maintenance and operation of police departments vary considerably. In Cumberland during 1954, the outlay was $200,000 covering payroll, equipment and all other expenditures except toward retirement or pension funds.

Yule Gift Mailing Time Has Arrived

It's time to start your Christmas mailing, Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon Sr. said yesterday.

On the calendar, Christmas is only 25 days away and success in having all cards and gifts delivered on time is largely a matter of advance preparation and planning that should be done this week, Conlon declared.

In fact, Conlon pointed out there has been a steady increase in the flow of holiday mail and packages through the Cumberland Post Office this week.

Gifts for distant points should be in the mail this week, and those living in states fairly far away should be sent next week, with the deadline for nearby points December 10.

Three simple rules were suggested to help the packages get delivered safely before Christmas day.

Wrap them securely, address them correctly and mail them earlier, Conlon emphasized.

Early mailing is important, and so is careful packing and correct addressing. Every year many poorly wrapped packages break open despite careful handling and postal workers have to puzzle over addresses which are incomplete or simply cannot be read at all.

Conlon also suggested residents of the tri-state area check with their post office before attempting to mail articles of unusual size or bulk.

The limits on size and weight of packages varies depending on where you mail them from.

Some post offices cannot accept packages that are more than 72 inches in combined length and girth, nor more than 20 pounds in weight. In others, the limits go up to 100 inches in combined length and girth, and 70 pounds in weight.

Conlon said it is always better to use corrugated cartons with gifts wrapped with plenty of wadded tissue or newspapers for added protection against shock. Complete each package by wrapping in heavy paper and trying it with strong card.

Five Boys Given Court Hearing

Five boys, ranging in age from 11 to 15, were given hearing yesterday in Juvenile Court on charges of breaking and entering and vandalism.

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, said the boys admitted breaking into an empty dwelling last July. Baker added that the boys broke out the windows and damaged the interior of the home, owned by Cletus Shingleton of Hyndman, Pa.

Magistrate Morris Barron withheld sentence on the quintet, on the condition they make restitution to Shingleton and remain of good behavior.

Two other youngsters, scheduled to be given hearings yesterday in Juvenile Court on charges of breaking and entering, had their hearings postponed until next week.

WM Yard Conductor To Get Service Pin

Thomas Dunlap, a yard conductor for the Western Maryland Railway here, will be one of the five Elkins Division men who will be honored Friday for 40 years with the railroad. The others were announced earlier.

Dunlap's first year of employment was as a boiler maker's helper. His last 39 years have been in train service as brakeman and conductor.

Program Postponed

The musical program and dinner originally scheduled for last night the Men's Club of First Presbyterian Church has been postponed until next Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. The postponement is due to the Church Bazaar now in progress.

Albrecht Company Given Contract For Flood Work

The largest single contract in the Cumberland - Ridgeley flood control project will be awarded to the E. J. Albrecht Company of Chicago, the Corps of Army Engineers announced yesterday.

The firm was notified that its low bid of $2,770,869 has been accepted for the work entailed in Section 2 and 3 of the Wills Creek channel and the viaduct pumping station.

This contract includes the 3,200 feet of channel alignment and excavation and the pouring of 21,920 cubic feet of concrete for paving the creek floor and walls.

The work will run from the end of the completed concrete channel which is several hundred feet below the Western Maryland Railway bridge at the end of North Mechanic Street to a point 300 feet downstream from the Queen City Brewing Company.

The Albrecht firm, when it received this contract, will have one-third of the entire project.

Previously awards have been the initial Wills Creek paving job, the industrial dam, and the current work in the North Branch of the Potomac.

The pumping station to be erected at near the B&O Viaduct along Wills Creek will have two 23,000-gallon-per-hour pumps.

The Albrecht firm has not been given the proceed order, but this is anticipated soon.

This contract representing one-eighth of the entire project will take 700 working days and when completed the overall program will be past the one-half mark.

The new local project manager for the E. J. Albrecht Company is R. L. Hubble, who succeeded Eric Gronbach.

Gronbach was promoted to the Chicago main office of the firm.

Hubble, a native of Illinois, is a graduate of the University of Illinois and has been with Albrecht since 1950. Prior to that time, he was employed by the Dravo Corporation.

Hubble worked under Gronbach as superintendent of the industrial dam project, during its construction last year.

Youth Receives Suspended Term

An 18-year-old youth received a suspended jail sentence yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court for the theft of $21 from his neighbor's wallet.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason sentenced Robert W. Cross to six months in the Allegany County Jail on the theft charge, and then suspended the sentence.

Magistrate Mason said the sentence was being suspended on condition that Cross make restitution of the $21 to his neighbor, refrain from alcohol for two years, attend church or Sunday school regularly and remain of good behavior.

Cross was arrested Sunday and lodged in City Jail until Tuesday when he was released in the custory of his mother.

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police at LaVale barracks, arrested Cross.

SRC Seeking Bids On Polish Mountain Work

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Roads Commission has taken one of the early steps on a project dear to the hearts of residents in Western Maryland—the overhauling of U.S. 40 on the west slope of Polish Mountain in Allegany County.

The commission asked for bids on the boring of test holes to determine the character of sub-surface rock formations at 16 locations along the route.

Such explorations are a necessary preliminary, usually, to the designing of bridges or other structures.

The project, when it finally gets under way, will amount to a complete rebuilding of the trans-continental highway where it crosses Polish Mountain. The hairpin curves and steep grades will be eliminated and portions of the existing road which can be salvaged will be widened and resurfaced.

Bids on the exploration work will be opened Dec. 13.

Police Report On Per Capita Cost Is Cited

The number of Cumberland Police Department employes for each 1,000 residents is higher than in cities of comparable size and for all cities regardless of population. But the per capita cost is much lower.

At the beginning of the year, Cumberland had a complement of 60 fulltime police employes, including civilians, on the payroll. This represented 1.58 employes for over 1,000 residents.

It was high in comparison with the ratio in other cities of its size category of 25,000 to 50,000. They averaged 1.47 for each 1,000. For all cities, regardless of size, the average was 1.46.

Amounts spent for maintenance and operation of police departments vary considerably. In Cumberland during 1954, the outlay was $200,000 covering payroll, equipment and all other expenditures except toward retirement or pension funds.

Yule Gift Mailing Time Has Arrived

It's time to start your Christmas mailing, Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon Sr. said yesterday.

On the calendar, Christmas is only 25 days away and success in having all cards and gifts delivered on time is largely a matter of advance preparation and planning that should be done this week, Conlon declared.

In fact, Conlon pointed out there has been a steady increase in the flow of holiday mail and packages through the Cumberland Post Office this week.

Gifts for distant points should be in the mail this week, and those living in states fairly far away should be sent next week, with the deadline for nearby points December 10.

Three simple rules were suggested to help the packages get delivered safely before Christmas day.

Wrap them securely, address them correctly and mail them earlier, Conlon emphasized.

Early mailing is important, and so is careful packing and correct addressing. Every year many poorly wrapped packages break open despite careful handling and postal workers have to puzzle over addresses which are incomplete or simply cannot be read at all.

Conlon also suggested residents of the tri-state area check with their post office before attempting to mail articles of unusual size or bulk.

The limits on size and weight of packages varies depending on where you mail them from.

Some post offices cannot accept packages that are more than 72 inches in combined length and girth, nor more than 20 pounds in weight. In others, the limits go up to 100 inches in combined length and girth, and 70 pounds in weight.

Conlon said it is always better to use corrugated cartons with gifts wrapped with plenty of wadded tissue or newspapers for added protection against shock. Complete each package by wrapping in heavy paper and trying it with strong card.

Seal Funds Provide Pin Money For TB Patients

Over 20 per cent of the 1,140 tuberculosis patients in Maryland's four State tuberculosis hospitals are direct beneficiaries of Christmas Seal funds, according to the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.

The Maryland Tuberculosis Association, in cooperation with the 21 county associations, is providing 250 patients with a small monthly allowance for such items as candy, cigarets, stationery and tooth paste as part of the Association's services to patients.

The allotment of $2 per person per month provides pocket money for the little luxuries needed by patients, but not available through other sources.

Frank T. Jones, executive director of the Maryland Association said, "This is a service which we provide for patients which is not available from the hospitals or other official agencies."

The Tuberculosis Associations in Maryland also provide clothing for patients who do not have money to buy their own. Some dental services, a patient library service and occupational therapy are also provided by Christmas Seal funds. Approximately $20,000 is being set aside for this service.

Food Registration Gets Under Way Today

Registration for surplus food will be conducted by the Red Cross today and tomorrow at various branches throughout the county and at the local Red Cross offices.

The Salvation Army and Associated Charities are also registering eligibles, and officials have requested that this month's registration for the January distribution be completed as quickly as possible. The Christmas and New Year holiday seasons make it necessary to process all paper work as early as possible.

Any unemployed person or family of low income is eligible for surplus foods, provided they register and are certified.

Three To Face Trial Friday

Three men who have been confined in County Jail since November 8 will be tried by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris at 10 a. m. Friday in Circuit Court on criminal informations which were filed yesterday by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher.

Two of the men, Larry R. Mayhew Jr., 27, and James Ziler, 21, both of Franklin, near Westernport, are charged in the two-count information with stealing 120 pounds of brass valued at $90 and belonging to Abraham Feldstein October 22, and with receiving stolen goods. The brass was taken from the Campbell Coal Company yards at Barton and sold for $13.

Through their attorney, Louis A. Fatkin, they filed a petition November 19 waiving their right to indictment by the grand jury and requesting an immediate trial by the court.

Also scheduled for trial Friday morning is Albert Cole of North Mechanic Street, formerly of Frostburg, who is accused of forging the name of John L. Lockner to a check cashed November 5 in a North Centre Street store. He too has agreed to waive his right to grand jury indictment in order to face an immediate trial.

Maryland PSC Seeks To Keep Gas Rate Low

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—Maryland's Public Service Commission today asked permission to intervene in a Federal Power Commission gas rate case in order to keep the charges in Maryland "at the lowest possible level compatible with reasonableness."

The FPC is investigating rates charged by 16 producers of natural gas to determine if they are fair. The Tennessee Public Service Commission earlier complained of the rates and the Maryland PSC today asked to be allowed to intervene on the side of the Tennessee commission.

The Maryland petition noted that six utilities which distribute natural gas in Maryland get their supply, directly or indirectly, from one or more of the 16 producers against which Tennessee complained.

The six Maryland firms are the Baltimore Gas and Electric Co., the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co., the Elkton Gas Co., the Frederick Gas Co., the Hagerstown Gas Co. and Washington Gas Light Co.

"The price charged by the producers is of paramount importance in determining the eventual cost to the consumer," the Maryland spokesman said.

If the Maryland petition is granted, the State will have the right to take part in hearings, present testimony, cross-examine witnesses and present arguments.

Mishap Victim Reported Fair

One of two local men, injured in an auto accident yesterday morning in the Narrows, was reported in "fair" condition last night at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Attaches said Phillip Sherman Keel, 68, of 30 Orchard Street, was admitted to the hospital suffering head injuries and an injury to his left knee.

Treated at the hospital was Harry Bucy, 82, of 109 West Oldtown Road, passenger in the car driven by Keel. Bucy sustained a badly lacerated scalp and cuts about his body.

The car, according to State Police, went out of control, struck several guard rails on the right side of the highway under the Western Maryland Railway in the Narrows, careened across the road and smashed into the stone wall on the left side.

Police said the mishap occurred at 9:50 a. m. as the Keel car was traveling toward Frostburg on U. S. Route 40. The auto was demolished.

In the herbarium at Kew Gardens, outside London, are housed, protected and studied 45,000 different species of living plants.

Unemployment Declines

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—New claims for unemployment compensation in Maryland last week totaled 2,160, a drop of 99 from the previous week and a decrease of 1,322 from the same week a year ago.

The number of claims maintained the relatively low levels established through 1955.

Seasonal fluctuations in vegetable canning and seafood packing business on the Eastern Shore accounted for 40 per cent of the new claims outside of Baltimore City, which always has the lion's shares.

The State Department of Employment Security also reported claims continuted rather heavy in the Hagerstown area where 104 new ones were filed last week. That was about the same figure that has been running for that area since Fairchild Aircraft Division completed work on a contract and started cutting back its force.

The Hagerstown office issued 670 benefit checks, higher than the 380 issued in Cumberland, the long standing employment soft spot in Western Maryland. Cumberland had only 78 new claims last week.

The ESB issued 7,189 benefit checks last week throughout the state with 7,483 the previous week and 21,161 in the corresponding week a year ago.

Statistics reveal that women live 10 per cent longer than men, on the average.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Maryland PSC Seeks To Keep Gas Rate Low

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—Maryland's Public Service Commission today asked permission to intervene in a Federal Power Commission gas rate case in order to keep the charges in Maryland "at the lowest possible level compatible with reasonableness."

The FPC is investigating rates charged by 16 producers of natural gas to determine if they are fair. The Tennessee Public Service Commission earlier complained of the rates and the Maryland PSC today asked to be allowed to intervene on the side of the Tennessee commission.

The Maryland petition noted that six utilities which distribute natural gas in Maryland get their supply, directly or indirectly, from one or more of the 16 producers against which Tennessee complained.

The six Maryland firms are the Baltimore Gas and Electric Co., the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co., the Elkton Gas Co., the Frederick Gas Co., the Hagerstown Gas Co. and Washington Gas Light Co.

"The price charged by the producers is of paramount importance in determining the eventual cost to the consumer," the Maryland spokesman said.

If the Maryland petition is granted, the State will have the right to take part in hearings, present testimony, cross-examine witnesses and present arguments.

Mishap Victim Reported Fair

One of two local men, injured in an auto accident yesterday morning in the Narrows, was reported in "fair" condition last night at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Attaches said Phillip Sherman Keel, 68, of 30 Orchard Street, was admitted to the hospital suffering head injuries and an injury to his left knee.

Treated at the hospital was Harry Bucy, 82, of 109 West Oldtown Road, passenger in the car driven by Keel. Bucy sustained a badly lacerated scalp and cuts about his body.

The car, according to State Police, went out of control, struck several guard rails on the right side of the highway under the Western Maryland Railway in the Narrows, careened across the road and smashed into the stone wall on the left side.

Police said the mishap occurred at 9:50 a. m. as the Keel car was traveling toward Frostburg on U. S. Route 40. The auto was demolished.

In the herbarium at Kew Gardens, outside London, are housed, protected and studied 45,000 different species of living plants.

Unemployment Declines

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—New claims for unemployment compensation in Maryland last week totaled 2,160, a drop of 99 from the previous week and a decrease of 1,322 from the same week a year ago.

The number of claims maintained the relatively low levels established through 1955.

Seasonal fluctuations in vegetable canning and seafood packing business on the Eastern Shore accounted for 40 per cent of the new claims outside of Baltimore City, which always has the lion's shares.

The State Department of Employment Security also reported claims continued rather heavy in the Hagerstown area where 104 new ones were filed last week. That was about the same figure that has been running for that area since Fairchild Aircraft Division completed work on a contract and started cutting back its force.

The Hagerstown office issued 670 benefit checks, higher than the 380 issued in Cumberland, the long standing employment soft spot in Western Maryland. Cumberland had only 78 new claims last week.

The ESB issued 7,189 benefit checks last week throughout the state with 7,483 the previous week and 21,161 in the corresponding week a year ago.

Statistics reveal that women live 10 per cent longer than men, on the average.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Treaty To Outlaw A- And H-Bomb?

It is widely asserted that even if a new major war should break out, atomic or hydrogen bombs would be shunned by each side. No matter how much devastation would be wrought by the first nation using them, it would realize that then they would be unloaded on it in turn.

So why not outlaw the use of the bombs by international treaty? is a question often asked. Skeptics reply that any such treaty would mean little or nothing, and to justify their skepticism they point to the story of treaties on the use of submarines, poison gas and germs in war.

At the Washington armament limitation conference of 1921-22 a proposal was made to outlaw the use of submarines altogether in war. France would not agree, so a treaty was drawn up merely restricting their use. Even this was ineffective because France failed to ratify it.

The restrictions in the 1922 treaty were finally embodied in agreements accepted by France, Britain, Japan, Italy and the U. S. in 1930 and again in 1936. Then Germany subscribed, but in World War II submarines were used by both sides without restrictions.

The Washington conference gave birth also to a treaty outlawing poison gas in war, which again France failed to ratify. An international protocol of 1925 outlawing both poison gas and "bacteriological methods of warfare" was opposed by U. S. defense leaders as unrealistic, and the Senate failed to ratify it. It was binding on other nations, including Russia and Germany, that accepted it, but was it more of a deterrent than the facilities amassed for retaliating against any state violating it?

Then All Of A Sudden It's Christmas

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Heart Gives Out

I have just returned from the requiem services for Julie Pegler, the wife of Westbrook Pegler and his constant companion. She died of a heart attack which does not explain it all. Strain, tension, anxiety — these are ailments of the mind and spirit and often trouble those who are most concerned with the affairs of the world and the downward path of mankind. Such a woman as Julie Pegler must have cared deeply for her fellow-man or she wouldn't have been so deeply moved by his present plight.

The relations of Westbrook Pegler and his wife always interest his colleagues because of the obvious freedom in their companionship and their profound understanding of each other. Peg seems to all the world to be a hard man who hits others with a loaded club; to me he has always appeared to be a sentimentalist, a humanitarian, one who sought virtues in man which were not there, one who was bitterly disappointed when he discovered that even his idols have clay feet. His sentimentality is undoubtedly a heritage from his Irish ancestors but also comes from his close association with Julie Pegler, as fine a character among women as could be found anywhere.

On this same day, I read that my friend Ray Vir Den died, also of a heart ailment. Ray was young and full of life — an idealist who could work himself into real anger over the turpitude of public officials. He must have been brought up to believe in the honesty of men, for he never could quite get over the things he discovered in public life. The son of a missionary minister who went from Indiana to Oklahoma to preach the gospel, Ray believed in the essential goodness in man, otherwise he could not have been so shocked by his degeneration.

As president of the Dutch Treat Club, he followed the tradition set by Clarence Budington Kelland, which was to speak without fear, insulting regularly those who had grown important in their own eyes and stuffy in the eyes of onlookers. No one was ever publicly annoyed by Ray Vir Den's comments although some, on their return to privacy, must have wondered whether what he said, might not be exactly true. Somehow, this man, who tried hard to be a buffoon, could not help becoming a conscience.

Few men who pass away will be more remembered, for his was a charming personality as ungracious as he tried to make it. For this man, as hard as he pretended to be, many men had a deep affection and respect. The Dutch Treat Club in New York serves to provide an interlude in the busy lives of its members who like its easy-going atmosphere and who will miss Vir Den for longer than most men are missed.

On the same day, I read the obituary notice of Hallett Abend who had served the New York Times in China during many years. He was a contemporary of mine in that country and for many years we saw each other daily. Abend had a penchant for scholarship and had he not been diverted to journalism, he might have become a professor of history or Asiatic languages which he mastered with ease. He brought these faculties to reporting and therefore, what he wrote was serious and significant. He, too, died of a heart attack.

Few of those who attempt to report a foreign country succeed in conveying the nature of its people, the character of its historic struggle to the reader. Most foreign correspondents were trained in the tradition that if man bites dog, it is news, when actually the essence of understanding is a knowledge of the usual and the unchangeable. Abend developed a deep and realistic grasp of the nature of the Chinese. In a revolutionary era, when leadership rises from the gutter among a people who are accustomed to the leadership of gentlemen and scholars, understanding was difficult and those American correspondents who saw only the changes and never the permanent, really understood nothing. Abend's genius is that he caught the permanence of China, perhaps the most continuous civilization in the history of man.

And so, the heart gave out among these three and we shall, some of us, pay for another cardiogram and we shall be tapped and blood-pressured and given pills. But what we really need is peace of mind, peace and hope. These alone can save our hearts from the tensions and despairs of our day.

Democrats Talk A Lot But Renege On Congressional Investigations

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — There's one thing the Republicans can usually count on from the Democrats: they yell more than they produce.

Last winter the Democrats, assuming control of Congress, bragged about the probes they were going to stage. Then they got bogged down in the congressional routine, staged no probes, but bragged about the probes they would stage when Congress adjourned.

Came the congressional adjournment. The Dems proceeded to go touring. They flocked all over the globe, from Helsinki to Buenos Aires. They probed the tourist offices, they probed the restaurants, they probed the night clubs — everything except affairs of Congress — and all at government expense. Estes Kefauver, who had promised a big probe of Dixon-Yates and juvenile delinquency took a leisurely loll around Asia—though he's getting down to work on Dixon-Yates this week. Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington who was voted $200,000 for a probe of TV-radio-communications found himself busy in the Northwest.

Some solons have stayed at home and done fine jobs — Senators O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Sparkman of Alabama, Hennings of Missouri, plus Congressmen Manny Celler of New York and Wright Patman of Texas.

But the other widely advertised probes have flopped. Their Democratic chairmen have just been too busy touring or mending political fences.

Little TV Squashed

While Democratic leaders have been castigating the Eisenhower administration about playing up to big business, the Dems in turn have taken a runout powder on protecting one of the most important small business groups in the nation — smaller TV stations.

This nation was built on the principle that any country editor could set up a printing press in any town of his choosing and publish a newspaper at his own risk. Today, the same principle does not apply to one of the great modern mediums of communication — television.

And a few days ago the big-business-minded Federal Communications Commission slapped down the country-editor type TV stations. The little UHF stations had had a chance to compete with the giants of the industry until two weeks ago when the FCC slapped them down with the "deintermixture" decision permitting potent VHF stations to be opened in areas hitherto reserved for small UHF stations, thereby putting them out of business.

"What the commission has done today," said Rosel Hyde, a Republican and former FCChairman, "may deal a death blow to UHF TV service.

"The majority opinion," he said, "is premature, ill-advised and wholly inconsistent."

Commissioner Robert Bartley, Democrat and Sam Rayburn's nephew, agreed with Hyde, Republican. The other Eisenhower-appointed commissioners concurred in the ruling that will probably plow under 100 small UHF stations, and will limit future telecasting to a relatively few big stations.

Freedom To Advertise

Effect of the decision was not unlike having the government tell the little suburban newspapers that flourish on Long Island to move over because the powerful New York Times and Herald Tribune would be given special concessions in that area.

FCC's decision not only affected freedom of communications — modern version for freedom of press — but freedom of business to advertise. For 16 TV stations owned by the major networks brought in 60 per cent of all TV advertising last year. This means that expensive TV advertising has so pre-empted the major stations that little advertisers can't get on the air.

And the ability to advertise is the life-blood of American business.

The men who put this FCC decision across — officially — were Chairman McConnaughey, former lawyer for the Bell telephone interests in Ohio; Commissioner John Doerfer, friend of Senator McCarthy's in Wisconsin; Commissioner R. L. Lee, another pal of McCarthy's and Commissioner Richard A. Mack, the Eisenhower "Republicrat" from Florida.

Unofficially and operating behind the scenes, were network bosses David Sarnoff of NBC and Frank Stanton of CBS. Both talked to Chairman McConnaughey on the side. This brought caustic comment from GOP Commissioner Hyde.

December 15—D-Day

The jittery Federal Communications Commission has now set December 15 as D-Day for the future of educational television.

Having about bumped off small UHF stations, the FCC is under pressure from the networks and from Sol Taishoff, who tries to be unofficial czar of the industry, to take back the channels previously allocated to colleges and universities. Taishoff even wants the FCC to take back some of the TV channels allocated to the military.

All this and more will be debated by the FCC on or after December 15. In fact, the future of television for the next generation may be then decided. The commission has gone through the routine of inviting colleges, educational and public-service groups to send in their views, though the unobtrusive FCC notice in the Federal Register, which few people read, has brought little response.

Meanwhile the Democrats who talk big about protecting little business have done nothing about investigating the forward march of big business on TV communications. Senator Magnuson of Washington, who was voted $200,000 to investigate, is still sojourning on the pleasant shores of Puget Sound, Congressman Joe Evins of Tennessee, also supposed to investigate, can't be enticed out of the mountains of Tennessee.

Proposed UN Package Deal Cited For Immorality

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Rarely in world history has there been such a glaring example of concessions to immorality by a supposedly moral organization as in the proposed acceptance of a "package deal" by the United Nations whereby governments plainly unable to carry out the obligations of the charter are to be admitted as members.

For it now is proposed that the governments of Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Albania and Outer Mongolia, which are puppets under the control of the Soviet Union—itself a partner in the conspiracy of aggression against the free world—shall be accepted in defiance of the provisions of the charter itself.

These provisions state that membership is open "to all peace-loving states which accept the obligations contained in the present charter and which, in the judgment of the present organization, are able and willing to carry out these obligations."

"Obligations" Cited

What are the "obligations?" They are set forth in many articles of the charter. One article says that the organization is based "on the sovereign equality of all its members." Another article says:

"All members shall give the United Nations every assistance in any action it takes in accordance with the provisions of the present charter, and shall refrain from giving assistance to any state against which the United Nations is taking preventive or enforcement action."

The charter is replete with statements of the obligation of members to maintain peace and participate in efforts to achieve peace, and then says:

"A member of the United Nations which has persistently violated the principles contained in the present charter may be expelled from the organization by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council."

The government of Soviet Russia has persistently violated these principles and openly boasted before the General Assembly in 1952 that it had aided North Korea with arms and munitions in the war which the United Nations itself waged against the aggressors. The Soviet Union, being a party to a dispute, could be held ineligible to vote in the Security Council and hence her own veto could not prevent expulsion.

None Independent

The United Nations, moreover, in admitting the governments of the Communist-occupied countries would be compounding the crime against morality by allowing governments that have been deprived of their independence by Soviet Russia to come into the organization on an equality with sovereign governments that are truly independent. None of the five satellite states is independent or capable of acting independently.

Expediency, which has always been the cancer that has ruined good statesmanship in both national and international affairs, is, however, being extolled nowadays by those who argue that the only way to bring into the U. N. the several non-Communist governments, such as those in Italy and Japan—13 of them in all—is to appease Moscow and make a "deal" whereby no objection will be made by the West to the admission of the Communist governments provided the Soviet doesn't veto the admission of the non-Communist states.

This is nothing less than blackmail. Yet there are those who favor it, including officials of the American government. If there ever was a time when moral principle required an objection to the admission of the additional Communist states, it is today. The cause of peace would be uplified by rejecting the expediency which demands a "deal" and brushes idealism and morality aside. It would be far better to let the Soviet use the veto and keep some peace-loving nations out than to surrender on principle.

It would be far better, too, to uphold the basic provisions of the charter and consider the expulsion from the U. N. of the obstructive Communist states, including Soviet Russia. Then membership in the United Nations would be worth something. Then, also, the many well-intentioned American groups which laud the United Nations as an organization representing a great advance toward achieving world peace would not have to hold their heads in shame as they teach the school children of America that the U. N. is based on international morality.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Looks like Moscow has leapfrogged the Baghdad pact. And is after the shuffle-board and hourglass concessions in the Sahara.

The Democrats insist our foreign policy has been kicked around like a cuspidor in a bar-room brawl.

Republicans claim the policy is Roosevelt's warmed-over panaceas and miracle drugs. They're just doing a little shoe-polishing in the political boot hill.

They horsed us around in Geneva like a cowboy in a rodeo. Moscow extended the right hand of a card-sharper.

That also happened at Yalta, Teheran and points east. What we suffer from is under-staffed diplomacy and over-stuffed portfolios.

But there's no sense of the pot calling the kettle black when everything is cooked on the same stove.

(Distributed by INS)

Inside Washington

By Central Press

WASHINGTON — Politics and legislation, both of the controversial variety, will dominate the second session of the 84th Congress which convenes January 3.

The Democratic-controlled House and Senate will meet with an eye on the 1956 November elections when a president, 435 representatives and 32 senators will be chosen.

Both parties will be trying to "set a record" which can be used during the campaign. Of special concern to Democratic leaders is passage of a tax cut and while the administration has not announced definitely its intention on this point, a similar GOP effort is likely.

Heading the Republican "must" list is balancing the budget. The GOP figures this will be a potent talking point, if it can be accomplished. The target date is June 30 when the government fiscal years ends.

In his message on the State of the Union, which the President will probably deliver January 4, Mr. Eisenhower is expected to ask Congress for enactment of nine items on a list of 13 pieces of legislation which he enumerated at his news conference last June 29.

These have to do with highway construction, military survivors' benefits, health insurance, school construction, amendment of the refugee act, water resources, customs simplification, construction of an atomic peace ship, and statehood for Hawaii.

Some Major Legislation

The remaining legislation on the President's list has been enacted in one form or another. This legislation had to do with military reserves, public housing, foreign aid and an increase in minimum wages from 75 cents to $1 an hour.

However, there are five, possibly six, pieces of major legislation which the President did not enumerate, but which are very much in the minds of the legislators.

In addition to a tax cut, these have to do with revision of the farm support laws, increase and expansion of social security benefits, flood control, curtailment of federal control over natural gas production, and, possibly, revision of the Constitution to restrict the President's treaty-making powers.

While much of the legislation the President wants is controversial, the Democrats are determined to be "constructive." In other words, the Democrats will not oppose legislation merely because it is sponsored by a Republican administration.

Once the new session opens, no time will be lost by the Democratic leadership in pushing through a tax cut bill. Democrats favor an increase in individual income tax exemptions from the present $600 to $700. This would remove an estimated five million low-income taxpayers from the tax rolls. The administration, it is rumored, will come up with an across-the-board cut, with the same percentage slash applying to everyone.

Party Lines Will Split

The administration's most determined effort in the field of legislation will probably be to obtain enactment of a highway construction program and authority to construct an atom-powered merchant ship that would tour the world on a peace mission.

New farm legislation will also bring on a major controversy in the new session. The house has enacted a bill to restore 90 per cent rigid farm supports in place of the administration-backed flexible price supports. The administration may come up with a plan to pay farmers who agree not to plant certain crops. This would be in the interest of keeping down farm surpluses.

Some legislation will split party lines. Notably in this category is the Harris natural gas bill which the House approved by five-vote margin. The legislation would limit the government's authority to control prices paid for natural gas at the wellhead. Opponents threaten a filibuster in an attempt is made to jam it through the Senate.

In one field the new session will be as equally free of partisan controversy as it was in the past. That is in foreign affairs. However, when it comes to domestic legislation, no holds will be barred, for the stakes are very high.

Aftermath Of Auto Crash May Last For Years

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

When an auto strikes an immovable object such as a tree or bridge, the sequence is as follows: The car stops first; then, for a split second thereafter, the passengers travel another foot or two from the seat toward the dashboard, windshield, steering wheel, or whatever is in front of them.

The longer it takes to decelerate, the less the impact. Safety engineers consider this fact when designing new cars. Anything that slows down the individual as he flies through space will act as a shock absorber to minimize the blow when the stop finally comes. In this respect, every extra inch counts.

The cushioning material on the dashboard and the pliable windshield are useful for this purpose. The cone-shaped steering wheel gives the driver an extra six to eight inches of forward motion before he strikes the shaft of the steering wheel. These safety devices will not reduce crashes but they help us to escape death or serious injury.

Several days ago I saw a familiar picture of an accident scene with steel, tires, and people strewn about. One of the passengers was unhurt but the other appeared to be in shock or dead. I learned later that one succumbed on reaching the hospital. The final count was one unhurt, three seriously injured, and three dead.

The newspapers played up the fatalities but, in my opinion, the survivors should have made the headlines. They will spend months or years in the hospital while their wounds heal or bones mend. Some will need plastic surgery; others, daily physical therapy to learn how to walk or use their arms again.

Some will be left scarred or crippled for life. This is what a mutilated victim meant when she said, "My husband was luckier than I; he was killed instantly." This is only part of the story. Most of the survivors can look forward to spending days and weeks in court settling litigation.

There are many other after effects of traffic crashes. From the psychological aspect the individual may feel shaky and uneasy on driving again. When the person is left with a residual arthritis in the extremities and back, he is likely to suffer whenever the weather changes or he overexerts; it is an effort to move in bed or get out of a chair.

Moreover, the injuries encountered during an accident often aggravate existing disorders. A mild arthritis of the knees, for example, may progress to a severe incapacitating form.

TOMORROW: Candidates for plugged blood vessels.

TIGHT JAWS

G. W. writes: When I begin to eat, the muscles of my jaw feel tight. This sensation passes as I continue the meal. Have you any explanation?

REPLY

You may have a rheumatic condition of the jaws.

LID CLOSURE

S. P. writes: Why is is impossible to keep the eyes open while sneezing?

REPLY

This is part of the sneezing reflex.

PERFORATED ULCER

F. C. writes: What happens when a duodenal ulcer ruptures?

REPLY

The contents of the stomach, including its acid, pour into the abdominal cavity producing a chemical peritonitis. When this occurs, the patient may say it feels as though he had been kicked in the abdomen by a horse or an elephant. Any movement aggravates pain, hence the victim refuses to budge and must be transported to the hospital via ambulance for surgery.

HOME URINALYSIS

L. A. writes: Can a person learn to test his own urine?

REPLY

Yes. Most diabetics learn to test for sugar. There is no need for the average person to do a complete urinalysis because expensive equipment is required and the results must be interpreted and evaluated by a physician.

HIBERNATION

L. S. writes: What is refrigeration anesthesia?

REPLY

In this procedure, cold is used to produce anesthesia. When amputation is contemplated, for example, the gangrenous extremity is packed in ice and after the tissues are frozen the incision is made. Refrigeration anesthesia also is employed in heart surgery. The temperature is lowered until the entire body is in a state of hibernation. When this stage is reached, the blood needs of the more distant organs are reduced to such an extent that the heart can be opened without affecting the circulation to these structures.

HERPES AFTER PAIN

Mrs. E. writes: What is postherpetic neuralgia?

REPLY

Herpetic refers to herpes (shingles) and post means after. The term denotes a residual neuralgia-like pain that follows an attack of shingles. This complication is more common in older persons, persisting in some instances for many months.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Deilen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Shelley Winters is telling about a young lover who assured his disgruntled fiancee, "If you think that engagement ring is too dinky, you should have seen the one I could afford!"

During Malenkov's abortive campaign to provide more consumer goods for the Russian people, a farmer—fed up with empty promises—had the nerve to demand in an open meeting, "Where is the white flour and the new shoes they have been promising us?"

"What's your name?" countered the commissar. "Petrovsky," said the foxy farmer.

"Okay, Comrade, I will answer your question at our next meeting."

The next meeting had scarcely gotten underway when the farmer's voice was heard. "I know," said the commissar. "You want to know what's happened to the white flour and the new shoes."

"No, Comrade," was the reply. "I want to know what's happened to Comrade Petrovsky?"

Treaty To Outlaw A- And H-Bomb?

It is widely asserted that even if a new major war should break out, atomic or hydrogen bombs would be shunned by each side. No matter how much devastation would be wrought by the first nation using them, it would realize that then they would be unloaded on it in turn.

So why not outlaw the use of the bombs by international treaty? is a question often asked. Skeptics reply that any such treaty would mean little or nothing, and to justify their skepticism they point to the story of treaties on the use of submarines, poison gas and germs in war.

At the Washington armament limitation conference of 1921-22 a proposal was made to outlaw the use of submarines altogether in war. France would not agree, so a treaty was drawn up merely restricting their use. Even this was ineffective because France failed to ratify it.

The restrictions in the 1922 treaty were finally embodied in agreements accepted by France, Britain, Japan, Italy and the U. S. in 1930 and again in 1936. Then Germany subscribed, but in World War II submarines were used by both sides without restrictions.

The Washington conference gave birth also to a treaty outlawing poison gas in war, which again France failed to ratify. An international protocol of 1925 outlawing both poison gas and "bacteriological methods of warfare" was opposed by U. S. defense leaders as unrealistic, and the Senate failed to ratify it. It was binding on other nations, including Russia and Germany, that accepted it, but was it more of a deterrent than the facilities amassed for retaliating against any state violating it?

Then All Of A Sudden It's Christmas

These Days

The Heart Gives Out

I have just returned from the requiem services for Julie Pegler, the wife of Westbrook Pegler and his constant companion. She died of a heart attack which does not explain it all. Strain, tension, anxiety — these are ailments of the mind and spirit and often trouble those who are most concerned with the affairs of the world and the downward path of mankind. Such a woman as Julie Pegler must have cared deeply for her fellow-man or she wouldn't have been so deeply moved by his present plight.

The relations of Westbrook Pegler and his wife always interest his colleagues because of the obvious freedom in their companionship and their profound understanding of each other. Peg seems to all the world to be a hard man who hits others with a loaded club; to me he has always appeared to be a sentimentalist, a humanitarian, one who sought virtues in man which were not there, one who was bitterly disappointed when he discovered that even his idols have clay feet. His sentimentality is undoubtedly a heritage from his Irish ancestors but also comes from his close association with Julie Pegler, as fine a character among women as could be found anywhere.

On this same day, I read that my friend Ray Vir Den died, also of a heart ailment. Ray was young and full of life — an idealist who could work himself into real anger over the turpitude of public officials. He must have been brought up to believe in the honesty of men, for he never could quite get over the things he discovered in public life. The son of a missionary minister who went from Indiana to Oklahoma to preach the gospel, Ray believed in the essential goodness in man, otherwise he could not have been so shocked by his degeneration.

As president of the Dutch Treat Club, he followed the tradition set by Clarence Budington Kelland, which was to speak without fear, insulting regularly those who had grown important in their own eyes and stuffy in the eyes of onlookers. No one was ever publicly annoyed by Ray Vir Den's comments although some, on their return to privacy, must have wondered whether what he said, might not be exactly true. Somehow, this man, who tried hard to be a buffoon, could not help becoming a conscience.

Few men who pass away will be more remembered, for his was a charming personality as ungracious as he tried to make it. For this man, as hard as he pretended to be, many men had a deep affection and respect. The Dutch Treat Club in New York serves to provide an interlude in the busy lives of its members who like its easy-going atmosphere and who will miss Vir Den for longer than most men are missed.

On the same day, I read the obituary notice of Hallett Abend who had served the New York Times in China during many years. He was a contemporary of mine in that country and for many years we saw each other daily. Abend had a penchant for scholarship and had he not been diverted to journalism, he might have become a professor of history or Asiatic languages which he mastered with ease. He brought these faculties to reporting and therefore, what he wrote was serious and significant. He, too, died of a heart attack.

Few of those who attempt to report a foreign country succeed in conveying the nature of its people, the character of its historic struggle to the reader. Most foreign correspondents were trained in the tradition that if man bites dog, it is news, when actually the essence of understanding is a knowledge of the usual and the unchangeable. Abend developed a deep and realistic grasp of the nature of the Chinese. In a revolutionary era, when leadership rises from the gutter among a people who are accustomed to the leadership of gentlemen and scholars, understanding was difficult and those American correspondents who saw only the changes and never the permanent, really understood nothing. Abend's genius is that he caught the permanence of China, perhaps the most continuous civilization in the history of man.

And so, the heart gave out among these three and we shall, some of us, pay for another cardiogram and we shall be tapped and blood-pressured and given pills. But what we really need is peace of mind, peace and hope. These alone can save our hearts from the tensions and despairs of our day.

Democrats Talk A Lot But Renege On Congressional Investigations

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — There's one thing the Republicans can usually count on from the Democrats: they yell more than they produce.

Last winter the Democrats, assuming control of Congress, bragged about the probes they were going to stage. Then they got bogged down in the congressional routine, staged no probes, but bragged about the probes they would stage when Congress adjourned.

Came the congressional adjournment. The Dems proceeded to go touring. They flocked all over the globe, from Helsinki to Buenos Aires. They probed the tourist offices, they probed the restaurants, they probed the night clubs — everything except affairs of Congress — and all at government expense. Estes Kefauver, who had promised a big probe of Dixon-Yates and juvenile delinquency took a leisurely loll around Asia—though he's getting down to work on Dixon-Yates this week. Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington who was voted $200,000 for a probe of TV-radio-communications found himself busy in the Northwest.

Some solons have stayed at home and done fine jobs — Senators O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Sparkman of Alabama, Hennings of Missouri, plus Congressmen Manny Celler of New York and Wright Patman of Texas.

But the other widely advertised probes have flopped. Their Democratic chairmen have just been too busy touring or mending political fences.

Little TV Squashed

While Democratic leaders have been castigating the Eisenhower administration about playing up to big business, the Dems in turn have taken a runout powder on protecting one of the most important small business groups in the nation — smaller TV stations.

This nation was built on the principle that any country editor could set up a printing press in any town of his choosing and publish a newspaper at his own risk. Today, the same principle does not apply to one of the great modern mediums of communication — television.

And a few days ago the big-business-minded Federal Communications Commission slapped down the country-editor type TV stations. The little UHF stations had had a chance to compete with the giants of the industry until two weeks ago when the FCC slapped them down with the "deintermixture" decision permitting potent VHF stations to be opened in areas hitherto reserved for small UHF stations, thereby putting them out of business.

"What the commission has done today," said Rosel Hyde, a Republican and former FCChairman, "may deal a death blow to UHF TV service.

"The majority opinion," he said, "is premature, ill-advised and wholly inconsistent."

Commissioner Robert Bartley, Democrat and Sam Rayburn's nephew, agreed with Hyde, Republican. The other Eisenhower-appointed commissioners concurred in the ruling that will probably plow under 100 small UHF stations, and will limit future telecasting to a relatively few big stations.

Freedom To Advertise

Effect of the decision was not unlike having the government tell the little suburban newspapers that flourish on Long Island to move over because the powerful New York Times and Herald Tribune would be given special concessions in that area.

FCC's decision not only affected freedom of communications — modern version for freedom of press — but freedom of business to advertise. For 16 TV stations owned by the major networks brought in 60 per cent of all TV advertising last year. This means that expensive TV advertising has so pre-empted the major stations that little advertisers can't get on the air.

And the ability to advertise is the life-blood of American business.

The men who put this FCC decision across — officially — were Chairman McConnaughey, former lawyer for the Bell telephone interests in Ohio; Commissioner John Doerfer, friend of Senator McCarthy's in Wisconsin; Commissioner R. L. Lee, another pal of McCarthy's and Commissioner Richard A. Mack, the Eisenhower "Republicrat" from Florida.

Unofficially and operating behind the scenes, were network bosses David Sarnoff of NBC and Frank Stanton of CBS. Both talked to Chairman McConnaughey on the side. This brought caustic comment from GOP Commissioner Hyde.

December 15—D-Day

The jittery Federal Communications Commission has now set December 15 as D-Day for the future of educational television.

Having about bumped off small UHF stations, the FCC is under pressure from the networks and from Sol Taishoff, who tries to be unofficial czar of the industry, to take back the channels previously allocated to colleges and universities. Taishoff even wants the FCC to take back some of the TV channels allocated to the military.

All this and more will be debated by the FCC on or after December 15. In fact, the future of television for the next generation may be then decided. The commission has gone through the routine of inviting colleges, educational and public-service groups to send in their views, though the unobtrusive FCC notice in the Federal Register, which few people read, has brought little response.

Meanwhile the Democrats who talk big about protecting little business have done nothing about investigating the forward march of big business on TV communications. Senator Magnuson of Washington, who was voted $200,000 to investigate, is still sojourning on the pleasant shores of Puget Sound, Congressman Joe Evins of Tennessee, also supposed to investigate, can't be enticed out of the mountains of Tennessee.

Proposed UN Package Deal Cited For Immorality

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Rarely in world history has there been such a glaring example of concessions to immorality by a supposedly moral organization as in the proposed acceptance of a "package deal" by the United Nations whereby governments plainly unable to carry out the obligations of the charter are to be admitted as members.

For it now is proposed that the governments of Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Albania and Outer Mongolia, which are puppets under the control of the Soviet Union—itself a partner in the conspiracy of aggression against the free world—shall be accepted in defiance of the provisions of the charter itself.

These provisions state that membership is open "to all peace-loving states which accept the obligations contained in the present charter and which, in the judgment of the present organization, are able and willing to carry out these obligations."

"Obligations" Cited

What are the "obligations?" They are set forth in many articles of the charter. One article says that the organization is based "on the sovereign equality of all its members." Another article says:

"All members shall give the United Nations every assistance in any action it takes in accordance with the provisions of the present charter, and shall refrain from giving assistance to any state against which the United Nations is taking preventive or enforcement action."

The charter is replete with statements of the obligation of members to maintain peace and participate in efforts to achieve peace, and then says:

"A member of the United Nations which has persistently violated the principles contained in the present charter may be expelled from the organization by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council."

The government of Soviet Russia has persistently violated these principles and openly boasted before the General Assembly in 1952 that it had aided North Korea with arms and munitions in the war which the United Nations itself waged against the aggressors. The Soviet Union, being a party to a dispute, could be held ineligible to vote in the Security Council and hence her own veto could not prevent expulsion.

None Independent

The United Nations, moreover, in admitting the governments of the Communist-occupied countries would be compounding the crime against morality by allowing governments that have been deprived of their independence by Soviet Russia to come into the organization on an equality with sovereign governments that are truly independent. None of the five satellite states is independent or capable of acting independently.

Expediency, which has always been the cancer that has ruined good statesmanship in both national and international affairs, is, however, being extolled nowadays by those who argue that the only way to bring into the U. N. the several non-Communist governments, such as those in Italy and Japan—13 of them in all—is to appease Moscow and make a "deal" whereby no objection will be made by the West to the admission of the Communist governments provided the Soviet doesn't veto the admission of the non-Communist states.

This is nothing less than blackmail. Yet there are those who favor it, including officials of the American government. If there ever was a time when moral principle required an objection to the admission of the additional Communist states, it is today. The cause of peace would be uplified by rejecting the expediency which demands a "deal" and brushes idealism and morality aside. It would be far better to let the Soviet use the veto and keep some peace-loving nations out than to surrender on principle.

It would be far better, too, to uphold the basic provisions of the charter and consider the expulsion from the U. N. of the obstructive Communist states, including Soviet Russia. Then membership in the United Nations would be worth something. Then, also, the many well-intentioned American groups which laud the United Nations as an organization representing a great advance toward achieving world peace would not have to hold their heads in shame as they teach the school children of America that the U. N. is based on international morality.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Looks like Moscow has leapfrogged the Baghdad pact. And is after the shuffle-board and hourglass concessions in the Sahara.

The Democrats insist our foreign policy has been kicked around like a cuspidor in a bar-room brawl.

Republicans claim the policy is Roosevelt's warmed-over panaceas and miracle drugs. They're just doing a little shoe-polishing in the political boot hill.

They horsed us around in Geneva like a cowboy in a rodeo. Moscow extended the right hand of a card-sharper.

That also happened at Yalta, Teheran and points east. What we suffer from is under-staffed diplomacy and over-stuffed portfolios.

But there's no sense of the pot calling the kettle black when everything is cooked on the same stove.

Inside Washington

By Central Press

WASHINGTON — Politics and legislation, both of the controversial variety, will dominate the second session of the 84th Congress which convenes January 3.

The Democratic-controlled House and Senate will meet with an eye on the 1956 November elections when a president, 435 representatives and 32 senators will be chosen.

Both parties will be trying to "set a record" which can be used during the campaign. Of special concern to Democratic leaders is passage of a tax cut and while the administration has not announced definitely its intention on this point, a similar GOP effort is likely.

Heading the Republican "must" list is balancing the budget. The GOP figures this will be a potent talking point, if it can be accomplished. The target date is June 30 when the government fiscal years ends.

In his message on the State of the Union, which the President will probably deliver January 4, Mr. Eisenhower is expected to ask Congress for enactment of nine items on a list of 13 pieces of legislation which he enumerated at his news conference last June 29.

These have to do with highway construction, military survivors' benefits, health insurance, school construction, amendment of the refugee act, water resources, customs simplification, construction of an atomic peace ship, and statehood for Hawaii.

Some Major Legislation

The remaining legislation on the President's list has been enacted in one form or another. This legislation had to do with military reserves, public housing, foreign aid and an increase in minimum wages from 75 cents to $1 an hour.

However, there are five, possibly six, pieces of major legislation which the President did not enumerate, but which are very much in the minds of the legislators.

In addition to a tax cut, these have to do with revision of the farm support laws, increase and expansion of social security benefits, flood control, curtailment of federal control over natural gas production, and, possibly, revision of the Constitution to restrict the President's treaty-making powers.

While much of the legislation the President wants is controversial, the Democrats are determined to be "constructive." In other words, the Democrats will not oppose legislation merely because it is sponsored by a Republican administration.

Once the new session opens, no time will be lost by the Democratic leadership in pushing through a tax cut bill. Democrats favor an increase in individual income tax exemptions from the present $600 to $700. This would remove an estimated five million low-income taxpayers from the tax rolls. The administration, it is rumored, will come up with an across-the-board cut, with the same percentage slash applying to everyone.

Party Lines Will Split

The administration's most determined effort in the field of legislation will probably be to obtain enactment of a highway construction program and authority to construct an atom-powered merchant ship that would tour the world on a peace mission.

New farm legislation will also bring on a major controversy in the new session. The house has enacted a bill to restore 90 per cent rigid farm supports in place of the administration-backed flexible price supports. The administration may come up with a plan to pay farmers who agree not to plant certain crops. This would be in the interest of keeping down farm surpluses.

Some legislation will split party lines. Notably in this category is the Harris natural gas bill which the House approved by five-vote margin. The legislation would limit the government's authority to control prices paid for natural gas at the wellhead. Opponents threaten a filibuster in an attempt is made to jam it through the Senate.

In one field the new session will be as equally free of partisan controversy as it was in the past. That is in foreign affairs. However, when it comes to domestic legislation, no holds will be barred, for the stakes are very high.

Aftermath Of Auto Crash May Last For Years

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

When an auto strikes an immovable object such as a tree or bridge, the sequence is as follows: The car stops first; then, for a split second thereafter, the passengers travel another foot or two from the seat toward the dashboard, windshield, steering wheel, or whatever is in front of them.

The longer it takes to decelerate, the less the impact. Safety engineers consider this fact when designing new cars. Anything that slows down the individual as he flies through space will act as a shock absorber to minimize the blow when the stop finally comes. In this respect, every extra inch counts.

The cushioning material on the dashboard and the pliable windshield are useful for this purpose. The cone-shaped steering wheel gives the driver an extra six to eight inches of forward motion before he strikes the shaft of the steering wheel. These safety devices will not reduce crashes but they help us to escape death or serious injury.

Several days ago I saw a familiar picture of an accident scene with steel, tires, and people strewn about. One of the passengers was unhurt but the other appeared to be in shock or dead. I learned later that one succumbed on reaching the hospital. The final count was one unhurt, three seriously injured, and three dead.

The newspapers played up the fatalities but, in my opinion, the survivors should have made the headlines. They will spend months or years in the hospital while their wounds heal or bones mend. Some will need plastic surgery; others, daily physical therapy to learn how to walk or use their arms again.

Some will be left scarred or crippled for life. This is what a mutilated victim meant when she said, "My husband was luckier than I; he was killed instantly." This is only part of the story. Most of the survivors can look forward to spending days and weeks in court settling litigation.

There are many other after effects of traffic crashes. From the psychological aspect the individual may feel shaky and uneasy on driving again. When the person is left with a residual arthritis in the extremities and back, he is likely to suffer whenever the weather changes or he overexerts; it is an effort to move in bed or get out of a chair.

Moreover, the injuries encountered during an accident often aggravate existing disorders. A mild arthritis of the knees, for example, may progress to a severe incapacitating form.

TIGHT JAWS

G. W. writes: When I begin to eat, the muscles of my jaw feel tight. This sensation passes as I continue the meal. Have you any explanation?

REPLY

You may have a rheumatic condition of the jaws.

LID CLOSURE

S. P. writes: Why is is impossible to keep the eyes open while sneezing?

REPLY

This is part of the sneezing reflex.

PERFORATED ULCER

F. C. writes: What happens when a duodenal ulcer ruptures?

REPLY

The contents of the stomach, including its acid, pour into the abdominal cavity producing a chemical peritonitis. When this occurs, the patient may say it feels as though he had been kicked in the abdomen by a horse or an elephant. Any movement aggravates pain, hence the victim refuses to budge and must be transported to the hospital via ambulance for surgery.

HOME URINALYSIS

L. A. writes: Can a person learn to test his own urine?

REPLY

Yes. Most diabetics learn to test for sugar. There is no need for the average person to do a complete urinalysis because expensive equipment is required and the results must be interpreted and evaluated by a physician.

HIBERNATION

L. S. writes: What is refrigeration anesthesia?

REPLY

In this procedure, cold is used to produce anesthesia. When amputation is contemplated, for example, the gangrenous extremity is packed in ice and after the tissues are frozen the incision is made. Refrigeration anesthesia also is employed in heart surgery. The temperature is lowered until the entire body is in a state of hibernation. When this stage is reached, the blood needs of the more distant organs are reduced to such an extent that the heart can be opened without affecting the circulation to these structures.

HERPES AFTER PAIN

Mrs. E. writes: What is postherpetic neuralgia?

REPLY

Herpetic refers to herpes (shingles) and post means after. The term denotes a residual neuralgia-like pain that follows an attack of shingles. This complication is more common in older persons, persisting in some instances for many months.

Due to the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Deilen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Shelley Winters is telling about a young lover who assured his disgruntled fiancee, "If you think that engagement ring is too dinky, you should have seen the one I could afford!"

During Malenkov's abortive campaign to provide more consumer goods for the Russian people, a farmer—fed up with empty promises—had the nerve to demand in an open meeting, "Where is the white flour and the new shoes they have been promising us?"

"What's your name?" countered the commissar. "Petrovsky," said the foxy farmer.

"Okay, Comrade, I will answer your question at our next meeting."

The next meeting had scarcely gotten underway when the farmer's voice was heard. "I know," said the commissar. "You want to know what's happened to the white flour and the new shoes."

"No, Comrade," was the reply, "I want to know what's happened to Comrade Petrovsky?"

Parsons Man Retires From Naval Service

"Spike" Menefee Served 30 Years

PARSONS—Navy Chief Hospital corpsman, Harry Frederick Menefee, son of Ernest Menefee of Parsons has retired from active duty after 30 years of naval service. He retires as a lieutenant junior grade in the Hospital corps, a rank he held during 1945 and 1946.

Menefee was retired in ceremonies held aboard Chief Menefee's last ship, the destroyer USS Orleck, in San Diego, Calif. harbor. Following lunch with the ship's commanding officer and executive officer, the chief was piped over the side as fellow chief petty officers acted as sideboys and was taken ashore in an officer's motor boat supplied by the destroyer tender USS Dixie.

Menefee, best known throughout his naval career as "Spike" Menefee, entered the Navy in 1925 at Washington. He served aboard the Orleck for the past 17 months, having specifically requested duty aboard a destroyer to round out a sea going career during which he had served in practically all other types of naval surface vessels.

He saw action during the invasions of Salerno, Italy in 1943, Normandy and Southern France in 1944 and the East China Sea Island of Okinawa in 1945.

During the war years Menefee's closest escape from death came in January 1942 while serving in the western Pacific aboard the fleet oiler USS Neches. The Neches was torpedoed and sunk by a Japanese submarine about 135 miles west of the Hawaiian Island, Oahu. Menefee was picked up by the U. S. Destroyer Jarvis after being in the water about nine hours. He was one of only approximately one-third of the ship's crew to survive the ship's sinking. For this action he later was awarded the Purple Heart medal.

Menefee's first naval service was at Naval Training Station, Hampton Roads, Va., after which he attended the Pharmacist Mate School at Portsmouth. From there he was assigned to the mine sweeper USS Swan and later served at the U. S. Naval Radio Station at Porte Obaldia in the Republic of Panama.

For three years during World War II Menefee served in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters aboard the attack transport USS Barnett. Later, he went to San Diego to serve for three and one half years as an instructor at the Hospital Corps School. From there he went to the Marine Corps Rifle Range at Puloa Point, Oahu and later returned to the San Diego Hospital Corps school for two and one half year's duty as an instructor and chief master-at-arms.

Menefee became a Chief Petty Officer in 1940 and was appointed a Warrant Officer in 1942, was commissioned to the temporary grade of Ensign in the Hospital Corps in 1943, was promoted to lieutenant junior grade in 1945 and reverted to Chief Petty Officer in 1946.

Wed In France

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Lowery of Ellerslie have announced the marriage of their son, 1st Lt. Richard Lowery to Margaret Vandois of Metz, France. Lt. Lowery is a graduate of Allegany High School, Cumberland, and worked at the Keyser shops of the B&O Railroad before enlisting in the Army. He attended OCS at Fort Benning, Ga. and was commissioned before going overseas. The newlyweds are looking forward to making their home in the United States when he concludes his tour of duty in June 1957.

Kreiling Heads BHS Alumni

FROSTBURG — Mayo Kreiling has been elected to head the Beall High School Alumni Association for the coming year. Other officers who will serve with him include Mrs. Rae Pugh, vice president; Mrs. Harriet Horner, secretary; James Evans, treasurer; Leslie Kreider, publicity; and Mrs. Anna Tranum, corresponding secretary.

Elected to the Executive Board were Annetta Hamill Gerson, four years; Mrs. Florence Hill, three years; Joseph Struntz, two years, and Katherine Close, one year. To be elgible for a position on this board, the person must be a past president.

The following activities for the past year are listed in the annual report: A trophy was presented to the Beall High School basketball team who were the champions of the WMI League for 1955; 13 sweaters were presented to the individual members of the championship team; a school directory was purchased and presented to the school and has been permanently mounted in the main hall of the school; the 1955 reunion of Beall High grads was planned and held in June, 1955; $100 dollars was presented to the Band Boosters to be used for the purchase of new uniforms for the band; joined the $10-Dollar-A-Year Club supporting the band; held the all-senior letter dinner at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church honoring seniors who had won or earned letters during their senior year; adding 56 new members to the alumni association bringing the total membership up to 1,250.

The next meeting of the association will be held December 11 in City Hall at 2 p. m. This will be the final meeting to be presided over by the retiring officers.

FTA Council Is Proposed

FROSTBURG — The Future Teachers of America of State Teachers College met Tuesday in the college dining room to discuss possible plans of forming an FTA Council comprised of representatives from FTA organizations in schools west of and including Flintstone.

A steering committee headed by Mrs. Jack Snyder, who will act as the faculty advisor, was formulated to draw up the permanent council.

Mrs. Margaret Zembower will serve as temporary chairman, assisted by Laura Jean House, corresponding secretary. The other members on the steering committee are; Anna Mae Bishop and Rosalie Llewellyn from Valley High School; Marion Rice and Thomas Bible, Flintstone; Dorothy Aldridge and Laura Jean House, Mt. Savage High School; Connie Rephann, Darlene Pope and Susan Shook, Beall High School; Marjorie Lewis and Lois Lee, Allegany High School.

A movie entitled "Freedom To Learn" was shown and refreshments were served.

WHS To Meet

WESTERNPORT — The WHS of the First Baptist Church will meet at the church Friday at 11 a. m. for the World Day of Prayer. Each will bring a box lunch.

Legion Boosts Safer Driving Effort Today

KEYSER — Four Legionnaires, representing Boyce-Houser Post No. 41, American Legion, Keyser, will cooperate, in behalf of the post, with the W. Va. State Police of the Keyser detachment today on Safe Driving Day activities. Those selected for this service are C. S. Briley, Estes Sharpes, Fred Kitzmiller and Luther Kephart, who will ride with the State Police on their routine trips over the county highways and observe the happenings of the police.

Safe Driving Day was established by Presidential Proclamation last year and sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety.

It is the hope of the Legion that all motorists will not only observe safe driving on this day, but on every day throughout the year, and remember that "The Life You Save May Be Your Own."

Augusta Forms New Volunteer Fire Company

ROMNEY — Hampshire County's newest volunteer fire company was organized at Augusta recently with 23 members who were assisted in their organization by three officials, Roy Smith, Henry Powell and Roy Keister from the Romney Volunteer Fire Company.

The following officers were elected: president, Harley Myers; vice president, Harry Smith; recording secretary, Cecil Smith; financial secretary and treasurer, Ralph Combs; fire chief, Harry Riley; first assistant chief, Leo Combs; second assistant chief, Oran Wolfe; sergeant-at-arms, Frank Tutwiler, and chaplain, Earl Loy. Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bittner

Lonaconing Couple Holds Reception At Firemen's Hall

The bride is the former Miss Shirley Marie Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Green, Lonaconing. The wedding took place on Saturday, November 19, at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church with the Rev. George Wehler, pastor, performing the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a ballerina length wedding gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta, a fingertip length veil and carried a white Bible with orchid marker.

Her matron-of-honor was Mrs. Shirley Jean Werner, who was attired in a yellow nylon tulle over taffeta gown with fitted bodice and matching hat and shoes and carried a white Bible with pine tea roses streamers.

Robert Werner was best man. The bride's mother was attired in a light blue dress with a corsage of white carnations.

At the wedding reception which followed, Miss Pauline Winters, Miss Beulah Cutter, Miss Larna Cutter and Miss Audrey Cutter were hostesses. Pink and white decorations were used in the color scheme.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fritz, William and Phillip Whiteman of Baltimore attended the wedding.

Mrs. Bittner is a graduate of Central High School, class of 1953. Bittner is a graduate of Grantsville High School, class of 1952. They are residing at 255 East Main Street, Frostburg.

Keyser Home Economics Class Enters Competition

Produced State Winner Last Year

KEYSER — The class in home economics, at Keyser High School, with Mrs. Mildred Thompson, teacher, has been entered in the National Homemaker Of Tomorrow contest to be observed on December 6. Keyser thus will join with approximately 256,534 students who will graduate in the spring in 10,222 high schools in this country with a test of aptitude for a career in the home economics field and homemaking.

A year ago, a Keyser High School graduate, Miss Jean Kight, entered and won in the preliminaries and later was awarded the West Virginia "Homemaker of Tomorrow" title, after advancing to the state contest. She continued to the national test finals held in Philadelphia, where she won a four-year college scholarship.

The Homemaker of Tomorrow contest is sponsored by General Mills with $100,000 in scholarship awards to assist in high school homemaking education. A year ago 187,463 high school girls were enrolled in the contest, representing 8,050 high schools. Of this number, 3,086 girls enrolled in 109 high schools in West Virginia participated.

The 48 state winners and the winner of the District of Columbia will be guests of General Mills and will make a tour of Washington, Williamsburg, Va. and Philadelphia April 8-11.

Parsons Man Retires From Naval Service

"Spike" Menefee Served 30 Years

PARSONS—Navy Chief Hospital corpsman, Harry Frederick Menefee, son of Ernest Menefee of Parsons has retired from active duty after 30 years of naval service. He retires as a lieutenant junior grade in the Hospital corps, a rank he held during 1945 and 1946.

Menefee was retired in ceremonies held aboard Chief Menefee's last ship, the destroyer USS Orleck, in San Diego, Calif. harbor. Following lunch with the ship's commanding officer and executive officer, the chief was piped over the side as fellow chief petty officers acted as sideboys and was taken ashore in an officer's motor boat supplied by the destroyer tender USS Dixie.

Menefee, best known throughout his naval career as "Spike" Menefee, entered the Navy in 1925 at Washington. He served aboard the Orleck for the past 17 months, having specifically requested duty aboard a destroyer to round out a sea going career during which he had served in practically all other types of naval surface vessels.

He saw action during the invasions of Salerno, Italy in 1943, Normandy and Southern France in 1944 and the East China Sea Island of Okinawa in 1945.

During the war years Menefee's closest escape from death came in January 1942 while serving in the western Pacific aboard the fleet oiler USS Neches. The Neches was torpedoed and sunk by a Japanese submarine about 135 miles west of the Hawaiian Island, Oahu. Menefee was picked up by the U. S. Destroyer Jarvis after being in the water about nine hours. He was one of only approximately one-third of the ship's crew to survive the ship's sinking. For this action he later was awarded the Purple Heart medal.

Menefee's first naval service was at Naval Training Station, Hampton Roads, Va., after which he attended the Pharmacist Mate School at Portsmouth. From there he was assigned to the mine sweeper USS Swan and later served at the U. S. Naval Radio Station at Porte Obaldia in the Republic of Panama.

For three years during World War II Menefee served in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters aboard the attack transport USS Barnett. Later, he went to San Diego to serve for three and one half years as an instructor at the Hospital Corps School. From there he went to the Marine Corps Rifle Range at Puloa Point, Oahu and later returned to the San Diego Hospital Corps school for two and one half year's duty as an instructor and chief master-at-arms.

Menefee became a Chief Petty Officer in 1940 and was appointed a Warrant Officer in 1942, was commissioned to the temporary grade of Ensign in the Hospital Corps in 1943, was promoted to lieutenant junior grade in 1945 and reverted to Chief Petty Officer in 1946.

He attended OCS at Fort Benning, Ga. and was commissioned before going overseas. The newlyweds are looking forward to making their home in the United States when he concludes his tour of duty in June 1957.

Kreiling Heads BHS Alumni

FROSTBURG — Mayo Kreiling has been elected to head the Beall High School Alumni Association for the coming year. Other officers who will serve with him include Mrs. Rae Pugh, vice president; Mrs. Harriet Horner, secretary; James Evans, treasurer; Leslie Kreider, publicity; and Mrs. Anna Tranum, corresponding secretary.

Elected to the Executive Board were Annetta Hamill Gerson, four years; Mrs. Florence Hill, three years; Joseph Struntz, two years, and Katherine Close, one year. To be elgible for a position on this board, the person must be a past president.

The following activities for the past year are listed in the annual report: A trophy was presented to the Beall High School basketball team who were the champions of the WMI League for 1955; 13 sweaters were presented to the individual members of the championship team; a school directory was purchased and presented to the school and has been permanently mounted in the main hall of the school; the 1955 reunion of Beall High grads was planned and held in June, 1955; $100 dollars was presented to the Band Boosters to be used for the purchase of new uniforms for the band; joined the $10-Dollar-A-Year Club supporting the band; held the all-senior letter dinner at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church honoring seniors who had won or earned letters during their senior year; adding 56 new members to the alumni association bringing the total membership up to 1,250.

The next meeting of the association will be held December 11 in City Hall at 2 p. m. This will be the final meeting to be presided over by the retiring officers.

FTA Council Is Proposed

FROSTBURG — The Future Teachers of America of State Teachers College met Tuesday in the college dining room to discuss possible plans of forming an FTA Council comprised of representatives from FTA organizations in schools west of and including Flintstone.

A steering committee headed by Mrs. Jack Snyder, who will act as the faculty advisor, was formulated to draw up the permanent council.

Mrs. Margaret Zembower will serve as temporary chairman, assisted by Laura Jean House, corresponding secretary. The other members on the steering committee are; Anna Mae Bishop and Rosalie Llewellyn from Valley High School; Marion Rice and Thomas Bible, Flintstone; Dorothy Aldridge and Laura Jean House, Mt. Savage High School; Connie Rephann, Darlene Pope and Susan Shook, Beall High School; Marjorie Lewis and Lois Lee, Allegany High School.

A movie entitled "Freedom To Learn" was shown and refreshments were served.

Legion Boosts Safer Driving Effort Today

KEYSER — Four Legionnaires, representing Boyce-Houser Post No. 41, American Legion, Keyser, will cooperate, in behalf of the post, with the W. Va. State Police of the Keyser detachment today on Safe Driving Day activities. Those selected for this service are C. S. Briley, Estes Sharpes, Fred Kitzmiller and Luther Kephart, who will ride with the State Police on their routine trips over the county highways and observe the happenings of the police.

Safe Driving Day was established by Presidential Proclamation last year and sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety.

It is the hope of the Legion that all motorists will not only observe safe driving on this day, but on every day throughout the year, and remember that "The Life You Save May Be Your Own."

Merger Voted By Petersburg Congregations

Lutheran Churches Plan Consolidation

PETERSBURG — Grace Lutheran Church of Petersburg and St. Matthew Lutheran Church of Masonville have voted to merge into one congregation.

Action was taken at a joint congregational meeting at which time the two groups accepted the name, Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, for the new congregation.

St. Matthew is the oldest of the two congregations with its beginning dating back to the year 1756 or 1758. On February 12, 1806, the congregation built its first known church building at Brake which is located on the west side of North Mill Creek. The church building was used until the congregation moved into its new church at Waterfall on September 11, 1847. On October 15, 1872, the congregation moved to its present location on Spring Run where it worshiped in a log church until the present church was built in 1893. Through this present merger, St. Matthew's congregation will live on as part of the newly formed church.

Grace Church had its beginning during World War I and for many years held its worship services at St. John's Academy. It was not until the Academy was closed that the congregation made plans to erect a church building. On February 13, 1937, a building site was secured on Pine Street and the present building was completed in 1940.

The effective date of the merger has been set today when the two respective congregation become one under its new name. At a recent meeting of the proposed congregation, the following officers were elected: president, Loy Judy; secretary, Jessie Shaffer; general treasurer, Ona Lough; funds treasurer, Olive Shaffer; trustees, John W. Mallow, William W. Sites, Harold Roby; elders, Ed Shaffer, David L. Getz, Guy Judy; deacons, Carl Fawcett, Lester Shaffer and William Mongold.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Hauser, and family, Connellsville, returned after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crowe.

Mrs. Iris Stowell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stowell and son, Aberdeen returned after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crowe.

Aloysius Monahan, Washington, has returned after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Francis Monahan.

Tribett Named Police Sergeant

KEYSER — Cpl. F. H. Tribett, head of the two-man West Virginia State Police detachment at Keyser, has been promoted to sergeant.

Effective today, he will report to Martinsburg as commander of the four-man detachment there. With his promotion, Sgt. Tribett also became commandant of the West Virginia State Police Fifth District.

Succeeding him in Mineral County will be Cpl. Evan Moody, transferred from the Martinsburg station.

Sgt. Tribett arrived at Keyser on May 1, 1953 for duty. The order for his promotion and advancement came from Capt. B. E. Wright, commander of Company "C," Elkins, and was announced at Charleston by State Police Superintendent R. W. Boyles.

Promoted from trooper to corporal were J. R. Rightmire, stationed at Thomas in Tucker County, and C. W. Andrick, stationed at Welch.

Women's GOP Club Meets December 7

FROSTBURG — The Women's Republican Club of Frostburg will meet Wednesday, December 7 in the American Legion Home at 8 p. m.

Miss Katherine Close, president will conduct a short business meeting and a Christmas program will follow. Mrs. John Stewart will be in charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. Grant Durst and Mrs. Oliver Simons.

The Christmas story will be read by Mrs. Alex Close with Mrs. Grant Durst, soloist. Carols will be sung by the group and the Scripture will be read by Mrs. John Cook.

Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Rachel Dunn will be in charge of table decorations and Mrs. Arch Davis and Mrs. Anna Doub will preside at the tea table.

Stock Market Drops Back After Hitting Record High

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—The stock market went ahead in vigorous trading today with the averages at noon touching the historic high of Sept. 23 before receding a bit.

When the Associated Press 60-stock average was up 80 cents to $181.50 at noon it had erased the estimated 13 billion dollar loss in the quoted value of securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange in the sharp break of Sept. 26 following news of President Eisenhower's heart attack.

The AP averages closed at $181, however, only 30 cents higher than yesterday. The industrials were up 40 cents, the rails 20 cents and the utilities 10 cents.

Merger Voted By Petersburg Congregations

Lutheran Churches Plan Consolidation

PETERSBURG — Grace Lutheran Church of Petersburg and St. Matthew Lutheran Church of Masonville have voted to merge into one congregation.

Action was taken at a joint congregational meeting at which time the two groups accepted the name, Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, for the new congregation.

St. Matthew is the oldest of the two congregations with its beginning dating back to the year 1756 or 1758. On February 12, 1806, the congregation built its first known church building at Brake which is located on the west side of North Mill Creek. The church building was used until the congregation moved into its new church at Waterfall on September 11, 1847. On October 15, 1872, the congregation moved to its present location on Spring Run where it worshiped in a log church until the present church was built in 1893. Through this present merger, St. Matthew's congregation will live on as part of the newly formed church.

Grace Church had its beginning during World War I and for many years held its worship services at St. John's Academy. It was not until the Academy was closed that the congregation made plans to erect a church building. On February 13, 1937, a building site was secured on Pine Street and the present building was completed in 1940.

The effective date of the merger has been set today when the two respective congregation become one under its new name. At a recent meeting of the proposed congregation, the following officers were elected: president, Loy Judy; secretary, Jessie Shaffer; general treasurer, Ona Lough; funds treasurer, Olive Shaffer; trustees, John W. Mallow, William W. Sites, Harold Roby; elders, Ed Shaffer, David L. Getz, Guy Judy; deacons, Carl Fawcett, Lester Shaffer and William Mongold.

Kitzmiller Couple Marks Anniversary

KITZMILLER — Mr. and Mrs. David E. Sowers of Kitzmiller celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary recently with open house at the local fire hall.

The couple was married by the late Rev. A. C. Thompson, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Lonaconing, September 15, 1905.

Mrs. Sowers was born in Lonaconing. She is the former Miss Elizabeth W. Mason.

Mr. Sowers, a retired stationary engineer and fireman, was born in Chaffe, Md.

The couple has a foster daughter, Mrs. Marjory Shaia, Cleveland, and two grandchildren.

Stock Market Drops Back After Hitting Record High

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—The stock market went ahead in vigorous trading today with the averages at noon touching the historic high of Sept. 23 before receding a bit.

When the Associated Press 60-stock average was up 80 cents to $181.50 at noon it had erased the estimated 13 billion dollar loss in the quoted value of securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange in the sharp break of Sept. 26 following news of President Eisenhower's heart attack.

The AP averages closed at $181, however, only 30 cents higher than yesterday. The industrials were up 40 cents, the rails 20 cents and the utilities 10 cents.

Gains ranging to a point or better were scattered throughout major divisions while individual stocks surged well beyond this.

For the second straight day Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton was the day's most active stock, closing off ⅜ at 14⅜ on 111,200 shares.

Second most active stock was Avco Manufacturing, up ¼ at 6⅛ on 74,500 shares. Third was Sperry Rand, up ½ at 25½ on 50,200 shares.

Next came Pan American World Airways up ¾ at 17⅝ and General Dynamics off ¾ at 63½.

The market was higher from the start and the ticker tape, which records transactions, lagged briefly within the first quarter hour.

Basilio Stops DeMarco In 12th, Retains Welter Title

Champ Floors Loser Twice Before 13,373

Weathers Early Punches To Score In First Defense

BOSTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—In almost a duplicate of his title winning effort, welterweight champion Carmen Basilio blasted his way from the brink of defeat tonight to stop lethal-punching Tony DeMarco of Boston in 1:54 of the 12th round of another vicious title battle.

Hurt repeatedly in the fiery scrap and reeling from the 23-year-old Bostonian's power punches in the seventh round, the 28-year-old marine from Canastota, N. Y., chopped down his squat opponent twice in the 12th to send Referee Mel Manning to the local pride's rescue.

Two Seconds Less

It took the battle-scarred Basilio just two seconds more to do the job this time than he required in Syracuse, June 10, when he halted Tony in 1:52 of the 12th.

With a capacity crowd of 13,373 which contributed to a record Boston gate of $171,800 roaring with every blow in this fierce slugfest, Basilio caught up to his tiring rival in the 12th with a tremendous right to the jaw which shook DeMarco in his tracks.

As the pro-DeMarco crowd yelled "Tony get up!" DeMarco slowly climbed to his feet at the count of eight.

Cooly and calmly Basilio fired away with both hands at his stricken rival. Then, just as the referee started to rush over to stop the slaughter, Carmen unloaded another right that sent Tony slumping to the canvas. There was no count. The referee just gathered Tony in his arms as Basilio danced jubilantly around the ring.

Floored Him Twice

In their first meeting, another "give nor quarter battle," Basilio felled DeMarco twice in the 10th round and then wore him down. Carmen had to come from behind to win in his own city and he had to do the same on DeMarco's home grounds tonight.

Basilio, who stretched his unbeaten streak to 15 fights, was trailing on the cards of all three officials for the first 11 rounds. Referee Mel Manning had it 106-103, Judge Joe Santoro had it 104-97 and Judge Joe Santarpio had it 106-103. The Associated Press card had DeMarco leading 103-101 on points and on rounds 5-4-2.

Boxer, Hurt During Bout, Unconscious

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—Ferman King, welterweight boxer and father of six children, had not regained consciousness tonight 24 house after being knocked out in a bout here.

King, 26, and a veteran of 55 professional fights, suffered an intracranial hemorrhage in the ninth round of a 10 round bout with Aman Peck Tuesday night. Both are Negroes.

Hospital officials reported there was no change in King's condition after his admittance. His condition was listed as "poor."

INVOLVED IN TRADE — The Detroit Tigers reacquired righthander Virgil Trucks, right, from Chicago White Sox for outfielder John (Bubba) Phillips, left. The deal, made at the minor league meeting in Columbus, Ohio, was a straight player deal. Trucks had a 13-8 record for the Sox last season while Phillips hit .234 for Detroit. (AP Photofax)

White Sox Trade Pitcher Virgil Trucks To Detroit

Bubba Phillips Is Sent To Chicago

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 30 (AP)—Detroit and Chicago completed the first major trade of the baseball meetings today, the Tigers reacquiring veteran righthander Virgil Trucks from the White Sox in exchange for reserve outfielder John (Bubba) Phillips.

It was only the second deal involving major league players since the baseball people arrived last Sunday. The Chicago Cubs recently dealt relief pitcher Hal Jeffcoat to Cincinnati for second string catcher Hobie Landrith. But Jeffcoat's subsequent announcement that he intended to retire from the game has caused complications.

May Light Fuse

The Detroit-Chicago transaction was expected to light a fuse under some of the other big league traders who up to now have done little but talk. Both the Tigers and White Sox promised more action "probably before the day is over."

The Tigers' acquisition of Trucks gives rise to the suspicion they plan to pass on the aging right hander to the New York Yankees for younger talent. Detroit had hoped to draft infielder Herb Plews, a Yankee farm hand at Denver, but were thwarted when Pittsburgh drafted pitchers Jack McMahon from Denver to close up that club.

Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, said he had offered seven players for an unnamed outfielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates. It was learned that the "unnamed player" is slugging Frank Thomas.

The acquisition of the 36-year-old Trucks adds pitching help to the Tigers, who admitted they must have more pitching to improve their fifth place position of last year.

"I'm counting on Trucks to be a regular starter next season," said Tiger Manager Bucky Harris. "He will give the staff a big lift with his experience."

First Joined Tigers

Trucks had a mediocre 13-8 won-lost record with a 3.96 earned run percentage ltas year, but he won 20 games in 1953 and 19 in 1954.

The Brimingham, Ala., native first joined the Tigers in 1942 and was with them until December 1952 when he was traded to the St. Louis Browns along with pitcher Hal White and outfielder Johnny Groth for infielder Owen Friend, outfielder Bob Nieman and catcher J. W. Porter. The latter is still with the Tigers.

Phillips appeared in 95 games for the Tigers last year in the outfield and at third base. The 25-year-old speedster batted only .234, drove in 24 runs and hit three home runs, but his minor league record indicates he is a much better ball player. He batted .335 for Williamsport in 1951 and hit .291 at Buffalo in 1952 before entering service the following year. While in service he was voted the most valuable player in the all-Army tourney in 1954.

Billy Meyer III, Quits Baseball

Former Buc Manager Suffered A Stroke

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 30 (AP)—Baseball's William Adam (Billy) Meyer reluctantly said farewell today to the sport he has been part of as player-manager - scout for nearly a half century.

"I've decided I just can't go on any more," Meyer said at his suburban home. "If I regain my health, I might do a little scouting. But right now it looks like I'm through."

Meyer said he had asked the Pittsburgh club for which he has been a trouble-shooter since 1952 to release him.

Thus ends a baseball career begun in 1909 and which reached its climax in 1948 when Meyer was named "Major League Manager of the Year" as freshman pilot of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He led the club to fourth place in the National League that year.

Meyer, a catcher, kicked around in the minors until 1915 when Connie Mack brought him to Philadelphia.

Wes Santee Keeps Amateur Status

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 30 (AP)—Wes Santee, this country's fastest miler, kept his amateur standing today as the deadline passed for protesting his return to the good graces of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Unless complicated parliamentary procedure revives the case later, the rapid Kansan will be eligible to run for the United States in the 1956 Olympics as well as participate in other amateur events.

The Olympics track and field committee of the AAU was in session today as time elapsed on the period in which a protest could be filed by the registration committee that suspended him. He had been accused of accepting expense money in excess of the AAU limit of $12 a day. The suspension was rescinded 10 days ago by the Missouri Valley Assn. of the AAU.

Hawks Win, 99-97

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—Five members of the St. Louis Hawks scored in double figures tonight with Bob Harrison dropping in 19 and Bob Pettit 18 as the Western Division leaders in the National Basketball Association edged the Minneapolis Lakers 99-97 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Trautman Warns Majors To Stop Greed For Money

Minor Leagues Face "Lack Of Recruits"

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 30 (AP)—George M. Trautman today challenged the major leagues to forget about "the almighty dollar" and warned that unless the majors cooperate unselfishly, the minor leagues "will shortly be unable to furnish the recruits for major league play."

The president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues, in a speech before the minor league convention here, called on baseball men everywhere to "lift their eyes beyond all considerations of what is good 'for me' or 'my club' or 'my league' and ask one simple question—'what is good for baseball?'"

In an address that was sometimes blistering in its appraisal of baseball's "assets and liabilities," Trautman said the impact of major league radio and TV in minor league territory remains the number one problem of the minors.

Trautman said "everything humanly possible is being done, but I cannot say that great progress has been made. There are many obstacles and impasses. I hope to be able to say to you in the near future that real progress has been made. Now, I must ask your tolerance and patience."

But he said "a definite program seems finally to be shaping up in the major leagues, and we are hopeful that some concessions will be made the minors in 1957, if not before."

The commissioner said baseball must "enumerate, examine and squarely face" reasons advanced by various people as to why they believe baseball is in trouble. He listed those reasons this way:

1. The impact of major league radio and television in minor league towns and cities.
2. Shabby parks.
3. Inadequate parking facilities, and other public inconveniences.
4. Excessive concession prices.
5. Underlighted parks.
6. Porlonged arguments and long, slow games.
7. Sub-par umpiring.
8. Lower standard of play.
9. Mediocre or poor promotion.

Trautman agreed partially or completely with several of the complaints and disputed others. On some, he offered suggestions.

Fain To Coach At Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 30 (AP)—Ferris Fain, twice batting champion of the American League, today was signed by the Sacramento Solons as a player-coach.

Although bothered by an injured knee, the veteran first baseman is expected to add lefthanded power to the Solons, who finished last in the 1955 Pacific Coast League race.

Fain, who began his baseball career with the Seals in 1939, completed the 1955 season with the Cleveland Indians, batting .256, after service with the Detroit Tigers. He spent seven years with the Philadelphia A's until traded to the Chicago White Sox in 1952.

Miami Rejected As New Site For Toledo Franchise

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 30 (AP)—The American Assn. rejected Miami as a site for its "wandering" Toledo franchise today, and sent Association President Ed Doherty to confer with the Western League about negotiating for one of its cities.

Doherty was authorized to confer with O'Neal Hobbs, Western League president, as the association took its third recess of a day-long meeting.

Although Doherty refused to disclose the city to be discussed, it was reported the association was most interested in Wichita, Kan.

Midwest Grid Team Selected

Big Ten, Sooners, Irish Form Eleven

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP) — Oklahoma's national champions, Notre Dame and four Big Ten schools cornered all 11 positions on the 1955 All-Midwestern football team named today by the Associated Press.

Those landing spots on the all-star lineup, selected after a poll of coaches, scouts and AP sports writers, included:

Michigan—Ends Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz.

Ohio State—Back Howard Cassady and tackle Jim Parker.

Michigan State—Back Earl Morrall.

Iowa—Tackle Calvin Jones.

Three holdovers from the 1954 honor team were the 220-pound Jones, shifted from guard to tackle on the lineup; 218-pound Kramer, who led the Buckeys to their second straight Big Ten title; and the great game-breaking halfback, Cassady.

Kaline Presented Proficiency Award

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 30 (AP)—Al Kaline, Detroit rightfielder who was the American League's batting champion this year, was presented the Annapolis Touchdown Club's proficiency award at a banquet here tonight. Kaline makes his home in his native Baltimore.

Ridgeley High Launches PVC Card Tuesday

Six Lettermen Back With 1955 Champs

With six lettermen of the 1954-55 team that won 23 and lost 4 back in the fold, Coach Chester Payne's Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks are preparing for the opening game of the cage season next Tuesday night when they face the West Virginia School for the Deaf in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Ridgeley.

The returning lettermen are Kenneth Hartman, center; Ronnie Nield, Mike Zollner, Jim Weakley and Ellsworth Lambert, forwards, and Gary Barker, guard.

Fritz Showers, the team's scoring ace, Ronnie Phillips, Eddie Powelson, Donnie Wolford, Paul Lockard and Dale Whitacre were the players of the 1954-55 team that were lost through graduation. Last year's team won the P.V.C. title with a 13-1 record, copped the sectional and regional tournaments and lost out to Aurora in the area title contest.

Here is Ridgeley's schedule:

Dec. 6—West Va. Deaf, home. 9—Romney, home. 13—Elk Garden, away. 16—Fort Hill, away. 20—Fort Ashby, home. 30—Alumni.

LaSalle Cager Hurt

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30 (AP)—LaSalle College basketball team received a tough break today when Bob Maples, 6-5 center broke his ankle in a practice session. He is expected to be out of action for at least two months.

Bears Retain Offense Lead

Washington Best Defensive Team

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30 (AP) — The Chicago Bears, despite a shellacking by the Chicago Cardinals last week, maintained its National Football League offensive statistics lead.

The Bears, who fell from first to second place in the Western Division with the loss to the Cardinals, also lead the rushing department with 1,978 yards, 250 better than Washington with 1,728. Cleveland, Green Bay and Baltimore follow in that order.

The Pittsburgh Steelers hold the lead in passing although they've lost their last six games in a row. They have totaled 2,176 yards to 2,008 for the Detroit Lions.

Washington took over the laurels as the best defensive team against rushing from Pittsburgh, who held the lead for eight weeks.

Alan (The Horse) Ameche, the Baltimore Colts prize fullback, has taken over the individual rushing lead from the Packers' Howie Ferguson. Ameche's lead is a scant 88 yards. Third is Fred (Curly) Morrison of the Cleveland Browns.

Cleveland's Otto Graham increased his passing department lead in the 35-35 tie the Browns played with the Giants.

Graham has attempted 148 passes, completed 81, and compiled 1,385 yards and 10 touchdowns for a percentage of 9.36 yard per pass. The Bears' Eddie Brown, smothered by the Cardinals, is second with an 8.65 average gain in yards on a record of 143 attempts, 79 completions for 1,237 yards and eight touchdowns.

Cassady Gets Maxwell Award

Ohio State Star To Be Feted Jan. 23

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30 (AP) — Howard (Hopalong) Cassady today was honored for the second time in less than 24 hours with an award as college football player of the year.

The 21-year-old Ohio State star, who yesterday was announced as the winner of the Heisman Memorial Trophy as the outstanding college football player of 1955, received a similar bow from the Robert W. Maxwell Club.

Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League and president of the Maxwell Club, announced that Cassady, 5-10, 175 pound Buckeye senior, would receive the award Jan. 23 at the club's annual dinner.

Cassady, an All-America halfback led the Buckeyes to their second straight Big Ten championship this season. He was third in the nation in rushing this year with 958 yards gained on 161 carries.

Billy Meyer III, Quits Baseball

Former Buc Manager Suffered A Stroke

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 30 (AP)—Baseball's William Adam (Billy) Meyer reluctantly said farewell today to the sport he has been part of as player-manager - scout for nearly a half century.

"I've decided I just can't go on any more," Meyer said at his suburban home. "If I regain my health, I might do a little scouting. But right now it looks like I'm through."

Meyer said he had asked the Pittsburgh club for which he has been a trouble-shooter since 1952 to release him.

Thus ends a baseball career begun in 1909 and which reached its climax in 1948 when Meyer was named "Major League Manager of the Year" as freshman pilot of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He led the club to fourth place in the National League that year.

Meyer, a catcher, kicked around in the minors until 1915 when Connie Mack brought him to Philadelphia.

Wes Santee Keeps Amateur Status

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 30 (AP)—Wes Santee, this country's fastest miler, kept his amateur standing today as the deadline passed for protesting his return to the good graces of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Unless complicated parliamentary procedure revives the case later, the rapid Kansan will be eligible to run for the United States in the 1956 Olympics as well as participate in other amateur events.

The Olympics track and field committee of the AAU was in session today as time elapsed on the period in which a protest could be filed by the registration committee that suspended him. He had been accused of accepting expense money in excess of the AAU limit of $12 a day. The suspension was rescinded 10 days ago by the Missouri Valley Assn. of the AAU.

Hawks Win, 99-97

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—Five members of the St. Louis Hawks scored in double figures tonight with Bob Harrison dropping in 19 and Bob Pettit 18 as the Western Division leaders in the National Basketball Association edged the Minneapolis Lakers 99-97 in the first game of a double-header.

Boxer, Hurt During Bout, Unconscious

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 30 (AP)—Ferman King, welterweight boxer and father of six children, had not regained consciousness tonight 24 house after being knocked out in a bout here.

King, 26, and a veteran of 55 professional fights, suffered an intracranial hemorrhage in the ninth round of a 10 round bout with Aman Peck Tuesday night. Both are Negroes.

Hospital officials reported there was no change in King's condition after his admittance. His condition was listed as "poor."

Tatum joins Clyde Sukeforth and Sam Narron as Pittsburgh coaches.

Trautman Warns Majors To Stop Greed For Money

Minor Leagues Face "Lack Of Recruits"

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 30 (AP)—George M. Trautman today challenged the major leagues to forget about "the almighty dollar" and warned that unless the majors cooperate unselfishly, the minor leagues "will shortly be unable to furnish the recruits for major league play."

The president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues, in a speech before the minor league convention here, called on baseball men everywhere to "lift their eyes beyond all considerations of what is good 'for me' or 'my club' or 'my league' and ask one simple question—'what is good for baseball?'"

In an address that was sometimes blistering in its appraisal of baseball's "assets and liabilities," Trautman said the impact of major league radio and TV in minor league territory remains the number one problem of the minors.

Trautman said "everything humanly possible is being done, but I cannot say that great progress has been made. There are many obstacles and impasses. I hope to be able to say to you in the near future that real progress has been made. Now, I must ask your tolerance and patience."

But he said "a definite program seems finally to be shaping up in the major leagues, and we are hopeful that some concessions will be made the minors in 1957, if not before."

The commissioner said baseball must "enumerate, examine and squarely face" reasons advanced by various people as to why they believe baseball is in trouble. He listed those reasons this way:

1. The impact of major league radio and television in minor league towns and cities.
2. Shabby parks.
3. Inadequate parking facilities, and other public inconveniences.
4. Excessive concession prices.
5. Underlighted parks.
6. Porlonged arguments and long, slow games.
7. Sub-par umpiring.
8. Lower standard of play.
9. Mediocre or poor promotion.

Trautman agreed partially or completely with several of the complaints and disputed others. On some, he offered suggestions.

Fain To Coach At Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 30 (AP)—Ferris Fain, twice batting champion of the American League, today was signed by the Sacramento Solons as a player-coach.

Although bothered by an injured knee, the veteran first baseman is expected to add lefthanded power to the Solons, who finished last in the 1955 Pacific Coast League race.

Fain, who began his baseball career with the Seals in 1939, completed the 1955 season with the Cleveland Indians, batting .256, after service with the Detroit Tigers. He spent seven years with the Philadelphia A's until traded to the Chicago White Sox in 1952.

Miami Rejected As New Site For Toledo Franchise

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 30 (AP)—The American Assn. rejected Miami as a site for its "wandering" Toledo franchise today, and sent Association President Ed Doherty to confer with the Western League about negotiating for one of its cities.

Doherty was authorized to confer with O'Neal Hobbs, Western League president, as the association took its third recess of a day-long meeting.

Although Doherty refused to disclose the city to be discussed, it was reported the association was most interested in Wichita, Kan.

The Wichita owner, Woody Jensen, had appeared at the association meeting during the day.

Midwest Grid Team Selected

Big Ten, Sooners, Irish Form Eleven

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP) — Oklahoma's national champions, Notre Dame and four Big Ten schools cornered all 11 positions on the 1955 All-Midwestern football team named today by the Associated Press.

Those landing spots on the all-star lineup, selected after a poll of coaches, scouts and AP sports writers, included:

Michigan—Ends Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz.

Ohio State—Back Howard Cassady and tackle Jim Parker.

Michigan State—Back Earl Morrall.

Iowa—Tackle Calvin Jones.

Three holdovers from the 1954 honor team were the 220-pound Jones, shifted from guard to tackle on the lineup; 218-pound Kramer, who led the Buckeys to their second straight Big Ten title; and the great game-breaking halfback, Cassady.

Kaline Presented Proficiency Award

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 30 (AP)—Al Kaline, Detroit rightfielder who was the American League's batting champion this year, was presented the Annapolis Touchdown Club's proficiency award at a banquet here tonight. Kaline makes his home in his native Baltimore.

Ridgeley High Launches PVC Card Tuesday

Six Lettermen Back With 1955 Champs

With six lettermen of the 1954-55 team that won 23 and lost 4 back in the fold, Coach Chester Payne's Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks are preparing for the opening game of the cage season next Tuesday night when they face the West Virginia School for the Deaf in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Ridgeley.

The returning lettermen are Kenneth Hartman, center; Ronnie Nield, Mike Zollner, Jim Weakley and Ellsworth Lambert, forwards, and Gary Barker, guard.

Fritz Showers, the team's scoring ace, Ronnie Phillips, Eddie Powelson, Donnie Wolford, Paul Lockard and Dale Whitacre were the players of the 1954-55 team that were lost through graduation. Last year's team won the P.V.C. title with a 13-1 record, copped the sectional and regional tournaments and lost out to Aurora in the area title contest.

Here is Ridgeley's schedule:

Dec. 6—West Va. Deaf, home. 9—Romney, home. 13—Elk Garden, away. 16—Fort Hill, away. 20—Fort Ashby, home. 30—Alumni.

LaSalle Cager Hurt

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30 (AP)—LaSalle College basketball team received a tough break today when Bob Maples, 6-5 center broke his ankle in a practice session. He is expected to be out of action for at least two months.

Bears Retain Offense Lead

Washington Best Defensive Team

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30 (AP) — The Chicago Bears, despite a shellacking by the Chicago Cardinals last week, maintained its National Football League offensive statistics lead.

The Bears, who fell from first to second place in the Western Division with the loss to the Cardinals, also lead the rushing department with 1,978 yards, 250 better than Washington with 1,728. Cleveland, Green Bay and Baltimore follow in that order.

The Pittsburgh Steelers hold the lead in passing although they've lost their last six games in a row. They have totaled 2,176 yards to 2,008 for the Detroit Lions.

Washington took over the laurels as the best defensive team against rushing from Pittsburgh, who held the lead for eight weeks.

Alan (The Horse) Ameche, the Baltimore Colts prize fullback, has taken over the individual rushing lead from the Packers' Howie Ferguson. Ameche's lead is a scant 88 yards. Third is Fred (Curly) Morrison of the Cleveland Browns.

Cleveland's Otto Graham increased his passing department lead in the 35-35 tie the Browns played with the Giants.

Graham has attempted 148 passes, completed 81, and compiled 1,385 yards and 10 t9uchdowns for a percentage of 9.36 yard per pass. The Bears' Eddie Brown, smothered by the Cardinals, is second with an 8.65 average gain in yards on a record of 143 attempts, 79 completions for 1,237 yards and eight touchdowns.

Cassady Gets Maxwell Award

Ohio State Star To Be Feted Jan. 23

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30 (AP) — Howard (Hopalong) Cassady today was honored for the second time in less than 24 hours with an award as college football player of the year.

The 21-year-old Ohio State star, who yesterday was announced as the winner of the Heisman Memorial Trophy as the outstanding college football player of 1955, received a similar bow from the Robert W. Maxwell Club.

Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League and president of the Maxwell Club, announced that Cassady, 5-10, 173 pound Buckeye senior, would receive the award Jan. 23 at the club's annual dinner.

Cassady, an All-America halfback led the Buckeyes to their second straight Big Ten championship this season. He was third in the nation in rushing this year with 958 yards gained on 161 carries.

Maryland's Six-Day Deer Season To Open On Monday

County Set Record Kill Last Season

Game Law Changed To Include Spike Bucks This Year

Maryland's annual six-day open season on male deer will open at sunrise on Monday, December 5, in 18 of the state's 23 counties, including Garrett and Allegany counties.

For the first time Maryland has dropped the two or more points section of the game law and legal kills this season will include spike bucks or any deer with a three-inch antler. Hunting with firearms or bow and arrow is permitted from sunrise to sunset Monday through Saturday.

Visible Spike Legal Kill

The new game law declares that any buck that has a visible antler or spike will be legal kill. Only button-bucks which are the fawns will not have a visible antler, game wardens point out.

However, hunters are warned not to abuse the law by shooting first and looking afterwards, for the spike-buck law may again be enforced if an unusual heavy illegal kill is reported.

The spike-buck law was changed to permit a hunter who had mistaken a spike buck for a legal buck to have it checked as a legal kill at the various stations instead of leaving the body in the woods.

Last year Allegany County set a new record for number of kills when hunters bagged 282 deer during the six-day season. This was three more than the previous mark of 279 which was set in 1953.

The high for opening day is 132, set in 1953, in Allegany County. Last season 114 bucks were slain on opening day.

Can't Hunt Small Game

Garrett County's all-time high is 583 kills. Last year hunters killed 487 in the state's westernmost county.

The top bag of the season in 1954 was a 205-pound, eight-point buck, slain by Cecil Hott of Paw Paw on the fifth day of the season.

All hunters should consult their hunter's guide, issued with all licenses for the official time of sunrise and sunset each day.

Game Warden Joseph H. Minke warned that no small game hunting is permitted in Allegany and Garrett Counties during the open deer season.

ALLEGANY — Shipway Inn, Green Ridge; Lewis' Store, Oldtown; LaVale Police Barracks; Westernport Police Headquarters.

GARRETT — Sheriff's office, Oakland; Matt Storey's Lodge, Deep Creek Lake; Yough's Garage, Friendsville; Post Office, Swanton; and Floyd Hetz, Grantsville.

WASHINGTON — Bridge Diner, Hancock and Ankeney's Store, Clearspring. All stations will be open at 9 a. m. and close at 7 p.m.

Maryland's Six-Day Deer Season To Open On Monday

County Set Record Kill Last Season

Game Law Changed To Include Spike Bucks This Year

Maryland's annual six-day open season on male deer will open at sunrise on Monday, December 5, in 18 of the state's 23 counties, including Garrett and Allegany counties.

For the first time Maryland has dropped the two or more points section of the game law and legal kills this season will include spike bucks or any deer with a three-inch antler. Hunting with firearms or bow and arrow is permitted from sunrise to sunset Monday through Saturday.

Visible Spike Legal Kill

The new game law declares that any buck that has a visible antler or spike will be legal kill. Only button-bucks which are the fawns will not have a visible antler, game wardens point out.

However, hunters are warned not to abuse the law by shooting first and looking afterwards, for the spike-buck law may again be enforced if an unusual heavy illegal kill is reported.

The spike-buck law was changed to permit a hunter who had mistaken a spike buck for a legal buck to have it checked as a legal kill at the various stations instead of leaving the body in the woods.

Last year Allegany County set a new record for number of kills when hunters bagged 282 deer during the six-day season. This was three more than the previous mark of 279 which was set in 1953.

The high for opening day is 132, set in 1953, in Allegany County. Last season 114 bucks were slain on opening day.

Can't Hunt Small Game

Garrett County's all-time high is 583 kills. Last year hunters killed 487 in the state's westernmost county.

The top bag of the season in 1954 was a 205-pound, eight-point buck, slain by Cecil Hott of Paw Paw on the fifth day of the season.

All hunters should consult their hunter's guide, issued with all licenses for the official time of sunrise and sunset each day.

Game Warden Joseph H. Minke warned that no small game hunting is permitted in Allegany and Garrett Counties during the open deer season.

ALLEGANY — Shipway Inn, Green Ridge; Lewis' Store, Oldtown; LaVale Police Barracks; Westernport Police Headquarters.

GARRETT — Sheriff's office, Oakland; Matt Storey's Lodge, Deep Creek Lake; Yough's Garage, Friendsville; Post Office, Swanton; and Floyd Hetz, Grantsville.

WASHINGTON — Bridge Diner, Hancock and Ankeney's Store, Clearspring. All stations will be open at 9 a. m. and close at 7 p.m.

Three Players Drafted By Minors

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 30 (AP) — Three more players were drafted late today by delayed action in the minor league draft here, raising to 58 the number of men selected by the minors for a total of $189,950.

Charleston in the American Assn. picked one of the players and Hagerstown of the Piedmont League took two—both from St. Petersburg.

Class B Hagerstown drafted third baseman Waldo Gonzales, who hit .251 for St. Petersburg of the Class D Florida State League, and catcher John Cuesta who racked up a .317 average.

1,992 W. Va. Deer Slain

508 Kills Are Reported Tuesday

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 30 (AP)—An estimated 2,360 deer were killed by West Virginia hunters in the first two days of the current season.

The Conservation Department made this estimate today on the basis of 1,992 kills actually reported by about 50 per cent of the checking stations.

These reports, with some 50 per cent of the stations still to be heard from, listed 508 kills yesterday.

District 2, comprising the Eastern Panhandle section, again led all other districts yesterday with 273. Hardy was out in front among counties with 96 deer taken.

Conservation authorities took note of a drop in the number of hunters which went to as much as 70 per cent. This was caused, they said, by the extremely cold weather.

Does and fawns become legal game, along with bucks, in many counties of the deer country Friday and Saturday.

There are, however, 13 counties in which bucks only may be hunted through the season ending Saturday midnight.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (INS)—We don't know at what point exaggeration becomes hyperbole, but wherever it is we know that both Woody Hayes, Ohio State coach, and Stu Holcomb, ditto for Purdue, passed it the other day.

Woody's admiration for Hopalong Cassady reached such a boiling point that he calmly announced his star halfback was a greater player than Red Grange, the Galloping Ghost of Illinois.

Not to be outdone, Holcomb said his quarterback Len Dawson was the finest forward passer he had ever seen and that would include such masters as Otto Graham, Sid Luckman and Sammy Baugh.

We can understand the fervent admiration of these coaches for their ace performers, because such players make life pleasant, keep old grads happy and help insure a coach's tenure in office.

In such circumstances we can forgive hyperbole. We should, because sports writers without exception probably indulge in more of it than anybody else.

Unbridled enthusiasm sometimes will shake even the most cold-blooded individual and send him into raptures over an athlete or a team. And sometimes the pat on the back is richly deserved.

Have you ever heard Leo Durocher rave over Willie Mays? If so, you got the impression that the young Giants' outfielder was only slightly better than Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and Joe DiMaggio—combined.

Have you ever heard Man O'War extolled by Jockey Clarence Kummer who rode him? And if Kummer told you that Big Red was the greatest horse that ever lived, he was on safe ground in the opinion of virtually all horsemen.

The late John McGraw and Ed Barrow were not inclined to rave over anybody or anything, but we have heard both many times laud Hans Wagner as beyond all question the greatest of all players. They did it so well that they almost shook our belief in Ty Cobb as the ace of them all.

We have heard Abe Saperstein rave over Goose Tatum as a basketball immortal, but after reading what Phog Allen, the Kansas Coach, had to say about Wilt Chamberlain the other day, we know we are going to hear some exceptional hyperbole in the near future.

As of now, Phog says only that the freshman is already the "greatest basketball player in the world." Could be Phog is correct.

Now along comes Bob Davis, Colorado Aggie coach, who praises the pros for picking his ace back, Gary Glick, as their first choice and adds, mildly enough, "there never was a fellow who deserved the honor more."

You may feel inclined to laugh at enthusiastic exaggeration but, after all, isn't it just such enthusiasm that makes this country the greatest in the world? Or would you call that hyperbole?

When the Mayflower brought the Pilgrims to America, there were 20 ships of that name under British registry.

16 Shuffle Teams In Action Tonight

Eight matches are on tap for tonight in the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League.

Frostburg American Legion, leaders of the American Division with a 29-4 record, will visit the Southern Bar while the runner-up Cumberland Knights of Columbus team hosts Stadium Inn of Frostburg.

Other matches in the same division are Fort Ashby V.F.W. at Cumberland Redmen, Goodfellowship Club at Cas Taylor's and Clingerman's at Frostburg Eagles.

Fisher and Robinette, front runners in the National Division (24-9) with a one-game lead over the Frostburg K. of C., visits the Hi Dee Club.

Frostburg's Knights host the Woodmen of the World Friday night.

Racial Body Protests Sugar Bowl Game

ATLANTA, Nov. 30 (AP)—Members of a racial segregationist group protested today that Georgia Tech might play against a Negro football player in the Sugar Bowl game with Pittsburgh.

The protest was made to Coach Bobby Dodd of Tech, who said he had no comment and did not expect to have any.

The telegram was signed by Hugh G. Grant of Augusta, a founder of the States Rights Council of Georgia dedicated to the preservation of racial segregation. Grant said "members of the executive committee which organized" the council authorized him to send it.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

LUCK NOT REALLY NEEDED

SOUTH had some reason to bewail his luck in the following deal, since two finesses went wrong, but a keener job of analysis and "percentage-figuring" would have erased the luck factor.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ Q J 4 ♥ K 6 3 2 ♦ Q J 10 ♣ A Q 8
♠ K 9 8 3 ♥ Q J 10 7 ♦ 9 2 ♣ 5 4 3	N W E S	♠ 10 7 6 2 ♥ A 9 8 5 ♦ 7 6 3 ♣ 9 7
	♠ A 5 ♥ 4 ♦ A K 8 5 4 ♣ K J 10 6 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	3 NT	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
6 ♦	Pass	Pass	Pass

North's jump to three notrump was a shade light, but it had the virtue of helping the partnership reach precisely the right contract. Incidentally, for the benefit of readers who have been misled on this point, the jump to three notrump, far from being a game-closing bid, is actually a slam try. Since it shows (or should show) the equivalent of a one-notrump opening bid, no other usage or interpretation makes sense.

West's lead against the slam was the queen of hearts, and since South knew very well that West wouldn't have led from the ace, he ducked in dummy. West followed up with the heart jack, and South ruffed.

Declarer now drew trumps and ruffed another heart, but when the ace failed to appear he had to rely on the spade finesse. Needless to say he was an unhappy player when that finesse failed and he was down one.

South should have given a little more thought to the situation. With the heart ace marked offside by the opening lead, it was very unwise to put all his trust in the favorable position of the spade king, particularly since a much better chance was there for the taking. The layout of the North-South hands fairly begged for dummy-reversal treatment. After ruffing a heart at Trick 2, South should have led a trump to the ten, ruffed a second heart, then gone back to the trump jack and ruffed dummy's last heart with his own last trump. Now, with the outstanding trumps breaking normally, 3-2, it would be elementary to return to dummy with a club and cash the trump queen, drawing the last adverse trump, while retaining the spade five as the ninth card, and then the [illegible] and the spade ace would wind up the matter.

COMBINATION BUSINESS and LIVING QUARTERS

Rock bottom price on double dwelling well located in South End's growing business area. This property represents good sturdy construction, including stone foundation, slate roof and storm sheathing, which may cost as much as 3 times our asking price to build new today. Thus one would be justified in converting this building into 2 single shops or offices or one large storeroom on first floor with two 3 room and bath apartments or one 6 room and 2 bath apartment on second floor. Location 118-120 Virginia Ave.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Mary Jeanette Zoppo vs. Peter Myer Zoppo No. 24,265 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII of the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states that the parties hereto were married on the 26th day of July, 1945, in Cumberland, Maryland, and that two children were born of the said marriage, namely Daniel age 10 years and Gary age 7 years; that the defendant, on or about the 23rd day of December, 1953, without just cause or reason abandoned and deserted the plaintiff, and has declared his intention to live with her no longer and that such desertion and abandonment has been continuous and uninterrupted for more than 18 months and is deliberate and final and without any reasonable hope of reconciliation; and that the plaintiff is a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, and that the last known address of the defendant was 8812 Eddington Road, Baltimore County, Maryland, that the defendant has twice consecutively been returned non est by the sheriff of Baltimore County.

It is thereupon, this 16th day of November, 1955, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in equity, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper, once in each of four (4) successive weeks, before the 17th day of December, 1955, giving notice to the absent defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of January, 1956, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Garrett County Reports School System Costs

Over Million Spent During Fiscal Year

OAKLAND—The Board of Education of Garrett County disbursed $1,170,204.48 during its fiscal year, July 1, 1954, to June 30, 1955, including capital outlay but not including school construction funds, according to the annual report.

Receipts from all sources including balance of $22,391.33 from several funds of last year amounted to $1,219,671.25.

County funds brought $292,981, while the school board received $870,744.82 from state funds. Biggest item from the state was the equalization aid which amounted to $620,874.83, with aid per classroom unit totaling $85,080, and aid per pupil totaling $93,442.

There was also received from federal funds a total of $25,110.08 and $8,444.04 from other sources. Under the last item there was $6,670.86 for fees from adjoining states, and $1,326.50 for sale of property.

Disbursements were separated as follows: Administration, $26,645.61; instructional service, $707,749.47; operation of school plant, $60,688.71; maintenance of school plant, $30,427.18; transportation of pupils, $265,736.36; fixed charges, $7,478.80; payments to adjoining units, $31,530.77; other school services, $29,561.32; and capital outlay, excluding school construction funds, $10,386.26.

There is cash on hand amounting to $49,466.77, including $19,848.71 in current funds, $827.82 in special fund; $1,558.55 in capital outlay fund, and $27,231.69 in Accident school building fund.

It cost $404,300.32 for cost of instructional service in elementary schools and $303,290.06 for cost of instruction in high schools. For cost of transportation of pupils the cost was more nearly the same, with $137,644.11 for elementary schools and $128,092.25 for high schools. Food for the school lunch program cost $8,186.48 for elementary schools and $7,911.29 for high schools. Salaries for on the job and on the farm training amounted to $2,962.14.

Under capital outlay alterations of old buildings cost $4,638.46 for elementary schools and $2,768.31 for high schools,

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Mary Jeanette Zoppo vs. Peter Myer Zoppo No. 24,265 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII of the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states that the parties hereto were married on the 26th day of July, 1945, in Cumberland, Maryland, and that two children were born of the said marriage, namely Daniel age 10 years and Gary age 7 years; that the defendant, on or about the 23rd day of December, 1953, without just cause or reason abandoned and deserted the plaintiff, and has declared his intention to live with her no longer and that such desertion and abandonment has been continuous and uninterrupted for more than 18 months and is deliberate and final and without any reasonable hope of reconciliation; and that the plaintiff is a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, and that the last known address of the defendant was 8812 Eddington Road, Baltimore County, Maryland, that the defendant has twice consecutively been returned non est by the sheriff of Baltimore County.

It is thereupon, this 16th day of November, 1955, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in equity, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper, once in each of four (4) successive weeks, before the 17th day of December, 1955, giving notice to the absent defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of January, 1956, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Under capital outlay alterations of old buildings cost $4,638.46 for elementary schools and $2,768.31 for high schools, with additional equipment amounting to $2,578.49

Walsh Endorses William P. Lane For U. S. Senate

Former Governor Says He Won't Run

Former Attorney General William C. Walsh, expressing gratitude to Democrats who have boomed him as a candidate for the U.S. Senate, said last night he hoped former Governor William Preston Lane Jr. would run for the job instead.

Walsh said that, while he would consider it a great honor to represent his state in the Senate, he felt that Lane is the qualified Democrat who would have the best chance to win.

Lane, apparently surprised by Walsh's statement, told the Associated Press in Washington:

"I have repeatedly said I am not a candidate and have not changed my mind in that regard."

He added that he "deeply appreciated" Walsh's expression of confidence in him.

Cites Ability, Popularity

Walsh said the winning of the next election "by a Democrat who is fully qualified to represent Maryland in the Senate is far more important than any individual's personal ambitions.

"Without meaning to disparage any of the other Democrats who have been mentioned," he said, "I think former Governor William P. Lane Jr. offers our best chance of accomplishing this.

"His qualifications, both from the party viewpoint and individually, are unquestioned, and the enthusiasm with which he is greeted at every Democratic meeting he attends is ample evidence of his strength.

"In my opinion, his nomination would unite our party, it would be a tremendous help in carrying Maryland for the national ticket and in electing the Democratic Congressional candidates in 1956, and it would insure our having a United States senator truly representative of Maryland and her best traditions.

"The former Governor has indicated a reluctance to run, but in the best interests of our party, state and nation, I hope he will."

Turnbull May Run

State Senator John Grayson Turnbull (D-Balto) also was among those mentioned as possible candidates for the U.S. Senate yesterday.

Friends of Turnbull said the move to enter him in the primary had reached the point where substantial funds have been pledged in his behalf if he should decide to run.

Turnbull has acknowledged he is considering an attempt to take the seat now held by Republican John Marshall Butler, who has announced he will seek re-election.

Instrument Expert Greeted

Annual Police Dept. Report Is Compiled

A comprehensive 26-page annual report for the Department of Police of Cumberland has been completed for presentation to the Mayor and Council, Chief R. Emmett Flynn announced yesterday.

The report which covers the period from July 1, 1954 to June 30, 1955, shows a total appropriation of $208,700 with expenditures of $208,345.20, leaving a balance of $354.80.

Salaries of the department took the largest amount of the expenditures with some $183,067.21 being paid to the 63 employes including 10 civilian personnel.

Other expenditures, according to the report show a breakdown as follows:

Auto repairs, $6,190.55; traffic, $5,847.07; policemen's equipment, $4,285.84; gasoline and oil, $2,-699.39; prisoner's expenses, $1,-645.56; miscellaneous, $1,431.31; supplies, $1,055.47.

Radio maintenance, $864.44; telephone and telegraph, $770.05; stationery and printing, $146.70; criminal identification, $136.46; capital outlay, $130.30; motorcycle repairs, $53.64; light and heat, $18.07; advertising, $18.

The total number of arrests for the period was noticeably lower than in the 1954 report. Statistics compiled at police headquarters show that the number of violations on the police docket in 1955 was 1,215 as compared to 1,270 in the previous year.

Some 5,934 arrests on the traffic docket were noted in 1955 as compared to 6,835 in the previous year. With the decrease in arrests, fines collected also showed a noticeable dip from last year.

In 1955, $4,357 in fines was noted on police docket fines in comparison of $4,949 in 1954. Traffic docket fines in this latest report were $5,566 as compared to $6,681 in 1954.

According to the bicycle tag fund, $428.25 was realized from the sale of 1,713 licenses in 1955 which was an increase over 1954 figures of $424.50 when 1,698 tags were sold.

Veteran Gas Worker Ends Long Service

A veteran Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company employe who retired yesterday after 23 years of service was honored recently by the social club of the company.

David T. Adams was feted by the Gasco Club and was presented a life membership in the organization at a shrimp and oyster dinner held in his honor. He also was presented with a gift by the club's president, Jesse M. Kave.

Adams had been employed by the gas company since June 16, 1922, when he started with the West Virginia and Maryland Gas Company in Frostburg. He transferred to the local company in 1941.

The veteran employe came to Frostburg June 16, 1914, from Glasgow, Scotland, where he was born. He was married to the former Annie Johnstone, also of Glasgow, on June 8, 1915 in Frostburg.

The couple have seven children, four sons and three daughters, and reside at 53 Mechanic Street in Frostburg.

Lonaconing Man Will Manage Celanese Lab

Samuel B. McFarlane Jr., a native of Lonaconing and a former resident of Cumberland, has been appointed laboratory manager of the Summit (N. J.) Research Laboratories of the Celanese Corporation of America.

He will be in charge of the research facilities and services provided by the laboratories for the three Celanese operating divisions —textile, plastics and chemicals.

McFarlane began his Celanese career in 1932 as a laboratory assistant at Amcelle. He left in 1935 to attend the University of Maryland, from which he was graduated in 1939. Rejoining the company after graduation, he remmained at Amcelle until May 31, 1947, when he was transferred to the new Summit laboratories. Three years ago he was named assistant laboratory manager. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. McFarlane, who lives on Third Avenue in Lonaconing. His father has been employed at Amcelle since 1941.

Several other changes in the Summit Research Laboratories staff also were announced yesterday.

Dr. Bruce B. Allen, Summit, formerly laboratory manager and director of research at the laboratories, has been named technical director of the Celanese Textile Division which is located in Charlotte, N. C. He will succeed another former Summit resident, Dr. Robert T. Armstrong, who was recently elected vice president-technical director of Celanese Corporation of America. Dr. Armstrong lived in Summit until 1953, and served as associate director of the Celanese Laboratories there.

Dr. Oren V. Luke, Jr., Summit, is the new manager of the Plastics Research Department. He was transferred to Summit in 1954 from the Celanese Petroleum Chemicals Research and Development Laboratories in Clarkwood, Texas.

Dr. Russell O. Denyes, Maplewood, N. J., was named manager of the newly-created Fiber Research Department at the Celanese Laboratories. He came to Summit in 1949 from the Celanese plant in Rome, Georgia, and, prior to his present assignment, was assistant manager of textile process research at the Summit Laboratories. He has spent considerable time at Amcelle over the years on various research projects.

A fourth change in the Celanese staff is the appointment of Dr. Michael J. Curry, Springfield, N. J., as manager of the Celanese Chemical Division's Application Laboratory at Summit.

Bodkin's Pet Doe Stolen From Pen

A pet doe belonging to Senior Forest Supervisor Brook Bodkin was stolen Tuesday night from her pen near his home at McCoole.

Bodkin said the deer was given to him about two-and-one-half years ago by Game Warden Joseph Keating after the fawn's mother was killed by an automobile along U. S. Route 40 near Frostburg. The fawn was injured, having been blinded in one eye, but Bodkin cared for the animal until her health was restored.

The forest supervisor reported that children in his neighborhood enjoyed playing with the tame animal. An investigation of the theft is continuing.

Parole Continued After Hearing

Chief Judge George Henderson has ordered the parole of Scott Marvin, this city, continued following a parole violation hearing this week in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Marvin was convicted last January 17 on three charges of obtaining money under false pretenses by means of worthless checks. He was sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction but Judge Henderson suspended it and paroled the man for two years during good behavior and provided an effort was made at restitution.

A petition for violation of parole was issued August 11 and Marvin was arrested October 27. He had been held in the County Jail until the hearing Monday.

Anniversary Is Marked By CAP Units

Members of Fort Cumberland Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, are participating this week in the celebration of the 14th anniversary of the civilian auxiliary of the United States Air Force.

Civil Air Patrol Week is being observed through today by proclamation of Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

The Fort Cumberland unit is headed by Capt. Warren R. Mullenax, assisted by Floyd Harper, radio officer, and John F. Wagner, public information.

Included in the unit are some 15 active members, including amateur pilots, radio personnel and ground search members.

Active for a number of years, the local squadron was highly commended November 6 for its successful mock search mission.

Planes of the unit covered Western Maryland from Hancock west, and located the target in an hour and 45 minutes.

The squadron is based at the Cumberland Municipal Airport, and its equipment is available for inspection during the CAP week celebration.

The CAP, Wagner said, is composed of over 89,000 volunteer workers who can muster 5,300 planes in an emergency.

It maintains a nation-wide radio network of more than 10,500 fixed and mobile radio sets.

The CAP, organized December 1, 1941, performs more than half of the search hours spent on search missions in the United States.

Smith Recuperates

C. A. Smith of LaVale, who underwent an emergency operation November 22 at Memorial Hospital, is reported recuperating satisfactorily. He is the president of the Allegany Racing Pigeon Club and is service manager of the Steinla Motor Company, Inc., South Mechanic Street.

Election Board Has Extra Binders

Conversion to voting machines in Allegany County has enabled the County Board of Election Supervisors to consolidate its records into 80 binders instead of the 91 previously used.

Edward P. Kaylor, clerk to the Board of Election Supervisors, asked the county commissioners Tuesday for their advice on what to do with the 11 additional binders no longer needed. He said Juvenile Court wants three of them and the towns of Westernport, Lonaconing and Frostburg want one each.

Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson moved that Juvenile Court and the three towns be given the binders at no cost. The motion died for want of a second. Commissioner James Orr then said that he thought it was sensible to give the three binders to Juvenile Court as the county commissioners bear the cost of that court, but expressed a conviction that the three towns should pay for them.

Direct Election Efforts Of Students Explained

An article explaining efforts of an Allegany High School citizenship education class to bring about the abolition of the electoral college and the resulting direct election of the President of the United States is explained by the class teacher, Miss Mary E. Murray, in the latest issue of The Maryland Teacher.

This monthly magazine is the official publication of the Maryland State Teachers Association.

Miss Murray explains that last April 15 was D-A (Direct-Election) Day at Allegany High School. That was the date the citizenship education class received a particular letter from Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde.

Congressman Hyde enclosed with his letter a copy of House Joint Resolution 279 providing for an amendment to the United States Constitution to abolish the Electoral College in favor of the direct election of the President.

Miss Murray mentions the part that various prominent local persons had in the class' efforts to bring about the direct election of the President. U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, former Attorney General William C. Walsh, W. Earle Cobey and William L. Wilson are mentioned, among others.

The Allegany teacher also quotes excerpts from letters the class received from such persons as Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, U. S. Senators Estes Kefauver and Hubert H. Humphrey, from James Alfred Avirett, local attorney, and Delegate Lester B. Reed.

Several pictures showing the students in action also are featured in the article.

Funeral Homes Support Plan For Ambulances

Directors Abandon Service February 1

Effective February 1, 1956, six Cumberland funeral directors will discontinue ambulance service, and the area will be serviced for ambulance calls by the new Auxiliary Police Ambulance Corps, it was announced last night.

John O. Durst, secretary of the Tri-State Funeral Directors Association, said the six local funeral directors, all members of Tri-State Association, met as a local unit and discussed the idea.

Durst explains that the Auxiliary Police are sponsoring a non-profit, cooperative plan of providing ambulance service for Cumberland and immediate vicinity, and the funeral directors agreed unanimously to turn over all ambulance business to the group.

As previously announced, the Auxiliary Police Ambulance Corps will operate from a central downtown point with two ambulances. These will provide around-the-clock service for all emergencies and other cases where ambulance service is necessary and indicated.

According to James McGee, spokesman for the Auxiliary Police who are sponsoring the plan, the idea is patterned after a plan already in effect and successful in other cities comparable to Cumberland.

Divided among six funeral directors, McGee noted, ambulance service has never been a profitable item for any of them. But by consolidating the entire service in one cooperative organization, it is believed the service can be rendered efficiently, economically, and at a lower cost to those who need ambulances at any time.

The plan calls for the sale of memberships at a rate of $4 per year for each family, and $2 per year for each individual. Membership in the Ambulance Corps provides any member of that family with free ambulance service to or from a local hospital. Nonmembers will be charged at the rate of $10 per call between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m., and $15 per call between 6 p. m. and 8 a. m.

Memberships will be open to all individuals and families residing in Cumberland, LaVale, Cresaptown, Bowling Green, Potomac Park, Bedford Road to the state line, North Branch, Ridgeley and Wiley Ford, W. Va.

The Auxiliary Police plan to enlist the help of numerous other organizations in the sale of memberships so that the entire area can be covered for complete ambulance service as speedily as possible.

Cold Weather To Continue

The weatherman is insisting on keeping his icy grip on Cumberland and area with promises of fair and cold weather again today, when the mercury is expected to be below freezing.

Some snow flurries were blowing around the area last night but were causing no serious trouble as far as motorists traveling Routes 40 and 50 were concerned.

Garrett County reported quite a bit of snow yesterday. Up to three inches had fallen and was being swirled around by brisk breezes.

Some snow was reported in Frostburg and west toward Grantsville. Maryland State Police said highway travel was not considered dangerous in that section, although care was urged.

West Virginia State Police at Romney said that area was clear with a temperature of about 28 degrees. Up in Pennsylvania, Bedford State Police said they were not having snow although some was falling west of the Turnpike up in the mountains.

The unofficial temperature in downtown Cumberland last night at 10 o'clock was 30 degrees.

Indian Educators To Visit Frostburg College Soon

Two educators from India who are participants in the 1955 Internation Teacher Education Program will spend the period from January 6 to January 27 as guests of Frostburg State Teachers College.

They are Mrs. Florence Chaudhari and Kamla K. Chaturvedi, both of whom specialize in administration and supervision in the field of secondary education. She is classed as an inspectress of schools at Nagpur and he is principal of a teachers' training college at Bikaner.

Mrs. Helen Silverthorne, social director at the college, is arranging a program for the educators during their three-week stay in Allegany County. She is contacting a large number of organizations to see which ones would like to plan a program with the educators.

Information furnished the college by the Office of Education of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington reveals that Chaturvedi is 42 years old, is married and the father of five children.

He received his bachelor of arts degree in 1934 from Allahabad University and his masters' two years later from Lucknow University. He later studied in both England and Scotland, receiving a teachers' diploma from Westminster Training College in London and a bachelor of education degree in 1938 from Moray House Training College in Edinburgh.

Chaturvedi began his teaching career in 1942 as headmaster of the Central Training School. Subsequently he served as a college professor of economics, a high school headmaster, an inspector of schools and since 1953 has been principal of the Government Training College.

A member of the World Brotherhood of Scouting and the Bikaner Rifle Club, he was a district scout commissioner in Alwar. He has traveled extensively in England, Scotland, Sweden, France and Germany.

Mrs. Chaudhari, who is 40, is married and the mother of two sons. She hold three degrees from Nagpur University. Her teaching experience has included duties as assistant teacher and headmistress.

She is a member of the Nagpur University court, the faculty of education at Nagpur University, the university's Board of Studies in Education, the Nurses Registration Council and the Red Cross Society. She was a delegate from Madhya Pradesh State to the All-India Social Education Seminar.

Mrs. Chaudhari has published a book entitled "Teaching the Adult," which is the first book written and published in Madhya Pradish on social education.

Both of the Indian educators speak, understand and read excellently in English.

Eagles To Hold 1956 Convention In Cumberland

The Maryland-District of Columbia State Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will hold its 1956 state convention in Cumberland, Herman L. Myers, this city, state secretary, announced yesterday.

This decision was made Sunday in Baltimore where the state aerie officers voted on the 1956 convention. It will be held June 29, 30 and July 1 at the local aerie's lodge rooms at 65 North Mechanic Street.

Myers said he expects approximately 250 delegates and visitors for the affair from aeries at Baltimore, Washington, Brunswick, Frederick, Hagerstown, Frostburg and Cresaptown. Several prominent persons are being contacted as speakers for the convention.

Members of the Ridgeley High School Boosters Club will meet today at 7:30 p.m. in the school.

Anyone interested in joining the club is asked to attend the meeting. Plans for a parcel post and auction will be discussed.

Boy, 5, Crushed As Truck Skids On Ice, Upsets

A five-year-old Davis, W. Va. boy was fatally injured yesterday when crushed by a truck which wrecked due to icy conditions of the highway. His father who was driving the vehicle was injured.

Richard Allan Moore Jr., son of Richard and Charlotte (Tewell) Moore of Davis, is believed to have died instantly about 9:50 a. m. 11 miles north of Parsons after the truck plunged over a 37-foot embankment.

Police who investigated the mishap said the little boy was riding in a 1954 truck owned by the C&A Gas Company by whom his father, the driver, is employed.

The truck was proceeding northward from Parsons. At the intersection of Licking Creek Road and State Route 72, Moore attempted to turn the corner but the truck skidded and hurtled over the embankment. Moore told police the vehicle turned over completely in the air and the right door flew open. The little boy fell out and the truck landed on its side, on top of the child.

Moore, who is 24 years old, went for help. Walter C. Mahoney, superintendent of a gas drilling operation nearby, and several other men helped lift the truck off the child. He was taken to Tucker County Hospital but was dead on arrival. Moore was also hospitalized, suffering from a back injury, possible other injuries, and severe shock.

Investigating officers are State Troopers Donald G. Peters and James Rightmire of the Thomas detachment.

The child was born October 26, 1950 in Elkins. Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Deborah and Joyce and one brother, Timothy; his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Tewell and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Moore all of Davis, and a great-grandmother Mrs. Eva Moore, Norfolk, Va.

A funeral service will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. at St. John's Lutheran Church in Davis. Rev. George Weirick, pastor, will officiate. Burial will take place in the Davis Cemetery. The body is at the residence.

Firehouse Interior Being Repainted

The interior of Central fire station is being repainted by Robert Matthews, local paint contractor, who has done similar work in City Hall and Police Headquarters.

Colors of the new paint job are a combination of aqua, and green and ivory.

Safe Driving Day Is Being Marked Today

Motorist, Pedestrian Asked To Cooperate

Safe Driving Day or Sudden Death Day? It depends on the individual motorist or pedestrian.

Motorists and pedestrians Cumberland and area are asked to use extra care and caution today in observance of S-D Day — Safe Driving Day.

Lynn Walker, executive chairman of the Western Maryland Safety Council, is asking everyone to cooperate to make Cumberland and area accident-free.

The challenge to every community across the nation today will be : not a single traffic accident during the 24-hour period — in daylight or darkness.

The purpose of the observance of S-D Day, Walker added, is to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be greatly reduced when motorists and pedestrians fulfill their moral and civic responsibility for safety.

Statistics show that last year 36,000 persons were killed in the United States, and every 25 seconds someone in the nation was being injured. A total of 1,250,000 persons were disabled beyond the day of the accident.

How To Do It

A few sensible suggestions to assure a successful observance of S-D Day are as follows:

Check your speed, since more than three out of 10 drivers in fatal accidents were violating speed laws; check your drinking. Figures prove that in 24 out of 100 fatal accidents a driver or an adult pedestrian had been drinking.

Check your car—among vehicles involved in fatal accidents for which condition of vehicle was reported, about six per cent had unsafe conditions.

Check yourself—about one out of 14 drivers involved in fatal accidents had a physical condition that could have been a contributing factor in the mishap. In most of these cases the condition was fatigue or sleepiness.

Local, county and state authorities, and safety organizations throughout the nation are joining today in one common cause, the prevention of unnecessary deaths and injuries on the highways of the United States, and streets of its communities.

Program Commended

Meanwhile Walker pointed out that Allegany County Safety Week now in progress, has received nation-wide publicity in the 1955 "Home Safety Inventory," a publication of the National Safety Council.

The Western Maryland Safety Council and the Allegany County Homemakers Clubs are commended for their work in promoting safety in the homes of this area.

The local safety council has been actively promoting home, school and traffic safety as well as industrial safety in the county since it was formed in 1948.

Walker pointed out that during the past four years the council has received support from the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission as well as local industries and utility companies.

Teen-Age Girls Put On Parole

Four teen-age girls of Frostburg and area, involved in a series of thefts at Beall High School, yesterday were sentenced to Montrose School for Girls and were paroled in the custody of their parents following a hearing in Juvenile Court here.

Juvenile Court Judge Morris Baron gave the girls, all about 15, a stern warning that if any complaint was received in the future the sentences would be imposed.

The series of thefts had been committed over a period of time, Judge Baron pointed out, and the four girls were told to make restitution for the articles taken.

The value of the stolen articles was set at about $11.65 for each of the girls. The series of thefts was reported to have been brought to light by school officials.

Walsh Endorses William P. Lane For U. S. Senate

Former Governor Says He Won't Run

Former Attorney General William C. Walsh, expressing gratitude to Democrats who have boomed him as a candidate for the U.S. Senate, said last night he hoped former Governor William Preston Lane Jr. would run for the job instead.

Walsh said that, while he would consider it a great honor to represent his state in the Senate, he felt that Lane is the qualified Democrat who would have the best chance to win.

Lane, apparently surprised by Walsh's statement, told the Associated Press in Washington:

"I have repeatedly said I am not a candidate and have not changed my mind in that regard."

He added that he "deeply appreciated" Walsh's expression of confidence in him.

Cites Ability, Popularity

Walsh said the winning of the next election "by a Democrat who is fully qualified to represent Maryland in the Senate is far more important than any individual's personal ambitions.

"Without meaning to disparage any of the other Democrats who have been mentioned," he said, "I think former Governor William P. Lane Jr. offers our best chance of accomplishing this.

"His qualifications, both from the party viewpoint and individually, are unquestioned, and the enthusiasm with which he is greeted at every Democratic meeting he attends is ample evidence of his strength.

"In my opinion, his nomination would unite our party, it would be a tremendous help in carrying Maryland for the national ticket and in electing the Democratic Congressional candidates in 1956, and it would insure our having a United States senator truly representative of Maryland and her best traditions.

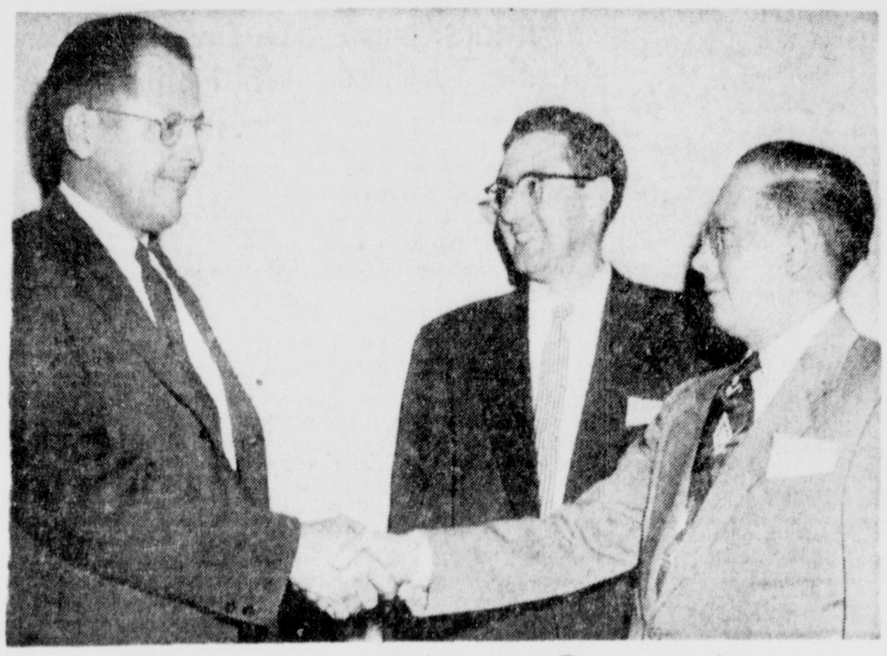
"The former Governor has indicated a reluctance to run, but in the best interests of our party, state and nation, I hope he will."

Turnbull May Run

State Senator John Grayson Turnbull (D-Balto) also was among those mentioned as possible candidates for the U.S. Senate yesterday.

Friends of Turnbull said the move to enter him in the primary had reached the point where substantial funds have been pledged in his behalf if he should decide to run.

Turnbull has acknowledged he is considering an attempt to take the seat now held by Republican John Marshall Butler, who has announced he will seek re-election.



Instrument Expert Greeted

Annual Police Dept. Report Is Compiled

A comprehensive 26-page annual report for the Department of Police of Cumberland has been completed for presentation to the Mayor and Council, Chief R. Emmett Flynn announced yesterday.

The report which covers the period from July 1, 1954 to June 30, 1955, shows a total appropriation of $208,700 with expenditures of $208,345.20, leaving a balance of $354.80.

Salaries of the department took the largest amount of the expenditures with some $183,067.21 being paid to the 63 employes including 10 civilian personnel.

Other expenditures, according to the report show a breakdown as follows:

Auto repairs, $6,190.55; traffic, $5,847.07; policemen's equipment, $4,285.84; gasoline and oil, $2,699.39; prisoner's expenses, $1,645.56; miscellaneous, $1,431.31; supplies, $1,055.47.

Radio maintenance, $864.44; telephone and telegraph, $770.05; stationery and printing, $146.70; criminal identification, $136.46; capital outlay, $130.30; motorcycle repairs, $53.64; light and heat, $18.07; advertising, $18.

The total number of arrests for the period was noticeably lower than in the 1954 report. Statistics compiled at police headquarters show that the number of violations on the police docket in 1955 was 1,215 as compared to 1,270 in the previous year.

Some 5,934 arrests on the traffic docket were noted in 1955 as compared to 6,835 in the previous year. With the decrease in arrests, fines collected also showed a noticeable dip from last year.

In 1955, $4,357 in fines was noted on police docket fines in comparison of $4,949 in 1954. Traffic docket fines in this latest report were $5,566 as compared to $6,681 in 1954.

According to the bicycle tag fund, $428.25 was realized from the sale of 1,713 licenses in 1955 which was an increase over 1954 figures of $424.50 when 1,698 tags were sold.

Veteran Gas Worker Ends Long Service

A veteran Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company employe who retired yesterday after 23 years of service was honored recently by the social club of the company.

David T. Adams was feted by the Gasco Club and was presented a life membership in the organization at a shrimp and oyster dinner held in his honor. He also was presented with a gift by the club's president, Jesse M. Kave.

Adams had been employed by the gas company since June 16, 1922, when he started with the West Virginia and Maryland Gas Company in Frostburg. He transferred to the local company in 1941.

The veteran employe came to Frostburg June 16, 1914, from Glasgow, Scotland, where he was born. He was married to the former Annie Johnstone, also of Glasgow, on June 8, 1915 in Frostburg.

The couple have seven children, four sons and three daughters, and reside at 53 Mechanic Street in Frostburg.

Adams was a coal miner prior to his employment with the gas company. His hobbies are flowers and photography.

Lonaconing Man Will Manage Celanese Lab

Samuel B. McFarlane Jr., a native of Lonaconing and a former resident of Cumberland, has been appointed laboratory manager of the Summit (N. J.) Research Laboratories of the Celanese Corporation of America.

He will be in charge of the research facilities and services provided by the laboratories for the three Celanese operating divisions —textile, plastics and chemicals.

McFarlane began his Celanese career in 1932 as a laboratory assistant at Amcelle. He left in 1935 to attend the University of Maryland, from which he was graduated in 1939. Rejoining the company after graduation, he remmained at Amcelle until May 31, 1947, when he was transferred to the new Summit laboratories. Three years ago he was named assistant laboratory manager. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. McFarlane, who lives on Third Avenue in Lonaconing. His father has been employed at Amcelle since 1941.

Several other changes in the Summit Research Laboratories staff also were announced yesterday.

Dr. Bruce B. Allen, Summit, formerly laboratory manager and director of research at the laboratories, has been named technical director of the Celanese Textile Division which is located in Charlotte, N. C. He will succeed another former Summit resident, Dr. Robert T. Armstrong, who was recently elected vice president-technical director of Celanese Corporation of America. Dr. Armstrong lived in Summit until 1953, and served as associate director of the Celanese Laboratories there.

Dr. Oren V. Luke, Jr., Summit, is the new manager of the Plastics Research Department. He was transferred to Summit in 1954 from the Celanese Petroleum Chemicals Research and Development Laboratories in Clarkwood, Texas.

Dr. Russell O. Denyes, Maplewood, N. J., was named manager of the newly-created Fiber Research Department at the Celanese Laboratories. He came to Summit in 1949 from the Celanese plant in Rome, Georgia, and, prior to his present assignment, was assistant manager of textile process research at the Summit Laboratories. He has spent considerable time at Amcelle over the years on various research projects.

A fourth change in the Celanese staff is the appointment of Dr. Michael J. Curry, Springfield, N. J., as manager of the Celanese Chemical Division's Application Laboratory at Summit.

Bodkin's Pet Doe Stolen From Pen

A pet doe belonging to Senior Forest Supervisor Brook Bodkin was stolen Tuesday night from her pen near his home at McCoole.

Bodkin said the deer was given to him about two-and-one-half years ago by Game Warden Joseph Keating after the fawn's mother was killed by an automobile along U. S. Route 40 near Frostburg. The fawn was injured, having been blinded in one eye, but Bodkin cared for the animal until her health was restored.

The forest supervisor reported that children in his neighborhood enjoyed playing with the tame animal. An investigation of the theft is continuing.

Parole Continued After Hearing

Chief Judge George Henderson has ordered the parole of Scott Marvin, this city, continued following a parole violation hearing this week in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Marvin was convicted last January 17 on three charges of obtaining money under false pretenses by means of worthless checks. He was sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction but Judge Henderson suspended it and paroled the man for two years during good behavior and provided an effort was made at restitution.

A petition for violation of parole was issued August 11 and Marvin was arrested October 27. He had been held in the County Jail until the hearing Monday.

Anniversary Is Marked By CAP Units

Members of Fort Cumberland Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, are participating this week in the celebration of the 14th anniversary of the civilian auxiliary of the United States Air Force.

Civil Air Patrol Week is being observed through today by proclamation of Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

The Fort Cumberland unit is headed by Capt. Warren R. Mullenax, assisted by Floyd Harper, radio officer, and John F. Wagner, public information.

Included in the unit are some 15 active members, including amateur pilots, radio personnel and ground search members.

Active for a number of years, the local squadron was highly commended November 6 for its successful mock search mission.

Planes of the unit covered Western Maryland from Hancock west, and located the target in an hour and 45 minutes.

The squadron is based at the Cumberland Municipal Airport, and its equipment is available for inspection during the CAP week celebration.

The CAP, Wagner said, is composed of over 89,000 volunteer workers who can muster 5,300 planes in an emergency.

It maintains a nation-wide radio network of more than 10,500 fixed and mobile radio sets.

The CAP, organized December 1, 1941, performs more than half of the search hours spent on search missions in the United States.

Smith Recuperates

C. A. Smith of LaVale, who underwent an emergency operation November 22 at Memorial Hospital, is reported recuperating satisfactorily. He is the president of the Allegany Racing Pigeon Club and is service manager of the Steinla Motor Company, Inc., South Mechanic Street.

Election Board Has Extra Binders

Conversion to voting machines in Allegany County has enabled the County Board of Election Supervisors to consolidate its records into 80 binders instead of the 91 previously used.

Edward P. Kaylor, clerk to the Board of Election Supervisors, asked the county commissioners Tuesday for their advice on what to do with the 11 additional binders no longer needed. He said Juvenile Court wants three of them and the towns of Westernport, Lonaconing and Frostburg want one each.

Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson moved that Juvenile Court and the three towns be given the binders at no cost. The motion died for want of a second. Commissioner James Orr then said that he thought it was sensible to give the three binders to Juvenile Court as the county commissioners bear the cost of that court, but expressed a conviction that the three towns should pay for them.

Direct Election Efforts Of Students Explained

An article explaining efforts of an Allegany High School citizenship education class to bring about the abolition of the electoral college and the resulting direct election of the President of the United States is explained by the class teacher, Miss Mary E. Murray, in the latest issue of The Maryland Teacher.

This monthly magazine is the official publication of the Maryland State Teachers Association.

Miss Murray explains that last April 15 was D-A (Direct-Election) Day at Allegany High School. That was the date the citizenship education class received a particular letter from Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde.

Congressman Hyde enclosed with his letter a copy of House Joint Resolution 279 providing for an amendment to the United States Constitution to abolish the Electoral College in favor of the direct election of the President.

Miss Murray mentions the part that various prominent local persons had in the class' efforts to bring about the direct election of the President. U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, former Attorney General William C. Walsh, W. Earle Cobey and William L. Wilson are mentioned, among others.

The Allegany teacher also quotes excerpts from letters the class received from such persons as Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, U. S. Senators Estes Kefauver and Hubert H. Humphrey, from James Alfred Avirett, local attorney, and Delegate Lester B. Reed.

Several pictures showing the students in action also are featured in the article.

Funeral Homes Support Plan For Ambulances

Directors Abandon Service February 1

Effective February 1, 1956, six Cumberland funeral directors will discontinue ambulance service, and the area will be serviced for ambulance calls by the new Auxiliary Police Ambulance Corps, it was announced last night.

John O. Durst, secretary of the Tri-State Funeral Directors Association, said the six local funeral directors, all members of Tri-State Association, met as a local unit and discussed the idea.

Durst explains that the Auxiliary Police are sponsoring a nonprofit, cooperative plan of providing ambulance service for Cumberland and immediate vicinity, and the funeral directors agreed unanimously to turn over all ambulance business to the group.

As previously announced, the Auxiliary Police Ambulance Corps will operate from a central downtown point with two ambulances. These will provide around-the-clock service for all emergencies and other cases where ambulance service is necessary and indicated.

According to James McGee, spokesman for the Auxiliary Police who are sponsoring the plan, the idea is patterned after a plan already in effect and successful in other cities comparable to Cumberland.

Divided among six funeral directors, McGee noted, ambulance service has never been a profitable item for any of them. But by consolidating the entire service in one cooperative organization, it is believed the service can be rendered efficiently, economically, and at a lower cost to those who need ambulances at any time.

The plan calls for the sale of memberships at a rate of $4 per year for each family, and $2 per year for each individual. Membership in the Ambulance Corps provides any member of that family with free ambulance service to or from a local hospital. Nonmembers will be charged at the rate of $10 per call between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m., and $15 per call between 6 p. m. and 8 a. m.

Memberships will be open to all individuals and families residing in Cumberland, LaVale, Cresaptown, Bowling Green, Potomac Park, Bedford Road to the state line, North Branch, Ridgeley and Wiley Ford, W. Va.

The Auxiliary Police plan to enlist the help of numerous other organizations in the sale of memberships so that the entire area can be covered for complete ambulance service as speedily as possible.

Cold Weather To Continue

The weatherman is insisting on keeping his icy grip on Cumberland and area with promises of fair and cold weather again today, when the mercury is expected to be below freezing.

Some snow flurries were blowing around the area last night but were causing no serious trouble as far as motorists traveling Routes 40 and 50 were concerned.

Garrett County reported quite a bit of snow yesterday. Up to three inches had fallen and was being swirled around by brisk breezes.

Some snow was reported in Frostburg and west toward Grantsville. Maryland State Police said highway travel was not considered dangerous in that section, although care was urged.

West Virginia State Police at Romney said that area was clear with a temperature of about 28 degrees. Up in Pennsylvania, Bedford State Police said they were not having snow although some was falling west of the Turnpike up in the mountains.

The unofficial temperature in downtown Cumberland last night at 10 o'clock was 30 degrees.

Indian Educators To Visit Frostburg College Soon

Two educators from India who are participants in the 1955 Internation Teacher Education Program will spend the period from January 6 to January 27 as guests of Frostburg State Teachers College.

They are Mrs. Florence Chaudhari and Kamla K. Chaturvedi, both of whom specialize in administration and supervision in the field of secondary education. She is classed as an inspectress of schools at Nagpur and he is principal of a teachers' training college at Bikaner.

Mrs. Helen Silverthorne, social director at the college, is arranging a program for the educators during their three-week stay in Allegany County. She is contacting a large number of organizations to see which ones would like to plan a program with the educators.

Information furnished the college by the Office of Education of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington reveals that Chaturvedi is 42 years old, is married and the father of five children.

He received his bachelor of arts degree in 1934 from Allahabad University and his masters' two years later from Lucknow University. He later studied in both England and Scotland, receiving a teachers' diploma from Westminster Training College in London and a bachelor of education degree in 1938 from Moray House Training College in Edinburgh.

Chaturvedi began his teaching career in 1942 as headmaster of the Central Training School. Subsequently he served as a college professor of economics, a high school headmaster, an inspector of schools and since 1953 has been principal of the Government Training College.

A member of the World Brotherhood of Scouting and the Bikaner Rifle Club, he was a district scout commissioner in Alwar. He has traveled extensively in England, Scotland, Sweden, France and Germany.

Mrs. Chaudhari, who is 40, is married and the mother of two sons. She hold three degrees from Nagpur University. Her teaching experience has included duties as assistant teacher and headmistress.

She is a member of the Nagpur University court, the faculty of education at Nagpur University, the university's Board of Studies in Education, the Nurses Registration Council and the Red Cross Society. She was a delegate from Madhya Pradesh State to the All-India Social Education Seminar.

Mrs. Chaudhari has published a book entitled "Teaching the Adult," which is the first book written and published in Madhya Pradish on social education.

Both of the Indian educators speak, understand and read excellently in English.

Eagles To Hold 1956 Convention In Cumberland

The Maryland-District of Columbia State Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will hold its 1956 state convention in Cumberland, Herman L. Myers, this city, state secretary, announced yesterday.

This decision was made Sunday in Baltimore where the state aerie officers voted on the 1956 convention. It will be held June 29, 30 and July 1 at the local aerie's lodge rooms at 65 North Mechanic Street.

Myers said he expects approximately 250 delegates and visitors for the affair from aeries at Baltimore, Washington, Brunswick, Frederick, Hagerstown, Frostburg and Cresaptown. Several prominent persons are being contacted as speakers for the convention.

Boy, 5, Crushed As Truck Skids On Ice, Upsets

A five-year-old Davis, W. Va. boy was fatally injured yesterday when crushed by a truck which wrecked due to icy conditions of the highway. His father who was driving the vehicle was injured.

Richard Allan Moore Jr., son of Richard and Charlotte (Tewell) Moore of Davis, is believed to have died instantly about 9:50 a. m. 11 miles north of Parsons after the truck plunged over a 37-foot embankment.

Police who investigated the mishap said the little boy was riding in a 1954 truck owned by the C&A Gas Company by whom his father, the driver, is employed.

The truck was proceeding northward from Parsons. At the intersection of Licking Creek Road and State Route 72, Moore attempted to turn the corner but the truck skidded and hurtled over the embankment. Moore told police the vehicle turned over completely in the air and the right door flew open. The little boy fell out and the truck landed on its side, on top of the child.

Moore, who is 24 years old, went for help. Walter C. Mahoney, superintendent of a gas drilling operation nearby, and several other men helped lift the truck off the child. He was taken to Tucker County Hospital but was dead on arrival. Moore was also hospitalized, suffering from a back injury, possible other injuries, and severe shock.

Investigating officers are State Troopers Donald G. Peters and James Rightmire of the Thomas detachment.

The child was born October 26, 1950 in Elkins. Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Deborah and Joyce and one brother, Timothy; his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Tewell and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Moore all of Davis, and a great-grandmother Mrs. Eva Moore, Norfolk, Va.

A funeral service will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. at St. John's Lutheran Church in Davis. Rev. George Weirick, pastor, will officiate. Burial will take place in the Davis Cemetery. The body is at the residence.

Safe Driving Day Is Being Marked Today

Motorist, Pedestrian Asked To Cooperate

Safe Driving Day or Sudden Death Day? It depends on the individual motorist or pedestrian.

Motorists and pedestrians Cumberland and area are asked to use extra care and caution today in observance of S-D Day — Safe Driving Day.

Lynn Walker, executive chairman of the Western Maryland Safety Council, is asking everyone to cooperate to make Cumberland and area accident-free.

The challenge to every community across the nation today will be : not a single traffic accident during the 24-hour period — in daylight or darkness.

The purpose of the observance of S-D Day, Walker added, is to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be greatly reduced when motorists and pedestrians fulfill their moral and civic responsibility for safety.

Statistics show that last year 36,000 persons were killed in the United States, and every 25 seconds someone in the nation was being injured. A total of 1,250,000 persons were disabled beyond the day of the accident.

How To Do It

A few sensible suggestions to assure a successful observance of S-D Day are as follows:

Check your speed, since more than three out of 10 drivers in fatal accidents were violating speed laws; check your drinking. Figures prove that in 24 out of 100 fatal accidents a driver or an adult pedestrian had been drinking.

Check your car—among vehicles involved in fatal accidents for which condition of vehicle was reported, about six per cent had unsafe conditions.

Check yourself—about one out of 14 drivers involved in fatal accidents had a physical condition that could have been a contributing factor in the mishap. In most of these cases the condition was fatigue or sleepiness.

Local, county and state authorities, and safety organizations throughout the nation are joining today in one common cause, the prevention of unnecessary deaths and injuries on the highways of the United States, and streets of its communities.

Program Commended

Meanwhile Walker pointed out that Allegany County Safety Week now in progress, has received nation-wide publicity in the 1955 "Home Safety Inventory," a publication of the National Safety Council.

The Western Maryland Safety Council and the Allegany County Homemakers Clubs are commended for their work in promoting safety in the homes of this area.

The local safety council has been actively promoting home, school and traffic safety as well as industrial safety in the county since it was formed in 1948.

Walker pointed out that during the past four years the council has received support from the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission as well as local industries and utility companies.

Teen-Age Girls Put On Parole

Four teen-age girls of Frostburg and area, involved in a series of thefts at Beall High School, yesterday were sentenced to Montrose School for Girls and were paroled in the custody of their parents following a hearing in Juvenile Court here.

Juvenile Court Judge Morris Baron gave the girls, all about 15, a stern warning that if any complaint was received in the future the sentences would be imposed.

The series of thefts had been committed over a period of time, Judge Baron pointed out, and the four girls were told to make restitution for the articles taken.

The value of the stolen articles was set at about $11.65 for each of the girls. The series of thefts was reported to have been brought to light by school officials.
